FEDERALS HELPLESS.

Madero's Soldiers Demoralized.

Huerta, Northern Commander-in-Chief, Reports Men Leaving Him.

Unable to Attack Rebels Owing to Disaffection of His Troops.

Realizing This, Orozco Will Hurl His Forces Promptly Against Torreon.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, May 2.—A committee of the Chamber of Deputies today was appointed by the Speaker to work for the pacification of the country. A subcommittee will be chosen to go to the north and confer with the rebels under Orozco.

MEXICO CITY (Mex.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Gen. Huerta, commander-in-chief of the Federal forces in the north, has reported to the Madero government that he is unable to advance to attack the rebel army under Gen. Orozco because of the demoralization of his troops through desertions and recent rebel successes.

The fact of Huerta's report "leaked" from the War Department yesterday and was published today in one of the local newspapers. Hardly had the paper appeared than government secret police and other Madero agents attempted to corral every copy of the paper.

In his report Huerta says that of his total force of 9000 men at Torreon, 3000 are held in barracks under guard for fear they will mutiny or desert to Orozco. The regulars have not been paid for five months and to add to their discontent, stories have reached them better pay and prospects under the banner of Gen. Orozco.

The desertion of the volunteer rear-guard left at Bermejillo was known to the garrison at Torreon immediately on the return to Torreon of the troops led by Gen. Huerta in person to attempt to punish the deserters, and this news created such unrest and open expressions of rebellion that Gen. Huerta ordered 3000 regulars into barracks and then placed guards around them after taking away their rifles and ammunition belts.

In Huerta's report to the President he urged that reinforcements be sent at once to Torreon, as he feared he could not withstand Orozco's attack, which he expected at any moment. President Madero has no reinforcements to send him, as he fears to part with a single loyal Federal soldier in the capital because of the threatened attack of Zapata upon Cuernavaca. It is admitted that the latter place cannot be held by the Federals, and when Zapata occupies that city his move upon Mexico City will be only a matter of a day or two.

Gen. Huerta's telegram has cast gloom over the government officers, as he was depended upon to deal a crushing blow to Orozco in the north and thus leave his forces free to operate against Zapata and Guerrero in the southern States.

OROZCO WILL STRIKE HARD BLOW PROMPTLY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

JIMENEZ (Mex.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Telegraphic advices received here today from Gen. Orozco near Escalon announced that the rebel leader had decided to hurry his attack upon the Federal position at Torreon with all possible speed. Orozco is personally supervising the preliminary work and he and Gen. Salazar will lead the attack. Orozco's haste is stimulated by two facts—first, he is short of rations for his army and forage for the cavalry, artillery and wagon train animals, and,

SUGAR BOWL IS FLOODED.

Two Rivers Pour in Their Tides.

Cane Plantations of Louisiana Are Submerged by an Inland Sea.

Crawfish Blamed for Making a Honeycomb of the Wondrous Dikes.

Evangeline Country a Scene of Property Desolation and Human Despair.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Submerging scores of prosperous towns and rich plantations, the combined waters of the Mississippi and the Red rivers, at the highest flood stage in their history, tonight are sweeping southward from the great Torras crevasse and are leaving ruin and desolation in their wake.

Government engineers who rushed to the scene on special trains this morning announce that an attempt to close the great break is worse than useless and the workmen were withdrawn while the muddy torrent, unhindered, continues slowly to crumble the earth walls and admit the waters in constantly increasing volume.

BLAME THE CRAWFISH.

The cow that kicked over the lamp and destroyed Chicago now has a rival in the Louisiana crawfish.

The Federal engineers say without doubt crawfish holes in the great dike caused it to fail. In the course of the next few days, a quarter of a million people in Southern Louisiana will be homeless and crops valued at $10,000,000 will have been wiped out. The floods are coursing through the low-lying sugar plantations at a much more rapid rate than the waters in the northern part of the State, and there seems nothing to check them between Torras, which practically marks the junction of the Red and the Mississippi rivers, and the Gulf of Mexico. At any time an even more serious break is expected to increase enormously the volume of water. The great Morgan-Sea levee has been pronounced inadequate and doubts are entertained that it would last through the night. The levee is the highest in America, and, with the exception of two Holland dikes, is the highest earth dam in the world. It is forty-five feet from the crest of this levee in a vertical line to the plantations behind and in front the water is within a few inches of the crest.

WATER IN THE BOWL.

Throughout the "sugar bowl of America," the section now inundated, people are fleeing for their lives. Many attempted to save their stock, but thousands of head of horses and cattle already have been drowned and their carcasses, together with the bodies of hundreds of deer, are mingled with the debris of ruined homes and farms. Far to the South, even along the gulf coast where the waters will not arrive for several days yet, the people are preparing to abandon their possessions and flee. Crude boats and rafts tied up on dry land present novel spectacles. In the Teche country a hundred miles from Torras, and on land immortalized in Longfellow's "Evangeline," the rich plantation owners are constructing great protection dikes about their homes in an effort to save them. If the walls are completed in time, the sugar men will assemble all live stock possible and with plentiful supplies of provisions will wait the subsidence of the waters.

Another serious break occurred above Torras today when the levee around the Angola convict farm gave away, flooding a rich tract of land million-dollar sugar refinery. Damage owned by the State and partly submerging a recently constructed half-to this plant alone will be at least $50,000, while the convict farm itself promises to be practically wiped off the map.

Reports of life loss varied tonight. So far as known not a single person was drowned at Torras. Mild panic prevailed, however, and several persons, including two women and a small child were injured by a stampede of maddened horses through the streets. In the interior, where systems of warning had not been perfected, it is regarded as inevitable that some must have drowned.

Experts here today were busy computing the exact damage to the sugar industry. There is just a possibility that a low range of so-called hills which is midway between Torras and the gulf may hold back part of the tide and save some southern plantations. The section in the flood path, however, produces more than half the sugar of the State. Last year the State's sugar production was 617,154,000 pounds valued at $28,000,000. Parishes that produced 349,000,000 pounds of this are directly in the path of the waters, while an area that last year produced 262,000,000 pounds probably will escape, in case there are no other crevasses. Roughly speaking this should mean a loss to the people of the sugar belt of $15,000,000.

The sugar cane already is well advanced and it will be impossible to plant again after the water recedes. Cane is almost the only crop raised in most of this section and the plantation owners have neither the facilities nor the practical experience to make the raising of other crops profitable.

Britain's Titanic Inquiry Commissioner.

Lord Mersey,

Who is presiding in London over the British inquiry into the cause of the sinking of the Titanic. Twenty-six questions designed to bring out the same sort of information elicited by the United States Senate inquiry have been formulated by him and his advisers.

BRITAIN STARTS INQUIRY INTO TITANIC DISASTER.

Twenty-six Questions Formulated by Lord Mersey and His Advisers Based on the Washington Investigation to Be Answered by Witnesses—J. Bruce Ismay Departs With No Ill-will for This Country.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, May 2.—The British Titanic funds amount approximately to $1,600,000. At a conference today it was decided to extend immediate relief to the wdows and the bereaved families of members of the crew, pending the appointment of a committee to undertake the administration of the relief fund. This committee will include the Lord Mayor, the Earl of Derby and the Governor of the Bank of England.

Lord Mersey, in his capacity as wreck commissioner, and five assessors who will advise him in his questioning on the technicalities of nautical affairs, held today the first session of the Board of Trade nquiry into the loss of the White Star steamer Titanic.

In point of interest to the public and the importance of its results and laws governing the mercantile marine, the investigation promises to overshadow all previous tribunals of a similar character.

From the twenty-six questions which the Attorney-General announced would be taken up, it became evident the inquiry would cover practically the same ground as the investigation by the committee of the American Senate, but would be conducted more in accordance with the procedure of a court of law and deal definitely with stated cases.

THE QUESTIONS.

The questions to be asked the witnesses are, briefly stated:

(1.) What were the number of the passengers and crew, their sex and so-forth.

(2.) Did the Titanic comply with the requirements of the act applying to passenger steamers?

(3.) Was there a special provision in the design of the vessel for safety?

(4.) Was the steamer fully officered and manned?

(5.) What was the number of the lifeboats, was the number sufficient and had there been a boat drill?

(6.) Regarding the installation of the wireless system, was it in effective order and what was the number of wireless operators?

(7.) Were there any, and if so, what instructions were given to the master regarding the navigation of the steamer?

(8.) What track was taken by the Titanic? Was the track safe at that time of the year?

(9.) What information reached the Titanic of the existence of ice and was the course altered in consequence of this information?

(10.) Was there a proper lookout for ice maintained? After the warning was received were directions given to vary the speed and were the directions carried out?

(11.) Was there an equipment of searchlights and binoculars, and was such equipment necessary?

(12.) What precautions were taken by the Titanic when ice was met?

(13.) Did any one see the reported ice before the casualty occurred? What measures were taken to avoid the ice, and were these measures proper?

(14.) What was the speed of the vessel immediately preceding the casualty, and was it excessive under the circumstances?

(15.) What was the nature of the casualty?

(16.) When the casualty occurred what steps were taken immediately? How long a time elapsed after the casualty before its seriousness was realized? What steps were then taken and what endeavors were made to save the lives of those on board and to prevent the vessel sinking?

(17.) Was proper discipline maintained after the casualty?

(18.) What messages asking assistance were sent out and what answers were received?

(19.) What apparatus was therefore, lowering the lifeboats? What was its efficiency? Did the boats get away under proper superintendence and were the boats properly manned?

(20.) Did the lifeboats prove efficient in saving life? What was the number of passengers and crew on each boat on leaving the vessel? How was the number made up with regard to the sex and class rating, and did the boats carry full loads, otherwise why not?

(21 and 22.) What were the numbers of the passengers of the first, second and third class, respectively, who were saved? What was the number of crew saved having regard for the ratings and sex and what was the proportion of the different classes of passengers and the different grades of the crew saved to the total numbers on board, and what reason was there for a disproportion if there was?

(23 and 24.) What were the happenings on board the liner after the casualty occurred up to the time she foundered, and what was the cause of the loss of the Titanic, and the loss of life that ensued?

(25.) What was the construction and what was the adequacy of the equipment of the Titanic?

(26.) This, designated as the final question, constitutes a request to the court to report upon the rules and regulations of the merchant shipping act, and to make recommendations with a view to promoting the safety of vessels and persons at sea.

TITANIC MODEL.

A twenty-foot model of the Titanic, carrying sixteen miniature lifeboats and a big chart of the North Atlantic, were prominently displayed before the investigators. In front of the platform, which they occupied, were seated 100 members of the bar representing various interests involved, and 100 newspapermen.

The only reference to the American investigation was Sir Rufus's announcement that owing to the detention of many witnesses for the Senatorial inquiry the testimony would not be presented in a logical order.

BAY STATE PRIMARIES KILL DARK HORSE TALK.

Taft Will Get Many More Ballots If the Preference Vote Is Disregarded.

Roosevelt Is Shrewd Enough to Foresee Stampede of Illinois and Other States' Delegates if People's Expression of Choice Is Not Followed, but His Supporters and Foolish Newspapers Too Dull to Grasp It.

BY SUMNER CURTIS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two or three important facts have been developed today in connection with the recent primary complications besetting the Republican Presidential situation. Incidentally, they allay some interesting rumors of intermittent activity.

There still is no intention on the part of the anti-Roosevelt forces to seek a third candidate and have President Taft withdraw from the race. The rumor-mongers have been busy with a revival of dark horse talk since the Massachusetts contretemps.

There will be a lot of sensational fun at Chicago when the national convention assembles if the delegates-at-large from Massachusetts, granting the Baxter ticket, pledged to Col. Roosevelt, is seated, disregard the request of the colonel that they vote in accordance with the will of the Bay State Republicans as expressed on the preference ballot. Such disregard of the preference vote will be accepted by Taft delegates, obligated by primary expressions to support Roosevelt, as a warrant for the breaking of their instructions.

TO WIN WITH TAFT.

These are some of the important developments in a situation that seems to grow more interesting at each stage of action.

To win or lose with Taft is not only the sentimental determination of the leaders nominally committed to the President's renomination. They are the most practical of reasons, entirely aside from sentiment, for sticking by the Executive. Chief of these is the fact that the minute a serious attempt is made to "throw" the President and unite on some compromise candidate, enough Taft delegates would break to Roosevelt to insure the latter's nomination.

In short, the only means of defeating Roosevelt lies in sticking to President Taft. This being the case, reports regarding a still-hunt for support of a third candidate may be taken with several grains of salt. These revived reports present enough in the way of detail to give artistic verisimilitude to the alleged plans of leaders who "want a nominee who can be elected."

One of the reports featured today, concerns the alleged activities of Chairman Barnes of New York in soliciting views down South relative to a change of horses. As a matter of fact, every succeeding development in the contest thus far has tended to join the issue more squarely between the two striking rivals—Taft and Roosevelt.

READY TO JUMP.

Intimations will be conveyed to Washington today that a break in the Illinois delegation of fifty-six instructed for Roosevelt will occur if it is shown that Massachusetts does not intend to vote at Chicago in accordance with the Presidential preference result. It is declared there are at least eight Illinois delegates who will join to offset the possible support of Roosevelt by the delegates-at-large from the old commonwealth. This does not measure the full strength of under-the-surface Taft sentiment in the Illinois delegation, according to information received here. There also are friends of Taft on other State delegations who are instructed for Roosevelt.

If it comes to a game of expediency as opposed to political ethics, many if not all of these friends of the President will be amenable to the direction of the Taft leaders. The latter are not assuming possession of wings and haloes and are not disposed to have preference primaries binding in one section of the country and count for nothing in another. Sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander, is the theory they will observe and the only coals of fire they will heap on other heads are those designed to defeat others at their own game.

Small thought it was, Taft's majority in Massachusetts was a complete victory. With typical political shrewdness Col. Roosevelt personally admits this, but some of his lieutenants and newspaper supporters are showing far less sagacity than their chief. They are trying to make it appear, for one thing, that Taft is out of the race by reason of losing the delegates-at-large. As a matter of fact, Taft, by a narrow squeak, kept himself in the race.

FOOLISH NEWSPAPERS.

Most of the Roosevelt newspaper supporters avoid as much as possible the preference feature of the vote in Massachusetts and depict a great victory for the colonel in the election by several thousand majority of the delegates' ticket pledged to his candidacy. They studiously conceal from laymen who are not posted on all the details the fact that confusion over the tickets, resulting in improper marking, threw out enough votes for delegates to measure the difference between the Taft preference and the Taft delegate results.

Inasmuch as the intention of the Massachusetts voter is plainly indicated, the Taft leaders here are strongly considering contesting the seats of those pledged to Roosevelt. It will be no trouble for the National Committee to disregard the returns made by the Massachusetts Roosevelt committee—or any State authority—and seat the Taft delegates on the ground that they were the actual choice of a majority of the Republicans. When it comes down to brass tacks, no State law or interpretation of a law is binding on a national political organization. While deference has been given to direct primary laws, the national committee is an extra-legal institution, and may be as arbitrary as it pleases. The position of the Taft leaders here is that of Col. Roosevelt—that the spirit of the preference primary should be recognized.

IN MARYLAND NEXT.

President Taft, it is expected, will follow the work he performed on the stump in Massachusetts with personal activity in States where primaries still are to be held. He and Col. Roosevelt will have another joust in Maryland, which holds its primaries next week. It also is probable that the President may devote as much as ten days to the campaign in Ohio. The idea with the Taft managers is to keep on focusing attention in the President's cause on every battlefield through the personal participation of the Executive. They realize it will be a fight to the very last.

Washington is beginning to pay a little more attention to the Democratic situation, which has been in partial and at times complete eclipse by reason of the personal element involved in the Republican imbroglio. Champ Clark's succession of primary victories has enthused his managers. The wise observers, however, impressed to some extent by results which were unexpected, no more believe the Speaker will receive the nomination at Baltimore than they did before he loomed larger than a mere favorite son. The Democratic leaders, in the main, regard Clark as the weakest candidate the party could name. Many of them do not regard him as a Presidential size and they think this [illegible] him with [illegible] of the real [illegible] parties.

There will be an effort to determine the make-up of the Baltimore ticket by serious conferences after the delegates assemble for action. It would be no surprise to many if the net result of the pre-convention campaign, so far as the Democratic side is concerned, would be the killing off by each other of the candidates who have been ranking as most formidable.

WORSE MUSS THAN BEFORE THE PRIMARY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OYSTER BAY (N. Y.) May 2.—A delegation of the leaders in the Roosevelt campaign in Massachusetts called at Oyster Bay today to talk over the situation which has arisen by reason of Col. Roosevelt's declination to accept the votes of the eight delegates at large. The delegation consisted of Matthew Hale, chairman of the Massachusetts Roosevelt Committee; Arthur D. Hill, Boston; Charles Thompson, a Vermont man, and Eton Hooker, treasurer of the Roosevelt National Committee.

Mr. Hale, speaking for the delegation, said he had not come to persuade Col. Roosevelt to change his position. He said he was in accord with the decision. He asserted the only purpose was to attempt to clear up the confused situation in Massachusetts.

One of the party said some of the Taft candidates for delegates at large had announced before the primaries were held that whatever the result of the preferential vote, they would not support Col. Roosevelt if they were elected. On this account, he said, some of the delegates did not feel like supporting President Taft.

"Col. Roosevelt does not entirely understand the situation in Massachusetts," he said. The colonel will remain at Sagamore Hill until this evening, when he will depart for his Maryland campaign trip.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The National Taft bureau tonight gave out a statement declaring that Theodore Roosevelt will be eliminated as a possible nominee of the Republican national convention in Chicago the moment President Taft or Senators La Follette or Cummins may elect two more delegates against him. In other words, Mr. Roosevelt today needs 313 more delegates to control the Republican national convention in Chi-

Picking Winner.

REBEL LEADERS IN WILD RACE.

Orozco and Zapata Both Aspire to Take Capital.

Foreigners Would Prefer to See the Former Win.

One First in Likely to Be Menaced by the Other.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CITY OF MEXICO (Mex.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] If it is to be a race between Zapata and Orozco, the rebel leaders of the south and north respectively, as to which shall first enter the capital with his army, the foreigners here would much prefer that Orozco comes out the winner of the contest. Zapata publicly declared recently that he would get here before Orozco. It is reported that there has been a break between the two men and should either of them succeed in taking this city it would probably mean that he would have the other man and his army to fight at soome subsequent time.

The fact that Zapata with a well equipped army of more than 4000 men is less than seventy-five miles away and that little armed opposition lies between his present position and the very gates of the city is sufficient to add to the uneasiness that foreigners and other people here have felt for several months. When the horrible acts of the Zapatistas and their camp followers, committed upon the defenseless men, women and children of the number of towns in the State of Morelos, are recalled, it is not considered remarkable that the foreign element in the City of Mexico should wish that Orozco be the first to enter the capital if it is to fall. The Federal defense of the city consists of 300 cavalry, 300 artillery and 500 infantry of the regulars; 2500 mounted and foot police, and about 1000 volunteers.

In the plans that have been adopted for their self-protection in case the city should be captured by rebels, the Americans here are working hand in hand with the Germans, English and French. The government has sanctioned the laying out of a military compound, bounded by certain streets, and in which is situated the heart of the American residence colony. These homes have been well stocked with rifles, pistols and ammunition, and should there be any fighting done on the part of the foreign residents here it will be from the homes and streets embraced in the compound. The foreign army or home-guard in the City of Mexico numbers approximately 1800 men. Most of these are Americans, but there is a good sprinkling of Germans, Englishmen, Austrians and French among them. This protective force is well organized; it is officered by men who have had military training, and should the occasion demand a test of its fighting prowess and strength it is expected it will give a good account of itself. It is a mater of common knowledge among all classes of natives here that this military protective organization has been formed among the foreign residents and the compound where these people are to gather should trouble be threatened will probably be avoided by any mobs or looters that might seek to commit depredations in the city. The American residence quarter is one of the most attractive parts of the capital. Many of the homes are handsome and imposing.

FEDERALS REPULSE REBELS AT ROSARIO.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In an attack on Rosario, Sinaloa, late yesterday, a force of 140 rebels was repulsed by the Federal defenders, numbering 500, according to advices received here today. The battle is said to have been spirited, although no report is made of casualties on either side. Rosario has a population of about 5000, and is the center of a rich gold mining section.

Telegraphic advices from Mazatlan and Tepic say everything is quiet in those cities, and no attempt has been made to attack Navolato.

Five American women, wives of employees of the Southern Pacific of Mexico, arrived today from Empalme, and will remain some time. They said that while conditions in that part of the West Coast are admittedly grave, no apprehension of immediate danger is felt.

Mrs. J. B. Finley and daughter, also of Empalme, left for Los Angeles.

REBEL FORCES ARE RUSHING TO FRONT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

JIMENEZ (Chihuahua, Mex.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Although troop trains continue to move south bearing rebel soldiers to the front and there is only a small command left here at the headquarters of Gen. Orosco, the censorship is rigid and nothing is given out. The rebel commanders are prohibiting the telegraphing of anything concerning their troops' movements, but declare they are sending their men south as fast as possible, that all concentration camps have been broken and that there has not been any fighting as yet.

The first legal execution in Jimenez since rebel headquarters were established here, took place today when Francisco Terres, a saloonkeeper, was tried by a court of rebel officers and sentenced to death for stabbing Capt. Carlos Gonzalez, on Orozco's staff. The execution took place immediately.

MANY RAILROAD MEN DRIVEN FROM MEXICO.

CHICAGO, May 2.—Two hundred and fifty American railway conductors have been forced out of Mexico on account of the activity of the revolutionary forces and now are on their way to the States, according to information received in Chicago today by C. A. Pinney, president of the Conductors' Council, the labor bureau of the Order of Railway Conductors.

President Pinney said that President Taft would be applied to by the council to insure protection for the men on the way to this country.

FEDERALS HELPLESS.

secondly, through his spies he has learned that Gen. Huerta's Federal soldiers are demoralized and more than a third of the government regulars are held under the Madero banner by force.

Staff officers at headquarters here today said Gen. Orozco must fight his way into the Laguna district to replenish his supplies as the entire country from Chihuahua to Escalon has been foraged of every possible sort of food supply for men and animals. The depot here has only enough rations on hand to supply the small garrison, and the entire country within a radius of 200 miles has been "stripped to the bone."

With this condition staring him in the face, Orozco realizes he must conquer the Federal garrison at Torreon, and once that place has fallen, he will be able to replenish his supplies from the country to the south, which has not been drawn upon by either Federal or insurrecto troops. Failing to reduce Torreon, Orozco must retire to Chihuahua.

Rebels officers here said today Gen. Salazar's division would be reinforced tomorrow by several thousand rebels from Sinaloa. This latter force is now free to operate wherever ordered because Sinaloa is completely rebel territory.

Couriers arriving at Orozco's headquarters yesterday from Gen. Zapata announced Zapata was ready to take Cuernavaca on the day Orozco would set for beginning the assault upon Torreon. From Cuernavaca, Zapata contemplates an immediate attack on Madero's capital.

The two insurrecto leaders are no doubt figuring on this simultaneous movement, believing that a victory at Cuernavaca and Torreon would at once end the war, or at least bottle up Madero in Mexico City so that they could dictate terms of surrender and terminate the Madero government.

MEXICAN REBELS WANT TO SEE KNOX.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO (Tex.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A delegation of officials representing the Mexican rebels will be at the railway station tomorrow morning to meet Secretary of State Knox as he passes through to California if he is out of bed at 8:40 o'clock when the train arrives. Several El Paso attorneys representing the survivors of Americans killed in El Paso a year ago, during the battle of Juarez, will also seek an audience with the Secretary of State relative to claims for damages.

Mexican rebel troops were sent today from Casas Grandes south of here to meet a force of Federals reported approaching from Sonora.

Considerable excitement was created today when it became known that V. L. Ocho, who started a revolution against President Diaz in 1883 had arrived here and had aligned himself with the rebel cause. Ocho, who is now the president of the International Airship Company of Patterson, N. J., was believed to have died in an asylum in New York in 1895 following his release from Kings County Prison in Brooklyn, in which he had spent a two and a half years sentence for having violated the United States neutrality laws in attempting to smuggle arms across the Rio Grande to his army then operating in Chihuahua. His name is now celebrated in song and story in the rebel camps as a martyr to liberty in Mexico and his return as if from the tomb is hailed as a good omen by the superstitious rebels. He says he gave out the news himself that he had died because the Mexican government had a standing offer of $50,000 for him as long as Porfirio Diaz was in the presidential chair. Ocho has had no trouble in establishing his identity among old timers in this region who knew him when he was "Gen." Ocho, head of "the revolution of 1883."

FEDERALS ENGAGE A STRONG REBEL FORCE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, May 2.—For two days a battle has been raging at Chiasuti, Puebla, between the Zapata forces, numbering about 2500, and 500 Federals. The Federals are said to have the advantage of position, but the outcome of the engagement is still in doubt. The two Zapata brothers, as well as the "terrible one-eyed" Morales and other leaders, are there, having met for a council of war when they were attacked by the Federals.

Cuernavaca is reported menaced by a large force of rebels.

Culiacan officially is reported to have been retaken by the government troops under Gen. Ojeda.

Reports from Mazatlan indicate a deplorable condition among wounded Federals, who are too numerous to be accommodated in the military hospital and for whom there are neither medicine nor nurses. The wounded are victims of encounters with the rebels, against whom they appear to have been able to defend the city up to the present. There was said to be a shortage of food and many lie in the open day and night, with no escant attention.

The British warship Melpomene arrived in Vera Cruz today and exchanged salutes with the forts. The detonations at first alarmed the people, who thought a bombardment was in progress. Their fears were allayed by the British Consul. The captain of the vessel probably will pay a visit of courtesy to the local authorities tomorrow, as well as to the commander of the forts.

CHICAGO PAPERS HAVE A STRIKE.

EVENING EDITIONS LATE OWING TO PRESSMEN'S WALKOUT.

Union Men Not on Duty at Offices on Morning Papers—Deliveries Hampered by Sympathetic Strike of Wagon Drivers—Publishers' Association Gives Statement.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, May 2.—Owing to differences between the pressmen of Chicago Newspaper Webb Pressmen's Union No. 7 and the Chicago local of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, afternoon papers today were unable to get out their regular editions until late in the day. Members of the pressmen's unions were not on duty at the morning newspaper offices tonight but it was said the regular editions would be published.

Another difficulty was met by the newspapers late this afternoon when the wagon drivers refused to make their deliveries until the pressmen's dispute had been settled. A limit has been set by publishers on the number of deliveries to be made by wagons tomorrow morning.

Extra policemen are being held in readiness to curb violence, should any occur. As yet there has been no trouble.

The difference arose on the expiration of the pressmen's contract with the Hearst newspapers and the failure to agree on terms of renewals.

A statement covering the conditions was issued today by the Publishers' association as follows:

"On April 30, at 12 o'clock, midnight, the management of the Chicago Examiner and the Chicago American posted in its pressroom the announcement that the contract between those papers and the Chicago Newspaper Webb Pressmen's Union No. 7, having expired, the management elected to come under the provisions of the contract between the Chicago local of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, of which the Chicago Examiner and the Chicago American are members, and the pressmen's union, and would assume all the obligations and exercise all the rights of other members of the Chicago local under the contract, adding that the management would refer to arbitration as provided in the contract any difference that might arise.

"After the announcement had been read the men, acting under the order of the president of the union, resumed work without protest, and thus acknowledged their acceptance of the contract.

"On May 1, the management announced that it would exercise its right under the contract to determine the number of men employed on each press and ordered each to be manned with the same number of men as other members of the Chicago local employ on presses of similar size and product. The members of the union refused to work under this order. The management then offered to permit the men thus proposed to be laid off, to report as usual for work daily, but not to work on the presses, and to submit the questions at issue to arbitration, and in the event of a decision sustaining the position of the union, to pay these men full wages from the time they were laid off up to the date of the decision of the arbitrators. The members of the union refused to work under this offer.

"The management then notified the men that their continued refusal to work would constitute a strike and that in so striking the union would be breaking the contract between the publishers' association and the union. The members of the union continued to refuse to work and walked out of the office.

"Under the circumstances the Chicago local of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association now declares the contract between it and Chicago Newspaper Webb Pressmen's Union No. 7 broken by the union, and therefore forfeited. The press rooms of all Chicago locals of the pressmen's union will therefore hereafter be conducted without recognition of the jurisdiction of the Chicago Newspaper Webb Pressmen's Union.

"It is not the purpose to disturb the working conditions and wages of the former contract and to this end the continued co-operation of all employees without discrimination is invited.

"By order of the Chicago local of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, Victor F. Lawson, president; Henry N. Carey, secretary."

J. C. Orr, secretary of the International Pressmen's Union, who with other labor leaders, arrived here today, said:

"We would like the public to remember that this is not a strike, but a lockout."

Later the publishers' association made this additional statement:

"It should be noted that this strike was called by the officials of the Pressmen's Union in spite of the offer of the publishers to arbitrate. In a conference held this morning the publishers again stated to the representatives of the union that those of their employees who desired to continue in the service of the newspapers would be retained on the same wage basis as heretofore without discrimination and without reference to their membership or non-membership in the union, the sole requirement being the faithful discharge of their duties as employees."

BRITAIN STARTS INQUIRY.

as witnesses as to the construction and equipment of the Titanic.

Lord Mersey recognized Thomas Scanlon, member of Parliament, for the north division of Sligo, who appeared for the seamen's and firemen's union, and an attorney for the merchants' service guild and took under consideration the application for representation of the seafarers' union, the Ship-constructors' Association and the mercantile officers' union.

An adjournment then was taken.

SCENE OF THE INQUIRY.

The scene of the hearing is the armory of the Scottish rifles, which, with its broad drill floor, and two galleries, affords accommodations for many persons.

When the inquiry opened not more than one hundred spectators were present, and many of these were women. Because the accoustics proved poor, Lord Mersey asked that the board provide another room. Sir Rufus said during the hearing:

"I desire to express the greatest sympathy for all those who mourn the loss of relatives and friends among the passengers, the officers and crew of the ill-fated vessel. The accident exceeded in magnitude and in harrowing incidents any disaster in the history of the Mercantile Marine. I cannot forbear paying a tribute to those whose devotion to duty and heroic self-sacrifice maintained the best traditions of the sea."

Sir Robert Finlay, chief of counsel for the White Star company, seconded these remarks, repeating that "the disaster had given an opportunity for a display of heroism and devotion to duty, which had maintained the best traditions of the mercantile marine."

A DAY OF FUNERALS BY THE SOUNDING SEA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HALIFAX, May 2.—The last identified dead recovered from the lost Titanic probably will leave Halifax today. Tomorrow afternoon those bodies that remain will be buried in three cemeteries here overlooking the sea. No further identifications were made today.

Some seventy or eighty burials will be made tomorrow. Not all of the ceremonies will be over unidentified dead, for the relatives of many that have been identified have found graves for them here. The belief here is that the cable ship Minia, which is expected in port next week, has picked up practically all the bodies that remained to be found.

The Minia's captain has been notified to refrain from sending word of any further recoveries unless the newly-discovered bodies are identified, since the mere mention of finding more bodies might rouse false hopes in those whose dead still are missing.

FIFTEEN MORE BODIES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, May 2.—The Western Union cable steamer Minia, which has been searching the scene of the Titanic wreck for bodies, is returning to Halifax with fifteen bodies and will dock Monday, according to a wireless message, received here today by the White Star line. This means, officials of the line state, that the search for bodies has been abandoned for the present and may be postponed indefinitely.

The message says the Minia found the bodies were widely scattered over a great area, so that the search became daily more difficult.

A wireless message was sent to the Minia by the White Star line, asking that the names of two additional persons recovered since yesterday be forwarded.

Most of the bodies now on the Minia, it is believed, are members of the Titanic's crew.

Seven bodies buoyed up by life belts, together with parts of the wreckage of the Titanic were passed on April 26 in latitude 41.13½ and longitude 49.34 by the steamer Gibraltar, which arrived today from Middlesboro. When the bodies were sighted the Gibraltar was stopped, but no signs of a living person could be seen and the steamer proceeded. One of the bodies was that of a child and the others were of men.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES BY VALET'S WIDOW.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, May 2.—Papers in the first suit for damages brought by a relative of a Titanic victim were filed in the Federal court today. The suit, in admiralty, is brought by Mrs. Louise Robins, widow of Victor Robins, Col. John Jacob Astor's valet, and is that in which the testimony of J. Bruce Ismay and officers of the sunken steamer is desired.

It charges negligence on the part of the Oceanic Steam Navigation Company and asks for $50,000 damages and costs.

The complaint alleges that the owners of the ship were negligent—first, because the Titanic had been warned that she was in the vicinity of icebergs and in spite of the warning was going at a speed of more than twenty knots an hour when the collision occurred; second, that proper precautions were not taken after the lookout sighted the iceberg; third, that the liner was being operated by a new and untried crew; fourth, that there was not a sufficient number of lifeboats; fifth, that after the collision the lifeboats were not properly manned.

ISMAY DEPARTS FOR LONDON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, May 2.—J. Bruce Ismay, managing director of the International Mercantile Marine, sailed for his home in England today on the White Star liner Adriatic. Mr. Ismay said he was worn out and there was nothing to add to his testimony regarding the Titanic disaster.

"I have given the committee all the information at my command," said Mr. Ismay. "There is certainly nothing more to say. I have no ill-feeling against the American public and think the Senate investigation was thorough. I am feeling very tired and wish to retire."

Before leaving his hotel with Vice-President P. A. S. Franklin of the International Mercantile Marine, Mr. Ismay conferred with J. P. Morgan, Jr., together with several directors of the company.

Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt Passes Grave Stage Following Operation For Appendicitis.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., was operated on for appendicitis at her home, No. 666 Fifth avenue, at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning.

A few days ago Mrs. Vanderbilt experienced the symptoms of an acute attack of appendicitis and after a consultation with Dr. Austin Flint, her family physician, and two prominent New York surgeons, it was decided that she must go under the knife. So alarming did her condition become that shortly before midnight Wednesday her relatives were hastily notified. For several hours there was grave anxiety over Mrs. Vanderbilt's condition, but toward morning she rallied strongly.

At Mrs. Vanderbilt's house tonight it was stated she had a fairly comfortable day and was resting easily.

Daughter of the Late Adolph Sutro Obtains Divorce.

Court's Decree Ignores Matter of Alimony.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Although only their most intimate friends have known that all has not been well in the lives of Clara Sutro English, accomplished daughter of the late Adolph Sutro, and her husband, William J. English, wealthy lawyer and clubman of Chicago and Los Angeles, the couple have been separated since May, 1909.

The separation was revealed from the witness stand before Judge E. P. Mogan, in the Superior Court today by Mrs. English. Her brother, Charles Walter Sutro, of No. 2827 Washington street, verified it. Upon their testimony the court granted an interlocutory decree of divorce. If there had been a financial settlement it was made out of court, as the decree ignored the matter of alimony.

Mrs. English, who has spent a greater part of late years in Europe, now is occupying handsome apartments on Nob Hill. English has been here recently and is said to have consulted with his wife. His present whereabouts are not known, but he is believed to be either in Chicago or in Paris.

Desertion is the only complaint. Mrs. English testified that, while stopping at a hotel in Paris, in May, 1909, they quarreled over their apartments and her husband moved elsewhere.

She then gave up her apartments and went to Switzerland, where she remained several months. English, shortly after her departure from Paris, returned to Chicago.

Clara Sutro, once one of the handsomest girls in the exclusive sets in San Francisco, was married to William J. English, son of a corporation lawyer of national repute, Christmas day, 1898. The ceremony was at Los Angeles and was attended by many of the State's elect, as well as a large number of friends of the bridegroom and his family from the East. The wedding tour included Europe, where they remained for almost a year, and then returned to Chicago.

Although actively engaged in the practice of law, English found time each year to accompany his wife to some one of the European capitals, and occasionally, to California.

Since her marriage, however, Mrs. English has visited the Coast but infrequently. Her coming has always been a signal for social functions.

Several months ago Mrs. English returned from Europe and took up her residence here. Her legal residence she always has claimed was California.

SEATTLE (Wash.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] On information that Hulet M. Following close upon the declaration of fellow-employes that Wells had made life almost unbearable at the lighting plant during the recent agitation over the red flag and today particularly, formal complaint was registered with the naturalization bureau. If it is found impossible to reach Wells through the Federal Courts it will be necessary to take the case into the State courts on denaturalization proceedings.

The child labor bill prohibits the employment of children under the age 14 and in hazardous, or unhealthful, occupations under the age of 16 years.

SEATTLE (Wash) May 2.—The price of beef is the highest ever known in Seattle. Prime steers sold yesterday at twelve cents a pound wholesale, one cent higher than a year ago. The wholesale price of beef has advanced so much that retailers are boosting prices. Pot roasts and boiling pieces which have sold at seven and eight cents have been advanced to ten cents a pound. The prices of ham and bacon have also taken an upward turn, yesterday's quotations showing an advance of ¼ cent a pound. Packers attributed the high prices to a scarcity of stock.

HIGHEST KNOWN IN SEATTLE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash) May 2.—The price of beef is the highest ever known in Seattle. Prime steers sold yesterday at twelve cents a pound wholesale, one cent higher than a year ago. The wholesale price of beef has advanced so much that retailers are boosting prices. Pot roasts and boiling pieces which have sold at seven and eight cents have been advanced to ten cents a pound. The prices of ham and bacon have also taken an upward turn, yesterday's quotations showing an advance of ½ cent a pound. Packers attributed the high prices to a scarcity of stock.

BURLINGAME (Cal.) May 2.—Miss Josephine Parrott, daughter of John Parrott, the San Francisco millionaire, lost control of a racing automobile she was driving yesterday in an effort to catch a waiting train and the machine jumped a ten-inch curbing and smashed into the railroad station, damaging both station and machine, but injuring Miss Parrott only slightly.

Fulton Elkins, grandson of State Senator Charles N. Felton, who was with Miss Parrott, was badly shaken.

Despite her injuries Miss Parrott leaped from the machine and caught the train.

TWO CHILDREN VICTIMS OF ACCIDENT IN UTAH.

Runaway Tank Car Collides With Locomotive and Contents Carry Fire to Adjacent Homes—Mother Seriously Burned Trying to Save Her Little Ones.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HELPER (Utah) May 2.—Two children were killed and their mother badly burned in the wreck of their home here this morning when a runaway oil tank car ran into a standing locomotive and exploded.

The dead:

JOSEPHINE SPAHR, 11 years old.
her brother, 5 years old.

The family, which is that of Joseph Spahr, an engineer, lived in a cottage close by the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad track. An idle engine with fires up, stood in front of the house. Four uncontrolled cars, including the tank car, thundered down the four-mile grade from Castlegate station. As they struck the locomotive the tank burst, the contents were ignited by the engine furnace and the blazing oil rained upon the adjacent buildings.

The Spahr home was afire in a moment. Mr. Spahr was away and the family was in bed. Mrs. Spahr carried two younger children to safety but was blackened and burned in fighting to save the others. Their bodies were recovered. It is thought that Josephine gave her life in trying to save her baby brother.

Five more buildings were destroyed before the conflagration burned itself out.

Responsibility for the release of the runaway train has not been fixed by the company.

PHOENIX (Ariz.) May 2.—When the Congressional Committee, composed of Representatives Hensley, Hanna and Calloway, was about to adjourn after hearing testimony relative to reclamation and Indian affairs in Arizona, Congressman Calloway delivered an address in which he denounced the government's reclamation methods in the Salt River Valley as a "damnable outrage."

The Congressman was severe in his denunciation of the government's action in buying the canal system and selling it back to the farmers at what he declared to be more than it was worth. He said it was one of the "finest pieces of high financing" he had ever witnessed.

BATTLES FOR FORTUNE HE CONVEYED TO "COVER UP."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] To regain a fortune of $250,000 which, he says, he signed away when he was of unsound mind and a dupe of Miss Artie K. Bancroft, recent plaintiff in a $50,000 breach of promise suit against him, Frank Thompson, club man and son of the late R. R. Thompson, multi-millionaire, pioneer transportation magnate, today is engaged in a legal contest with his daughter, Mrs. Harriet Gertrude Thompson Smith, with his heritage of thousands in the balance.

Before Judge James M. Seawell of the Superior Court, the father charged by his daughter with being a spendthrift and incompetent because of inebriety, gained the first advantage when the court sustained his contention that his daughter's action to restrain the California Title Insurance and Trust Company from delivering to him securities valued at more than $250,000, was not well taken.

Thompson then went before Judge Thomas F. Graham and procured an injunction restraining the California Title Insurance and Trust Company from transferring the securities to any other person until his suit for its recovery has been determined. This order was issued on an affidavit by Thompson that Mrs. Smith and his brothers and sisters might cause the trust company to depreciate the fortune in order to defeat his desire to recover possession of it.

In his fight to get back the wealth he inherited from his father's estate, Thompson bares to the world for the first time his own intrigues with Miss Artie Bancroft, who, two months after his wife, Mrs. Ella Gertrude Thompson, secured her final decree of divorce from him, sued him for breach of promise. Miss Bancroft lost her case before Judge Frank J. Murasky a year ago, because the promise to marry her was made by Thompson while he still was the husband of Ella Gertrude Thompson.

There are two actions in today's litigation. Harriet Smith, the daughter, has sued to restrain the California Title Insurance and Trust Company from delivering to her father the securities he caused to be transferred to the corporation in December, 1909, under a deed of trust, binding the concern to pay to him and his daughter, the income derived from the securities during his life. At his death the trust would terminate and all of the propery be bequeathed to Mrs. Smith.

Thompson sues to compel the trust company to deed back to him the property and tells of his own dissipation, which wrecked his home and caused Ella Gertrude Thompson to divorce him in May, 1909.

He says that on December 4, 1909, when the deed of trust was made, and for five months before, he was mentally incompetent. He admits he squandered large sums and says he was being harassed by persons seeking to take advantage of his mental condition.

Among his associates, he relates, was Miss Bancroft, who, he alleges, obtained large sums of money from him and sought to obtain more.

It was during this same year, while Thompson and Artie Bancroft were living at a local hotel, that several thousand dollars worth of jewels and other valuables, belonging to Thompson, disappeared. He reported the theft to the police, but later refused to prosecute Miss Bancroft.

He says in his complaint that when he made the deed of trust he was endeavoring to safeguard himself against Miss Bancroft and his own excesses.

Another reason for executing the deed, he says, was that at that time Miss Bancroft had a breach of promise suit pending against him and he wished to place his property so that in the event of her obtaining judgment she could not levy against his fortune to the detriment of himself and daughter.

Mrs. Smith declares the deed should remain in force.

WILL URGE LIMITATION OF METHODIST PASTORATE.

Conference in Minneapolis Will Receive a Proposal That Five Years Is Long Enough for Any Minister in One Place—Bishops May Recommend Radical Changes in the Church's Restrictions on Amusements.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MINNEAPOLIS, May 2.—Limitation to five years as the longest time any minister shall remain in a given church, it is expected, will be recommended to the Methodist Episcopal general conference by the bishops tomorrow, as a means of stimulating the growth of the church.

Much opposition is expected to arise over the proposal. At present the 19,000 Methodist ministers scattered over the world are allowed to remain in any pulpit indefinitely. The new plan supported by the twenty-four active bishops will mean a restoration of the time limit abolished in 1900.

IN FAVOR OF IT.

In favor of the change, the bishops have received these arguments:

"Some of the churches will not have the less able ministers all the time, and none of the churches will have the better ministers exclusively. The prominent pulpits, now held by a few, will be thrown open to younger men."

AGAINST THE CHANGE.

Against the change, these objections are made:

"That preachers who plan great work will not be in a pulpit long enough to accomplish it; that many great preachers have left the church because hampered by a time limit; that large congregations can not be built up from a pulpit where there are frequent changes."

AMUSEMENT RESTRICTIONS.

It is expected the bishops will recommend radical changes in the amusement restrictions now imposed upon church members, and these changes will be in the nature of restoring John Wesley's method of allowing the conscience of individuals to dictate what shall be prohibited, instead of having the church decide.

BISHOPS' REPORT.

In delivering the first section of the bishops' report, signed by all the bishops and received by the 580 delegates as the most important document to come before them, Bishop Earl Cranston of Washington, D. C., today described as "critical" the fact that in the last year the church gained "less than 2 per cent. in membership, notwithstanding the outlay of millions of dollars."

"That greed for wealth, sports and forms of amusement have taken away from the church it is useless to deny," he said. He attributed the small growth partly to the system of dropping from membership those who left their church without letters and failed to report to anothe rchurch within a year.

The tendency of ministers to go to a church because the salary is inviting, Bishop Cranston pronounced a "species of commercial."

The conference tonight heard reports from the Rev. J. T. Wardle, Stafford of Scarborough, Eng., on the state of the church in England, and from the Rev. J. A. M. Aikens of Winnipeg, on the progress in Canada.

EPISCOPAL ADDRESS.

The report known as the "Episcopal address," was signed by eighteen bishops in this, and six bishops in foreign countries, and is regarded as the most important document to come before the conference, as it contains the bishops' recommendations for the future guidance and policy of the church.

The report was read by Bishop Earl Cranston of Washington, D. C. Another section, upon which the bishops have been at work since the last general conference at Baltimore, four years ago, will be delivered tomorrow.

"In the last year," said the report, "the church has made a net gain of but 55,000, which is less than 2 per cent. as the outcome of a year's activities and the outlay of many millions of dollars. This shames and humiliates us. What are honors of offices worth in any arm that does not win battles? No marvel that some are proposing to reduce the major-generals to post duty and let the army dissolve into antique ecclesiastical camps."

This was a reference to a proposed limiting of the activities to a local district of the bishops whose jurisdiction now is universal.

"A fair calculation," the report said, "reveals the astounding fact that probably not fewer than 500,000 members disappeared from our rolls by reckless use of the 'dropping' process.

"Nevertheless, we still face the patent fact that our distinctive doctrines are not being emphasized as they were once, or, where preached, are discredited for the time by a gainsaying world, drunk with vain philosopiries and filled with gluttonous indulgences."

Pleading for an emphasis on the distinctive Wesleyan doctrines, the report said they were the only power to save the nation against vice.

"Where is the evidence that science has ever regenerated one soul, or that culture has redeemed one libertine, or taken envy, malice, pride, jealousy or greed out of any heart? These utterances are not reactionary unless this world has outgrown Jesus Christ.

"Our second lapse is that our system is not being worked as it formerly was. Certain distinctive parts have been abandoned, others modified. Innovations, noxious to our pastoral as well as to our supervisional methods, have intervened to the hurt of both."

The report condemned the practice that is said to have grown up in certain churches of calling in Evangelists to carry on revival services as against the former custom, which placed the local pastor in charge of the work. Turning from this, the report condemned the so-called congregational system of calling pastors for local churches said to have become general in Methodism.

CHURCH PUBLICATIONS.

Referring to discussions in the church publications, the report said:

"We understand the church maintains a press for the advocacy of her doctrines and the defense of her policy when assailed, not as a free forum for the vagaries of writers, who measure all problems by their own door yards, as officially to sanction the promoters of disaffection. While we would not restrain dignified and legitimate discussion of proposed amendments, or reforms, we deprecate the admission of ill-considered and intemperate criticisms of our polity or church agencies."

One of the proposals before this conference is that the bishops be placed in definite charge of the work in the territory adjacent to their Episcopal residences. On this point the report said:

"We ask the fixing of two or three more Episcopal residences in this country at strategic centers. With these additions we believe that areas for Episcopal supervision can be so related to the residence cities as to meet the express desire for continuous oversight by resident bishops without any infraction of the restrictive rule."

The conference obtained a committee appointed to investigate the Episcopal supervision of the 425,000 negroes in southern States. William W. Lucas of Meridian, Miss., charged that, although Bishop Thomas B. Neely's residence was fixed as New Orleans, the bishop had resided there not more than thirty days in the last four years.

Mr. Lucas and other southern delegates declared that unless the negro members obtained the leadership they sought they threatened to separate.

HOW RATES ARE FIXED.

Schwerin Tells Senate Committee Details of Events That Transpired Behind the Scenes.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, May 2.—R. P. Schwerin of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company told the Senate Committee on Interoceanic Canals today that the Federal government, anxious to prevent the suicide of new steamship lines in the contest for California freight for New York, caused the Pacific Mail, the California-Atlantic line and the American-Hawaiian line to agree to maintain fixed rates.

This was done, he said, by the government threatening to fix unfavorable rates across Panama. He said the government feared competition would result in the survival only of the company supported by a railroad, the Pacific Mail, and that the charge would be made that the government was in league with the railroad.

Mr. Schwerin said he was approached recently by a New York man controlling a $7,000,000 block of traffic.

"He asked me," said Mr. Schwerin, "what concessions I had to offer. I told him none. He asked if I expected him to give me his business without concessions. He gave it to another company."

EIGHT MILLIONS ADDED.

BILL READY TO REPORT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Carrying $8,064,010 in addition to the appropriation provided for by the House, the rivers and harbors appropriation bill, aggregating $32,126,630, has been agreed to by the Senate Committee on Commerce and will be reported in a few days. The largest single increase to the House measure was $2,500,000 for the Mississippi River, making $6,000,000 for that waterway. Among the appropriations increased by the Senate committee are: Columbia River, between Celilo Falls and The Dalles, $800,000; above Celilo Falls, $50,000; Columbia River, Oregon slough, $50,000; Columbia and lower Willamette rivers, $150,000; Nahalem bar and harbor, $100,000; Yukon River, Alaska, $120,000; Valdez, Alaska, $55,000; Chicago harbor, $350,000; Ohio River, near Cairo, $250,000.

AN AID FOR GOOD ROADS.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The postoffice appropriation bill, carrying approximately $275,000,000, was passed by the House today, 227 to 5. The measure also carried several radical additions.

Among these were Federal aid for good roads, the compulsory publication by newspapers, magazines and periodicals of the names of their owners and the establishment of parcels post in connection with the rural free delivery service.

The good roads provision added between $16,000,000 and $18,000,000 to the appropriation, and this amount, it is expected, later will be materially increased.

HOMER DAVENPORT DEAD.

Great Cartoonist, Fired Once Because He Couldn't Draw a Stove, Yields to Pneumonia.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Homer Davenport, the cartoonist, died here today of pneumonia. He was 44 years old.

Homer Davenport, the cartoonist whose death was announced from New York today, once was discharged from the art department of the Portland Oregonian because he was unable to draw a picture of a stove, for use in an advertisement, which would pass muster with the advertising manager of the paper. It was in the early days of Davenport's career. He had been given a position on the Oregonian's art staff more through his father's influence than because anybody believed in his work. For a few months he worked with but indifferent success, from the viewpoint of his employers, until one day when the advertising manager, E. G. Jones, demanded that an artist be set to draw a picture of a stove, wherewith to illustrate a large display advertisement. The art force was limited and Davenport drew the assignment. He took it dubiously, but labored several hours and then turned in his effort.

"Great scott," shouted Jones, "do you call that a stove? Do you call yourself an artist? Awful!"

And on Jones's insistence Davenport was fired.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) May 2.—Willard Bahr, aged 5 years, died today from burns sustained yesterday. It is alleged, when he was pushed onto a bonfire at the side of a railroad track near his home by a 16-year-old boy, who is said to be demented. The mother of the boy that died declares that eye-witnesses told her that after her boy was pushed into the fire repeatedly, the lad who did the pushing, stood around, shouted and danced while he burned. The Coroner is investigating.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HENDERSON, (Ky.) May 2.—Watchful guardians kept weapons and poisons out of the reach of Helen Smith of Onton, Ky., who was possessed of a suicidal mania, but today she took some matches and a can of coal oil to a secluded part of her father's home where she saturated her clothing with the oil. As the flames enveloped her, she screamed for help, but when found was unconscious and burned black from head to feet and died a few minutes later. She had been prevented from drowning herself in a pond a few hours previously.

HUNT FOR NEW HOMES.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, May 2.—Moving day in Chicago brought such a volume of business to van owners and express men that the men engaged in moving estimated last night, that by the end of the month one-third of a million people would be located in new homes. It was said that more persons are hunting new locations this May than ever before in the history of the city. A. M. Ramsay, commercial superintendent of the Chicago Telephone Company, said that about 25 per cent. more persons who are telephone subscribers move this year than in 1911.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, May 2.—Edward Stone a brakeman on an accommodation train running between Chicago and Libertyville, last night held in his hands an old shoe box containing $25,000 without being aware of its contents. The box had been left on the train at Morton Grove by Herbert Schoenberg. Before the train departed Schoenberg dashed into the car and asked Stone if he had seen the box. It was handed to Schoenberg unopened, who explained to the brakeman that it contained money for starting a new bank. Stone was rewarded with one dollar.

GOOD LEGAL PIE RECIPE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, May 2.—Prof. John H. Wigmore, dean of the Northwestern Law School, addressing an audience of law students last night, gave several ingredients for what he called good legal pie. "I have weighed them according to my experience, and some may think I have rated honesty too high," he said, "but if you have legal knowledge, industry and luck you may be a success without having honesty. If you look on money as the measure of success, I would advise a business career instead of the law. About sixteen-twentieths of the lawyers in Chicago make from $1000 to $5000 a year. One-twentieth make $4000; one-twentieth $5000 another twentieth make $6000 or more. There are not over forty lawyers here who make over $10,000 a year. Prof. Wigmore said one advantage members of the legal profession had over business men was that their capital was in their heads and not affected by panics.

MUST OBSERVE TARIFFS FILED.

Interstate Commerce Commission Issues Warning.

Trunk Lines Required to Meet Rates Submitted.

Case Likely to Wind Up in the Supreme Court.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Tariffs filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission canceling allowances made by trunk lines with so-called tap lines must be observed by the trunk lines and shippers or they will face prosecution for criminal violation of the interstate commerce act and the Elkins act.

This is the determination of the commission in a unique situation that has arisen as a result of its decision of the "tap line case." The tariffs filed with the commission by the trunk lines canceling the allowances made to the tap lines were to have become effective at midnight April 30. Four hours prior to that time, on application of some of the tap lines, the Circuit Court of Missouri—a State tribunal—granted an injunction to restrain the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern and other southwestern lines from canceling their through routes and rates with the tap lines.

Immediately inquiry was made of the commission as to what tariffs were effective. In every instance the commission replied: "Cancellations took effect at midnight, April 30. Rates filed must be observed by carriers and shippers if criminal violation of interstate commerce act and Elkins act is to be avoided."

The commission holds that no court can enjoin a thing already done. The tariffs complained of were filed with the commission to become effective at midnight, April 30; the legal notice of thirty days having been given. The commission had exhausted its time limit of suspension of the tariffs—ten months—and they had to go into effect automatically.

FIREMEN SUBMIT DEMANDS.

Following Engineers' Agreement to Trust to Arbitration Fellow-workers Ask More Pay.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, May 2.—Following the agreement of the engineers and managers of the fifty railroads east of Chicago to submit to arbitration, demands of the engineers for increased wages and changes in hours of work, the locomotive firemen and hostlers of the same roads submitted to the managers today a schedule requesting additional pay, changes in hours and in some cases the employment of assistant firemen.

W. S. Carter of Peoria, Ill., president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, presented the demands to J. C. Stuart, chairman of the Conference Committee of the railroad managers, who told him the managers would be called to meet as soon as possible to discuss the matter. Later it was said on behalf of the managers that to grant the demands would mean an additional annual outlay by the railroads of between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000.

The demands of the men were formulated at a meeting of the Eastern Federated Board of the brotherhood at Chicago February 15, and embrace increases in the pay of all firemen and of hostlers and helpers on electric engines. They also call for a day's work of ten hours or less or of runs of 100 miles or less. A stipulation in this latter respect is that all mileage in excess of 100 miles made within ten hours be paid for at mileage rates.

The men also ask that firemen held at other than a home terminal shall be paid continuous time after the expiration of fifteen hours from the time they register off duty and that firemen shall be relieved from cleaning engines. The clause in the demand calling for assistant firemen specifies that these men shall be employed on coal-burning locomotives in the freight service and that the assistant shall aid the regular firemen in the prescribed duties incident to the firing of a locomotive.

Eleven Thousand Ballots A Vitiated in Bay State.

Obedience to Roosevelt Or Matter of Doubt.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] If the name of Frank Retherlich had not been on the primary ballot, the eight candidates backed by the Taft League would have won in a canter. That has been proved by returns from 256 out of the 353 cities and towns. These show that 11,677 citizens invalidated their vote for delegates-at-large by marking crosses for nine candidates instead of for eight. Nine hundred were lost in Worcester, 1000 in Boston, 400 in Salem, 200 in Gloucester, and 250 in Haverhill. Signatures were secured today by the Taft League to petitions for a recount of the vote for delegates-at-large, throughout the State. No one can say whether the eight Roosevelt delegates-at-large will finally obey the Roosevelt order and vote for Taft. Roosevelt's Boston organ says they will. A majority of the delegates say they will not.

Returns today from 122 cities and towns from all parts of the State, but not including Boston, show that John D. Long, who headed the Taft ground of alternates, had a lead over Charles L. Burrill, who headed the Roosevelt group of alternates, of 5447 votes. In these cities and town, Long received 53,943, while Burrill received 48,621.

It seems certain that all of the Democratic delegates will vote for Champ Clark, although on the ballot they were pledged to Gov. Foss. Michael A. O'Leary, executive secretary of the Democratic State Committee said:

GOVERNOR IS S AT LA FOLLE

SAN BERNARDINO, May 2.—William E. Smythe, a La Follette candidate for delegate-at-large, answered Gov. Johnson's speech tonight from the platform where it was uttered last night. He said:

"The Governor's speech was a story in two parts—what he said and what he didn't say—and the latter was by far the more extensive and eloquent.

"First, what he did say:

"'La Follette is not a national candidate.'

"He was brought forward as a national conference at Chicago, October 16, 1911, attended by 349 delegates, representing thirty States. Johnson and all the other Roosevelt boosters of today were there in person or by proxy. They sent out a call to the country, with the following on the front page:

"'Robert M. La Follette, as Governor, Representative and United States Senator, during a twenty-year struggle for popular government, has to his credit more constructive legislation than any other living American statesman; and as he is, by reason of his record, the progressive pioneer and leader, he is the logical progressive candidate for President of the United States.'

"Johnson stood on that platform until 10:30 a.m., Feb. 12, 1912. Then he joined the deserters, and now he cries: 'La Follette is not a national candidate.' Is it not, why not? Because betrayed and deserted by Johnson and the rest?

"But La Follette is a national candidate, the second choice of millions of citizens from the Atlantic to the Pacific, with more delegates now than Hayes, Garfield or Harrison had in the years when the leading candidates destroyed themselves and the second choice became first choice. Taft and Roosevelt are killing each other off faster than La Follette could do it if he had Taft's official patronage or Roosevelt's dead hand of his disposal. La Follette actually has a better chance than either of the other candidates today.

"The Republican party will be looking for a winner in June. It will not invite disaster by naming either Taft or Roosevelt. One of those candidates will go to La Follette. Then will the present Republican winter of discontent be made glorious summer by that son of Wisconsin, Hiram will have to take a seat 'way back, but he will be on the La Follette band wagon. He is very fond of band-wagons.

"La Follette praised Roosevelt in 1910 as the greatest living American—when did La Follette change his opinion? Answer that if you can.

"Is Hiram serious? Is it possible he doesn't know when La Follette and all the rest of us who do not put expediency above principle, changed our opinion about Roosevelt?

"To begin with, there never was a time when we thought Roosevelt beyond criticism. La Follette criticised him before and during 1910, as he does now, for some things that happened before that date; he commends him now, as he did then, for certain good things he had done.

"But, when the change?

"When it became apparent that his pledged word to the American people about a third term was no good.

"When his promise to La Follette, about keeping out of the fight, was also found to be worthless.

"When Walter Brown, notorious lobbyist and corporation healer, like those we used to see at Sacramento, came out for Roosevelt at the Columbus conference, January 15, last.

"When 'Bill' Ward, ill-smelling Platt politician in New York, got Roosevelt religion.

"When Alex McKenzie, railroad tool politician in North Dakota, took charge of the Roosevelt boom in that State.

"When George W. Perkins and Frank A. Munsey of the steel trust, Dan Hanna of the steel, coal and iron trust, A. H. Revell, Aldrich central bank boomer—and a lot of the kind you loved, in the old virtuous days, to call by the endearing epithets of 'scoundrels' and 'porch-climbers,' got aboard the Roosevelt progressive ship.

La Follette actually has a better chance than either of the other candidates today.

"The Republican party will be looking for a winner in June. It will not invite disaster by naming either Taft or Roosevelt. One of those candidates will go to La Follette. Then will the present Republican winter of discontent be made glorious summer by that son of Wisconsin. Hiram will have to take a seat 'way back, but he will be on the La Follette band wagon. When Morgan, through Gary, announced the Wall street programme for making monopoly permanent and tying the Millstone of billions of watered stock around the people's neck.

When your man Roosevelt declared for the same inspired programme.

When Taft opened up the Roosevelt graveyard and sent that correspondence to the Senate, with its shameful admission: "We have always had the Morgan interests with us; it is a very practical question whether we can afford to lose 'em now." And, in the same bunch of letters, Roosevelt to Bonaparte: "Please don't bring suit."

When (April 17) campaign fund for Roosevelt's New York City fight ($4 apiece for votes) was officially filed at Albany, with these revelations: Contributed by Director Perkins of the steel and harvester trust, $15,000; by leading steel trust stockholder (Munsey), $15,000; by Director Cochrane of the Northern Pacific, $15,000; by the plain people, $147.75.

Does Hiram ask these questions seriously, or is he booming La Follette on the quiet?)

When Roosevelt stood before the world with more money behind him than any candidate ever had before, and everybody knew it could only come from watered stock monopolies that understand his judicial recall to be a fake and that he is committed "wittingly or unwittingly," as you would say, to the wickedest scheme of exploitation ever devised by the master brain of Morgan—and that's going some.

When it developed that in every progressive State where Roosevelt got pro delegates, the reactionaries got the offices—as in Oregon, where the same votes that elected Roosevelt delegates slaughtered Jonathan Bourne for Senator. (Strange, isn't it? The very same money and votes put Teddy up and pull Bourne down! And so it went in State after State.)

Governor Johnson charges that La Follette is not making a sincere fight for the twenty-six votes of California, and the Presidential nomination—that he is spending his time and energies in an ignoble attempt to assist the reactionary and destroy the progressive cause.

He cannot believe it! He knows, when he says it, that he thereby brands as false every encomium he piled upon the great statesman of Wisconsin up to the hour he betrayed and deserted him.

He is merely resorting to the familiar rule of the criminal lawyer when he has a bad case. "Abuse the other side."

JOHNSON AN OPPORTUNIST.

SO SAYS LA FOLLETTE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICO (Cal.) May 2.—"Gov. Johnson took the side of least resistance and boarded the band wagon," was one of the statements of Senator La Follette in an address to 500 citizens of Chico this afternoon. He criticized Hiram Johnson in the course of his remarks. La Follette's voice was not in good condition, but in spite of this fact he held the attention of his audience and was applauded many times. His reception in this city was most cordial. "This is no time for expediency in politics," said La Follette.

BRIDGEPORT (Ct.) May 2.—Connecticut's four delegates-at-large to the Democratic National Convention were elected today and were instructed to "use all honorable means" to secure the nomination for President of Gov. Baldwin, in resolutions passed at the State convention. An amendment making Speaker Clark second choice was voted down. The five district conventions also elected delegates and made Baldwin their first choice. The Resolutions Committee commended the record of the Democratic majority in the National House of Representatives. Delegates-at-large were chosen as follows: Willis O. Burr, Bryan F. Mahan, William Kennedy and David E. Fitzgerald.

cago and there remain to be elected only 314 more delegates, about whose position, as between the candidates, the people have not spoken.

Both Arkansas and Nevada are ready to act finally for Taft and these have been included in the table showing that Mr. Roosevelt has reached the end of his political rope in this fight so far as there is any hope of his receiving the nomination in Chicago.

On the contrary, President Taft needs only seventy-three more delegates not counting Arkansas and Nevada, and only forty-nine more, including in his table these two States. To control the national convention he needs, therefore, only about one in every six delegates yet to be elected, while Mr. Roosevelt is absolutely eliminated if he loses only two out of the total of the 314 yet to be chosen.

"The utter hopelessness of the Roosevelt fight is apparent," the statement concludes.

HIS MIND UNSETTLED DESPITE PRIMARY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FITCHBURG (Mass.) May 2.—Frederick Fosdick of this city, one of the eight Republican delegates at large, said today that Col. Roosevelt's request that the Massachusetts delegates at large to the Chicago convention vote for President Taft in no way binds him. "Col. Roosevelt has done the square thing," said Mr. Fosdick, "but I have nothing to say as to my personal action until I learn more of the developments."

GEORGIA RETURNS.

ATLANTA (Ga.) May 2.—Late returns today from county precincts failed to change the indicated result of yesterday's Presidential primary, and Oscar W. Underwood maintained his lead over Gov. Wilson. They further emphasize the fact that it was the country vote which won for Underwood. Gov. Wilson carried all the counties containing large cities. Official returns received up to noon indicate that Underwood's plurality over Wilson will be not less than 9000.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

AUGUSTA (Ga.) May 2.—President Taft and Augusta paid tribute today to Maj. Archibald Butt, the President's personal aide, who was lost in the wreck of the Titanic.

Augusta was Maj. Butt's home. For several hours business was practically suspended while memorial services were conducted in a theater. Flags were at half mast on most of the public buildings and thousands of persons crowded around the theater anxious to hear President Taft speak.

The President was visibly affected by the tributes paid Maj. Butt. There were tears in his eyes as he called up memories of the man who was his aide ever since he entered the White House.

Mr. Taft made only a short address but he came near breaking down twice.

"Never did I know how much he was to me until he was dead,'" said the President. "Lacking nothing of self-respect and giving up nothing he owed to himself, he conducted himself with a singleness of purpose to the happiness and comfort of the President who was his chief. To many fine qualities he added loyalty, and when he became one of my family he was as a son or a brother."

Mr. Taft told how he met Maj. Butt first in the Philippines and later as aide to President Roosevelt. He dwelt on Maj. Butt's devotion to Mr. Roosevelt and to himself.

"It has always seemed to me," said the President, "that Archie never married because he loved his mother so. The greatest sorrow of his life was when she left him."

Mr. Taft concluded with a word more as to Maj. Butt's spirit of self-sacrifice.

"Self-sacrifice," he said, "had become part of his nature. If Archie could have selected his time to die, he would have taken the one God gave him."

Good Tidings From San Jacinto

Great Excitement Over New Water Discovery

An immense Underground Lake of Water has been discovered near San Jacinto, California. A mere crust of earth, in some places but a few feet in thickness, has shielded for ages an immense body of water, sufficient to flood the entire country for miles around, which means that this fertile, semi-tropical beauty spot will in short order be the Garden of Eden of the whole State. All these lands are unsurpassed in fertility, productiveness and climatic conditions. All of which is proven by the thousands of acres of beautiful orchards and thrifty ranches under a previous water development. We state, without fear of contradiction, that this neighborhood contains a greater number of well kept fruit orchards than any other section of equal size in the whole State of California, and we state further that they will show a much greater percentage of profit. There is no scale or pests to fight, or failures to sadden the heart.

A Committee with autos has been appointed to show everybody around free, and we extend a hearty invitation to all of our good neighbors to see this beautiful little Valley of ours in all its glory. Come over on the Santa Fe in the morning, back in the evening. The San Jacinto Board of Trade, San Jacinto, Cal.

LOAN SHARKS ENJOINED.

Chicago Laborer Relieved from Their Persecutions by Court Order After Long Siege.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, May 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Six years of usury extortion from a stock-yards laborer were terminated by an injunction issued by Judge Kickham Scanlan of the Circuit Court today at the instance of Attorney R. R. Longnecker.

The victim has long been involved with a nest of sharks, which operates on Halsted street near the entrance to the yards, but all of them settled up promptly after the matter was taken up except the General Credit Company, against whom the bill was filed by Attorney Longnecker.

The real backers of this shark institution are understood to be Minnie G. Young and Frank L. Miller, both of whom, though young, have had considerable experience in the loan-shark business.

The victim who now has brought them into court started on his disastrous career of usury payments six years ago. He has not been out of debt since then. He was "good pay" and the sharks actually forced money upon him.

As his credit became established with them they required his friends and fellow-workmen who needed money to obtain his signature on their notes. He signed in this way for more than ten of his friends, and has had to pay some of these notes, for which he received no money himself.

The climax of his borrowings came when he borrowed $100 to open a barber shop. The venture failed, and he had to pay back $100 and $6 interest.

FEELING SURE OF HOME RULE.

Irish Nationalists Growing More and More Confident.

Declare Irish Party Is to Be Reckoned With Now.

Call Armed Resistance Talk "Thinnest Moonshine."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Confidence in the success of the home rule fight grows steadily stronger among the Irish Nationalists at Westminster.

"Supposing the Liberals go out of power before Ireland gets home rule; what then will be the prospect?" asked the correspondent of Los Angeles Times, of one of the ablest of the Irish leaders today.

"In the first place," was the reply, "the Liberals are not likely to go out. If they do you will find that the Conservatives are fully alive to the strength of the Irish party, and the vitality of the Irish cause. Home rule no longer depends upon the fate of the Liberal party in England."

"If the Liberals were compelled to go to the country at present, would they be beaten?" asked the correspondent.

"Quite possibly. The labor rows, the insurance act and a dozen other things would work against them. But if they were beaten at all they would not be beaten much, and the conservative majority would be small. The Conservative party probably could not form a stable government without the support of the Irish vote, and A. Bonar Law or Arthur Balfour would be compelled to make an arrangement with us. This could be done only by assuring us that we should have at least as good a home rule bill as the one now before Parliament. Already the Conservatives have shown themselves to be open to a bargain for the Irish vote."

"Do you think the anti-home rule feeling in the North of Ireland is popularly as strong as the language of the Carsons, Craigs and Moores would indicate?"

"Certainly not. The real feeling of the North of Ireland is one thing and the oratory and fireworks of the back number Ulster Unionist politicians is another. The talk of armed resistance to home rule is the thinnest moonshine. Neither will the Ulstermen persist in any form of passive resistance to home rule. Any resistance would be not against the Parliament in Dublin, but against the Parliament in London. The imperial government retains command of the troops, and also the control of the collection of taxes.

"The old Ulster savagery against home rule, together with the threats of blood, is based on the assumption that in the event of trouble the troops and the constabulary either would be quiescent or on the side of the ascendant party. A condition has arisen where the situation would be the other way about and rifles look less pleasant when viewed from the barrel end.

"The fact is that a great deal of the former feverishness has gone out of Ireland and a better temper prevails among all elements. The battle of the Boyne is relatively remote in the minds of the people. Now they are thinking about practical questions; they are agitating about wages, hours of labor, sweating and slums. Trade unionism is spreading and the Irish Parliament will have a strong labor section returned by both Protestants and Catholic electors."

PROLONGS LIFE IN TISSUE.

Director of Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research Experiments With the Heart.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, May 2.—An account of some remarkable experiments made at the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research with tissues from the heart is given by Dr. Alexis Carrel, director of the institute, in a report just published here. Dr. Carrel announces that he was able to keep pieces of the heart tissue pulsating rhythmatically outside the organ from which they were taken for more than two months. The fragments were preserved in glass jars, in suitable media.

The experiments are part of the series to determine whether or not the life of tissue can be prolonged indefinitely outside the body. In this connection, Dr. Carrel expresses this opinion:

"It is conceivable that the length of the life of a tissue outside of the organism could exceed greatly its normal duration in the body, because elemental death might be postponed indefinitely by a proper artificial nutrition."

Then follows this statement: "Subsequently I developed other techniques by which it may be possible to obtain permanent life of tissues."

In one of the experiments cited, a fragment of heart tissue, cultivated in hyptonic plasma, pulsated regularly for several days, and grew extensively. After two months the tissue was dissected and a small central fragment removed and put in a new medium. It was found to be pulsating at a rate that varied between sixty and 104 beats a minute. Of this and other specimens, Dr. Carrel says:

"Generally the tissues seemed, after a time, to adapt themselves to their new condition, and very few cultures died spontaneously. In handling, the cultures were exposed to many accidents and microbian infections.

"In case of a local infection, the part not infected was resected with a cataract knife and placed in a new medium. Often the culture recovered and produced several generations of cells that were free from microbian infection. But when infection was generalized the tissue always died rapidly. Many cultures died of sepsis."

Fiendish.

BARBAROUS MOBS REVEL IN CRIME.

MURDER, ROB AND MUTILATE FOREIGNERS IN FEZ.

Atmosphere of City Is Heavy With Effluvia of Slaughter—Unspeakable Atrocities Inflicted on Jews and Christians—Wounded Men Are Made Targets.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GIBRALTAR, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Full and authoritative details have just been received from Fez of the recent revolt against the French and subsequent events. The French have been patroling the streets since the outbreak and more than 100 of the mutineers have been shot. For two days the rebel quarters were shelled and the number killed was very large. Residents of the city do not venture out of their houses. Many of the dead are still lying where they fell in the streets, and the pollution of the air is almost unbearable.

The Jewish people of the city are in utter destitution, having been robbed of everything. The atrocities perpetrated were of the most fiendish kind. The mob murdered hundreds and mutilated the living and the dead. Girls were attacked, children were kidnaped and carried into the country, and infants were thrown from the tops of houses or cut to pieces before the eyes of their parents. Twelve thousand persons, deprived of all means of existence, are encamped in a starving condition on the grounds of the Sultan's palace. They are without shelter or regular provision of food, and from thirty to forty die every day from starvation.

Europeans were killed in considerable numbers and in many cases were covered with wounds. Whether dead or alive, they were used as targets, pelted with stones and then their heads were cut off and carried away on pikes. Many were burned alive. Father Fable, a Franciscan friar, suffering death in this way. The rabble committed other crimes of the most horrible description on Jews and Christians alike. It is only fair to say that most of the Moorish shopkeepers and other peaceable elements in the city defended and sheltered the Christians.

In some quarters this bloody inauguration of the French protectorate over Morocco is attributed, in part at least, to England's policy in framing the deceptive instrument called the Anglo-French declaration of 1904.

ENGULFED IN LANDSLIDE.

Large Area Is Affected in Mountains Near Santa Fe—Brink Is Still Giving Away.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA FE (N. M.) May 2.—The Weather Bureau reports a remarkable landslide forty miles west of Santa Fe, in the Jemez Mountains, which has engulfed a large area. Natives are afraid to approach the brink of the sink as trees and rocks along the edge are still crumbling away into the abyss. The large cracks also are opening in the earth north of Jemez Springs.

The entire range consist of extinct volcanos, which were active in recent geological times, and has many hot, sulphur, iron and other mineral springs and lava flows that destroyed prehistoric cities and cliff dwellings.

The Weather Bureau also reports an unprecedented snowfall of two to four feet in the same region. A rise of a foot in the Jemez River every night in the last two weeks from melting snow also is reported.

Life's Seamy Side.

FOLLOWS TRAIL OF HER SPOUSE.

Pennsylvania Wife Causes His Arrest in Boise.

Catches Him at the Head of Another Family.

She'll Accompany Him, Under Arrest, Back East.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOISE (Idaho) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Trailed across the continent as a wife-deserter, M. W. Watson, a prominent business man of Boise, must return to Williamsport, Pa., with his angry spouse, who accompanied the detectives to this city, and stand trial in his former home after an absence of years.

After Watson was located here with two of his four children, living with a woman he represented to be his wife and who was so accepted in the best circles, the Williamsport officers quietly had requisition papers honored by Gov. Hawley for his removal and, under arrest, he must return to the East.

Watson came to Boise several years ago with a family and represented that the woman was his wife. Assuming the name of Worton, Watson, who had funds, purchased a grocery store in the residential section and by close attention to business built up a flourishing trade.

There was no breath of suspicion that Mrs. Worton was not the legal wife. The two children, boys, were sent to school and thefamily life of the Wortons went along apparently very peacefully.

The exposure came when least expected. The real Mrs. Watson had camped on the trail of her fugitive husband from the very hour he deserted her, taking the two eldest children, and leaving her almost destitute and with the two youngest, one a six-months' old babe and the other a 2-year-old child. The deserted spouse never gave up the chase, until she located him.

The boy and his mother had a discussion in which the latter is said to have insisted that Ernest go to school. The father was called into the dispute and the boy declared he would die before he would go to school. The shooting followed within a few minutes.

FIRST WITNESS IN ALLEN CASE.

TELLS OF THREAT TO SLAY PROSECUTOR.

"I'll Kill Foster Before the Sun Goes Down," Virginia Feudist Is Alleged to Have Said—On Trial Now on the Charge of Doing That Very Thing.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WYTHEVILLE (Va.) May 2.—"I'll kill Foster before the sun goes down, if I'm convicted."

Floyd Allen, now on trial here for his life in connection with the recent Hillsville Courthouse murders, was charged with making this remark before the shooting on March 14, according to the testimony today of I. B. Weddell of Montgomery, one of the first witnesses for the prosecution.

Foster was attorney for the commonwealth and was shot dead.

D. W. Bolen, who was defending Allen in the court where the murders occurred, testified he saw Claude Allen fire the first shot and that it struck Judge Massie. Court officials returned the fire, he said.

Two of the jurymen, who were then trying Allen, testified that Allen had fired in Foster's direction. Other witnesses told of conversations with Allen in which he had threatened Foster.

Prosecutor Wyser, opening the case, said he would show there was a conspiracy among the Allens to shoot up the court if Floyd Allen was convicted. Attorney Willis for the defense retorted that reports of the tragedy had been grossly exaggerated and that he would introduce testimony to show that Bettie Ayres was killed by a bullet from Clerk Dexter Goad's revolver, and not by the Allens. The defense would show, he said, that Floyd Allen had been wounded before he had taken part in the shooting.

With the commonwealth's opening statement that it would show a conspiracy existed among the Allens to "shoot up" the Carroll county court, and the counter statement of the defense that it would try to prove there was no such conspiracy, the trial of Allen began in earnest today.

Although he is indicted for five murders, Floyd Allen is called upon at this time to answer only the charge that he shot and killed Commonwealth's Attorney Foster.

MISAPPROPRIATION CHARGED.

Former President of Bank in Cincinnati Arrested for Making Draft When He Had no Funds.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CINCINNATI, May 2.—E. E. Galbreath, former president of the Second National Bank of this city, was arrested here today by a United States marshal on a charge of misapplying the funds of the bank. The bank was recently discovered to be in an embarrassed condition and is now being operated by members of the Cincinnati Clearing House Association.

After the bank was taken over by the clearing house, new officers were placed in control.

The warrant for Galbreath's arrest charged him with having misappropriated funds for the bank, to the amount of $32,000.

Before becoming president of the Second National Bank, Galbreath was a Federal bank examiner.

The transaction upon which the warrant was issued occurred April 8. It is alleged that on that date Galbreath placed in the Second National Bank a draft for $32,000 drawn on the Third National Bank of St. Louis, where his brother, G. W. Galbreath, is vice-president. It is charged that he then drew out of the Second National funds aggregating this amount, although he had no account with the St. Louis bank.

Following his arrest Galbreath was taken before United States Commissioner Adler. He pleaded not guilty and waived examination. Bond was fixed at $15,000.

DEMAND OF THE FIREMEN.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The locomotive firemen and hostlers employed on the railroads east of Chicago and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers submitted to the Conference Committee of the railroad managers today a schedule of pay which calls for general increases in all classes of service. J. C. Stuart, chairman of the Conference Committee of managers, received the notification of the demand for the new scale from W. S. Carter of Peoria, Ill., president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen. Mr. Stuart replied to Mr. Carter that the committee of managers would be called together as soon as possible. It was said by the railroad managers that the railroads involved had in use about 14,000 locomotives and that a hasty examination of the new wage scale showed that an additional expense to the railroads of from twenty-five to thirty million dollars annually would be caused if the demands were granted. One of the demands is that on coal-burning locomotives in freight service a fireman and an assistant fireman shall be employed. This would mean the employment of 14,000 additional men annually.

RAILROAD IS CONVICTED.

SANTA FE (N. M.) May 2.—The Denver and Rio Grande Railroad was today found guilty on four counts by Federal Judge Pope of violation of the Federal statute fixing the maximum hours of service for train crews at sixteen hours. The court held that holding a train on a siding to allow another train to pass even with the waiting train's headlight extinguished, switch locked, brakeman asleep and engineer reading, does not constitute a break in the sixteen-hour maximum of service provided by law. The railroad was fined $250 and costs.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

Labor.

AGREEMENT VOTED DOWN.

Suspension of Work in the Anthracite Region.

Shorter Working Day Still Provides an Issue.

Conference in New York May Be Resumed.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, May 2.—Rejection today by Anthracite coal workers of a tentative wage agreement for the coming year was followed tonight by a conference of the mine workers' general committee and a statement that in the opinion of John P. White, president of the United Mine Workers, the outlook was not discouraging and differences still might be adjusted.

It is understod that the settlement was tripped up principally by the miners' desire to get a two-year agreement.

A proposition made by President George Baer of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad to submit all differences to the surviving members of the anthracite coal commission which settled the strike of ten years ago may be taken under consideration.

The conference of operators and workers, which was expected by the subcommittee to take favorable action on the agreement, adjourned subject to the call of the chairman. It was announced that the suspension of work throughout the anthracite fields would continue.

The agreement provided for a four-year contract, an increase of 10 per cent., abolition of the sliding scale, indirect recognition of the union and other concessions to the miners, but contained no mention of a shorter working day.

THE AGREEMENT.

The agreement follows in part:

"That the terms and conditions awarded by the anthracite coal strike commission and supplemented by the agreements subsequent thereto be continued for a further period of four years ending March 31, 1916, except in the following particulars, to wit:

"The contract rates and wage scale for all employees shall be increased 10 per cent. over and above the contract rates and wage scales adopted by the anthracite coal strike commission as effective April 1, 1903. The provisions of the sliding scale are by mutual consent abolished.

"At each mine there shall be a grievance committee consisting of not more than three employees, and such committee shall under the terms of this agreement take up for adjustment with the proper officials of the company all grievances referred to them by employees who have first taken up said grievance with the foreman and failed to effect proper settlement of the same.

"Contract miners shall have the right to employ check weighmen and check docking bosses as provided by the award of the anthracite coal strike commission and the decisions of the board of conciliation and when so employed their rights shall be recognized and they shall not be interfered with in the proper performance of their work; provided they do not interfere with the proper operations of the colliery.

"For the purpose of facilitating the adjustment of grievances company officials at each mine shall meet with the grievance committee of employees and prepare a statement setting forth the rates of compensation paid of each item of work under the provisions of this agrement and certify the same to the board of conciliation within sixty days after the date of this agreement."

THE "CHECK" SYSTEM.

Preliminary to the conference, representatives of the three anthracite districts conferred with the subcommittee of the miners and protested that the agreement failed to give the union the "check" system which the union advocated to compel the mining companies to deduct from each miner's envelope on pay day his dues to the union.

CHANGES IN WEATHER START TROUBLE

Spring weather, with its sudden changes, its cold, raw, damp winds, is bad for rheumatic sufferers. It starts the aches and pains, the twinges and tortures. But every rheumatic sufferer must remember that the weather is not the cause of the rheumatism. It merely arouses the slumbering rheumatic poison and the poison is in the blood.

The only way to reach the trouble and cure it is through the blood. Liniments, oils and other external applications may relieve the pain temporarily but to cure rheumatism—really cure it, so that it will stay cured, the poison must be driven from the system.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do this. They enable the blood to absorb oxygen, the oxygen changes the rheumatic poison chemically so that it is excreted from the body through the skin, bowels and kidneys. At the same time the blood which always becomes thin in an attack of rheumatism is built up and the system is guarded against another attack. As long as the blood is kept rich and red there is no danger of rheumatism.

Mrs. J. T. Slogey, of No. 4009 Thompson avenue, Tacoma, Wash., says:

"A few years ago I suffered a great deal with rheumatism, being confined to my bed some of the time, was under a physician's care and was unable to do any work. I was also troubled with indigestion. When spring came I was thin and nervous, had a poor appetite and was broken down in health generally. That summer I made a visit to Wisconsin and while there met an old friend, who had been a great sufferer from indigestion and had been completely cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I knew her word could be relied on so I got a box of the pills and commenced taking them. I felt benefited in a few days but continued to take them until cured.

"That winter I had no return of the rheumatism, my appetite improved and I gained in flesh and strength. My cure was permanent and I have not taken any of the pills since.

"I have told others how the pills helped me and I sincerely hope that others suffering in the same way may be induced to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

If you awake in the morning to find a joint stiff and that moving it causes a sharp twinge of pain, that is rheumatism. Perhaps with the use of the limb the pain in the joint will disappear, but it will come back and probably spread to other joints.

If the pain is in the muscles so that it is torture to go about your daily work, that is muscular rheumatism. This form does not disappear with exercise.

If the tender membranes surrounding the joints are inflamed and the surfaces red, angry and swollen, that is inflammatory rheumatism.

The one great symptom of rheumatism is pain, the one great danger to life is that it may attack the heart, the one cause is rheumatic poison in the blood, the one great remedy is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

These pills have cured so many cases of rheumatism, so many forms of the disease, at every stage from a simple twinge to a body crippled and distorted with pain, that it is folly for any sufferer to go another day without giving them a trial. The benefit starts with the first dose for when you build up and oxidize the blood you are assisting the forces of nature to combat the disease. Our free book, "Building Up the Blood," tells more about rheumatism, and how to treat it and contains proof of cures in stubborn cases. Send for it today.

Dr. Williams Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

FOR SALE—

SUPERB HOLLYWOOD RESIDENCE.

Seldom will you find an opportunity to buy a piece of property so complete in every way—both house and grounds, as is this home. As it was built by the owner for his home, it is as well built from foundation to roof as it is possible to build a house, and many unusual and convenient features have been added that are never found in the "built for sale" houses.
The builder of this home is a lover of flowers and plants, and as a consequence this yard is a bower of flowers and blossoms. The lot is 150x200 feet, and every inch of ground not covered by the house is cultivated. Thousands of roses are blooming in the rose gardens, over the artistic fences and over the pergola and summer house; there is almost every kind of a flower—illac, jasmine, hybiscus, sweet syringa, wistaria, violets, Scotch broom and so on. The broad front lawns and the rear yard contain many rare and ornamental palms, fira, bamboo and many other trees. Among the different fruits on the place are fig, lemon, orange, apricot, guava, tangerine, apple, plum, peach nectarine, and so on. A three-foot brick and cement retaining wall runs across the front of the yard, and a cement driveway runs to garage. This is a yard to be enjoyed from one year's end to the other, and will be an endless delight to the fortunate purchaser of this place.
The house is thoroughly well constructed, of the best material in every instance. The foundation is unusually good, and the woods and finish inside are superb. All hardwood finish outside of bedrooms—the dining-room in oak, hall in curly birch, den and living-room in mahogany; these rooms are paneled high in the various woods, which have been rubbed to a piano finish. Massive buffet in dining-room is 11 feet wide; the front window sight feet, and end of room is a circle bay. In the living-room is a broad Gruby tile mantel, built-in leaded-glass bookcases, a ten-foot window in front, and a circle bay all one end. All floors throughout are hardwood, and every room in the house contains an unusual number of windows. There are five bedrooms, two downstairs and three up; all in white enamel. The charming features of these rooms are their many windows; their extraordinary large closets, the many electric lights, with switches for each light, and the very dainty wall paper in each room. Doors are mahogany, with cut-glass knobs. full-length mirrors in some of them; in one bedroom there is a mantel and bookcases. Two bathrooms in white enamel, one with tile floor, full length and other mirrors. Buffet kitchen with closets reaching the ceiling; finished in cedar; large sink board, hood for stove, linoleum on floor. Large basement, furnace, etc. Nothing lacking to make a complete home. Price includes all window draperies, hangings and portieres. House open every afternoon and Sunday for inspection, between 2 and 4 o'clock. Address 146 MORGAN PLACE. Take Hollywood car, get off at Morgan Place. This is the last house on west side of street. Telephone Home A3529.

FOR SALE—
I am a well-to-do old maid and bought a fine lot, 40x138, in Highland Park, near the Arroyo Seco, amidst poplar and oak trees, where I could have peace and seclusion for myself, cats and parrots, and still be within two blocks of both the red and yellow car lines, and built for myself, by day's work, a beautiful modern five-room bungalow of artistic design, where I have had a haven of peace, comfort and rest. Now, to my intense chagrin, the city of Los Angeles is arranging to open the Arroyo Seco Park to adjoin my lot, and will thus destroy my privacy with park visitors, sightseers and tourists. In consequence, I will sacrifice $500 on my house, and now sell same at $3500. Only $100 to $250 cash, and $25 monthly takes it. Apply to my agents, 6180 PASADENA AVE.

100 FOOT FRONTAGE, WILSHIRE DISTRICT.
$2000 BUYS IT ON EASY TERMS.
Take the Pico street car to my tract office at the corner of Alta avenue and you will be at the south entrance to one of the best located tracts in the Wilshire district. Oxford Square, with its palms, planted parkings and electroliers, is one of the beauty spots of the city.
Think of buying 100-foot frontage with a depth of 171 feet, amid select neighbors for such a price as $2000. You're dealing with the owner direct when you buy from me in Oxford Square. I bought the land years ago and so can offer this unusual bargain at less than present acreage price of land much farther west. I have developed the tract to the very utmost of exclusiveness. Reasonable restrictions are enforced—that's why you'll find so many handsome homes there. Cement walks are 5 feet wide, and this bargain faces east on a 70-foot avenue. You won't find another hundred-foot frontage like this for $2000, with street improvements paid for.

CREATING
CITY
NEAR LOS ANGELES.

What created Pasadena? Whittier? Glendale? Monrovia?
Population always did create land values and population is the main factor—plus a strategic position.
We are dealers in population.
We have formed population clubs here in Los Angeles for the past ten years. You know the results of this work.
You may now become a member of this, our Tenth Club.
There always will be plenty of population available for Southern California, but the available sites are getting less and less each year.
As publishers of the largest and most popular agricultural and home-seekers journal, we have a tremendous call from a ready-made population, that instantly reclaims and builds up any home-making project which we undertake. Note Monte Vista one year ago, with every member enjoying doubled profits already. Note Wasco townsite of 1907, with 2000 per cent. profits.
Our Verdugo Heights townsite is as close to Los Angeles as the main portion of Pasadena. It is immeasurably prettier than Pasadena, and at an elevation much higher above sea level, and of as easy approach to Los Angeles, either by auto or trolley line.
You can now join the Club of about 400 families who have chosen this new townsite—and as a member of the public syndicate you will either earn a handsomely improved villa homesite free, or earn cash profits of 100 to 500 per cent., within a year or two.
You are often invited to invest in lots, but you have rarely ever been invited to invest in the center of the center of things before the actual creation is trumped.
Right now is the one time that an opportunity confronts you.
Verdugo Heights is the central junction point of the Verdugo, the Crescenta, and the Canyada Valleys. The character of the location and the character of the improvements provided for place it on a par with subdivisions that open at $1500 to $2500 per lot, and yet your membership investment on such an improved quarter-acre lot is only $400 to $700, with which you have stock participation in the entire project, which will earn back your original investment easily, leaving the cost of your land free—and may do more.
This is the week to investigate.
If you have the inclination for the two-hour drive through and around these foothills, we have the autos.
The books on second allotment of Verdugo close May 10th, and then prices advance again. Over a hundred families have already joined and you may come in as an investor or as a home-maker.
Get the details now. Booklet free.

BUY ACREAGE
GREAT IMPROVEMENTS MEAN
BIG PROFITS ON VAN NUYS-LANKERSHIM LANDS

The extension of the magnificent $500,000 boulevard and the new electric road are being rushed toward Owensmouth. Great gangs of men are at work. Buy acreage adjoining the new town, before these vast improvements are completed. Profits should be quick, whether you use the land for beans, fruit, sugar beets or melons, or whether you hold for a turn of the market; present low prices cannot remain for long. The soil is rich, deep and subirrigated, and the location perfect. The fine citrus and olive orchards near by prove its fertility. Now's your opportunity.

$225, $250 and $600 Per Acre.

The Highest Priced Fronts on $500,000 Boulevard.

All subject to 25 per cent. improvement discount.

Get in ahead of these improvements; own a country estate; or small ranch close in; the fast growing city of Los Angeles, and directly adjoining the great new town of Owensmouth. Some choice sections just placed on the market.
Come out today—see for yourself.
Our machines make several trips daily.

FOR SALE—
WANT A GOOD FARM?
GET ONE IN PERRIS VALLEY.
Perris Valley is fruitful. Its soil is rich and deep. The water rights go with the land. Perris irrigated farms are on an even stretch just outside the prosperous town of Perris on the Santa Fe Railroad. The soil is silt and decomposed granite. Peach and apricot trees thrive here. Perris Valley farmers are growing rich raising alfalfa. Sugar factory pays the freight on beets.
Prices are low and terms most liberal. $100 to $150 per acre buys the choicest, including valuable water right. Four years' time to pay.
Hadn't you better look into this now? Here's a fine tract at opening prices. Ask for map and further details. Let us arrange a trip to the land.

RANCHO LA PUENTE.
5-ACRE TRACTS.
$450 and up per acre.
A PART OF LUCKY BALDWIN LAND.

READ what Judge Rives says in not confirming a sale of Baldwin land in court:
"I am familiar with the land near La Puente," said Judge Rives, "and I know it has at least doubled, if not trebled, in value since the death of Baldwin. I think this increase may apply to virtually the entire estate, and I do not feel like confirming this sale now."

It is worth you while to thoroughly investigate the many advantages which our land presents. We know the soil is absolutely the best in the country. We know there is no hardpan under the surface. We know the water supply is abundant and ample for all time.
Permit us to demonstrate these facts to you.
Grow oranges, lemons or walnuts. Raise alfalfa, potatoes and all vegetables. Chickens thrive wonderfully well in this valley, owing to the dryness of the climate.
The only acreage near the big city which will have gas and electricity, and the proposed new electric car line will pass the Rancho.
Both the Salt Lake and Southern Pacific now serving the land.

ATHENS OF THE WESTERN WORLD

Pasadena to Lead Country in School Equipment.

Divorce Trial Brought to an Abrupt Conclusion.

Making Plans to Entertain Twenty Thousand Visitors.

(Office of The Times, 37 N. Fair Oaks avenue.)

PASADENA, May 3.—Is the sunshine that falls upon Pasadena tempered the same as that which fell on ancient Athens?

President James A. B. Scherer of the Throop Polytechnic Institute recently declared that local climatic conditions will some day make Pasadena the center of learning in the United States, and now the Board of Education is expending thousands of dollars to equip the magnificent new Polytechnic High School, in course of construction at the Rose Villa tract, on West Colorado street, with outdoor study rooms, because it is claimed that children learn more readily when in the open air.

The study rooms—or rather study gardens, for they are to be shady nooks under pergolas, over which vines will trail—are to be on the roof of the Administration building.

This building is to have a flat roof with a large dome in the center. This dome will house the library of the school, and pleasant flower-bordered walks will radiate from it in different directions and extend along the ends of the wings. A balustrade about the edges will prevent any of the students from tumbling off in the absorption of their studies.

It will be the first High school building to be equipped with outdoor study facilities in the West, and, of course, they are impossible in the East. Similar outdoor study facilities are planned in connection with one of the projected Los Angeles schools.

"Where there is strong wind and much bad weather an outdoor study place is not satisfactory," said Assistant Superintendent of Schools A. L. Hamilton last night. "However, here, where the weather is pleasant all winter, it is believed the results will be very satisfactory. The new Washington-street school building is equipped with windows that may be opened to such an extent that the rooms are virtually the same as these roof-study places, that will be constructed on the new Polytechnic High School Administration building.

DRAMATIC CLOSE.

In the middle of an argument at Reno yesterday as to whether there should be a continuance or not, granted by the court in the divorce suit brought by Dr. Francis J. Purcell against Bernice Purcell of Pasadena, Mrs. Purcell's attorney arose and stated that the defendant desired it understood that she was ready to forgive all and again resume marital relations.

Dr. Purcell, when asked by Judge Moran whether there was a possibility of reaching a reconciliation, sat for a moment silent, then said that it was within the bounds of possibilities. Judge Moran postponed the case for three days, adjourned court and the spectators, attorneys and newspaper men withdrew and left the principals alone in the gloomy courtroom. Later the couple were closeted with Judge Moran for a number of hours but had not reached an agreement this evening.

Dr. Purcell was a physician in Mexico and living very happily with his wife and children, when a nurse, it is stated, turned up on the scene and supplanted the affections of the wife, who was formerly a Salvation Army worker in New York, where she met Dr. Purcell. The couple lived in the Philippines, in Los Angeles and in San Francisco. The alleged affinity is now in San Francisco. Purcell left his wife in Pasadena with her mother and went to Nevada to secure a residence, filing a suit for divorce. Upon learning of this, Mrs. Purcell went to Reno and engaged lawyers to fight the case. It is expected that a reconciliation will take place.

VISITING NURSE APPOINTED.

A new office in the city health department was created yesterday with the appointment of Miss Elizabeth MacGaffey, a former Pasadena Hospital nurse, as visiting nurse. She will work under the direction of Dr. Stanley P. Black, city health officer, and will make her headquarters at his office in the City Hall.

Miss MacGaffey is considered one of the best-informed and most skillful nurses in Southern California. For a long time she had charge of the operating-room at the Pasadena Hospital. She has been a resident of the city for nine years.

In her new capacity she will work in co-operation with the nurses of the Associated Charities.

PASADENAN'S GETTING READY.

There was much speculation in the city yesterday as to the number of visitors that will arrive in Pasadena next Monday, when the Shriners will make the Crown City their headquarters for the day. An estimate of 20,000 was made by one member of the Committee on Entertainment.

The work of decorating the city for the occasion was begun in earnest yesterday. The City Hall is to be draped in bunting, and most of the business houses and stores on the downtown street are doing something to lend a festive appearance to the city on that day.

DOCTORS SEE THE CITY.

The physicians who are attending the Southern California Medical Society convention left all serious considerations behind for a few hours yesterday morning, and enjoyed an automobile ride about the city. They were driven through the principal residence streets and to the Busch gardens.

The afternoon, however, was given over entirely to work. The next meeting of the organization will be held in Los Angeles in December. Officers to serve for the ensuing year will be elected at this time.

CITY BRIEFS.

The proposed amendments to the Pasadena city charter will be the subject of a discussion at a meeting of the Men's Brotherhood of the Lake-avenue Methodist Church, next Tuesday night. Among those who are scheduled to speak are Mayor Thum, former Mayor Earley and John J. Hamilton.

George D. Freeth,

Redondo Beach life guard, who received a medal from the United States Life Saving Corps yesterday. He saved nine men from drowning at Venice.

John Cort, the theatrical manager, by whose arrangements "The Gypsy," a new comic opera, composed at the Maryland hotel last winter by Pixley and Luders, and to be presented in New York next fall, spent a few hours in Pasadena, yesterday. He was accompanied by Mrs. Cort and Oliver Morosco of Los Angeles.

Frederic Weyerhauser, the lumber king, who is said by some to be the richest man in the world, left his Pasadena home yesterday for Minneapolis. As he boarded the train he told his friends who assembled at the depot to see him off that no climate he has found can compare with that of Pasadena, and remarked that he expects to return next winter and remain longer.

Preparations for accommodating the May festival crowd at Carmelita Playgrounds, tomorrow, were begun yesterday. Over 3000 persons are expected.

The 14th inst. has been set as the date for the 1912 annual meeting of the Pasadena Ohio Society. Members of the organization hope that Gov. Harmon of Ohio will be able to attend as the guest of honor.

City Clerk Dyer yesterday made plans temporarily to move into another room at the City Hall. Six extra women stenographers are at work in his office, and the clatter of their typewriters, to say nothing of conversation, is too much for the City Clerk.

BLUE FIN TUNA LANDED.

Kansas City Man Sights School of Rare Fish and Takes One With Light Tackle.

AVALON, May 2.—F. M. Cockrell of Kansas City arrived at the pleasure wharf today with the first blue-fin tuna of the season and announced that he had sighted a large school of the same variety of fish near Church Rock. Mr. Cockrell's fish, though under 100 pounds, was taken upon light tackle and will be entered in the light tackle class of the Tuna Club. Despite the fact that strong winds were blowing many anglers left for the place designated by Mr. Cockrell, where the fish were feeding.

That the fish took the bait is a surprise to old-time anglers, who have studied the habits of tuna. The angler was trolling for albicore, using salt sardines for lure. "Upon nine-nine tackle," said the angler, "a small tuna is all that one man can handle. I have caught many fish, but today's catch was the limit of my experiences. My companion also had a strike, but his fish just walked away with 900 feet of his line, never stopping. The last hundred feet seemed to go off the spool more rapidly than the first. But the way that the one we landed capered around under the water would have competed easily with a live electric wire."

The following prize winners have been announced for the winter tournament of the Tuna Club, which closed April 30. The winners are recipients of rods, and other paraphernalia and will have their names engraved upon the gold, silver and bronze medallions of the club:

White sea bass—John B. Dempsey, Cleveland, O., weight of fish, 46 pounds; Douglas F. Johnson, Macleod, Alberta, Canada, weight of fish, 43½ pounds.

Long Beach.

POLICE CHIEF RESIGNS PLACE.

Long Beach Official Creates Sensation by Action.

Commission, He Says, Would Not Sustain Him.

Woman Dies Leaving Funeral Details Prepared.

LONG BEACH, May 2.—Clarence E. Moyer, for two years and two months Chief of Police of Long Beach, created a sensation today by tendering his resignation as head of the department with the request that it take effect immediately. Mayor Hatch accepted the resignation and designated Sergeant Fred Kutz as acting Chief until a successor to Moyer is named. Kutz is the oldest man in the department and the ranking senior sergeant.

Moyer's resignation came as a complete surprise, as not even to his intimates had he breathed a word of his intentions, a characteristic of the man who ever since he has been a policeman has kept his troubles and worries to himself.

Explaining his action this afternoon the former Chief said that the Police Commission seemed unwilling to lend its co-operation in maintaining discipline in the department and he believed that without their full support it was useless for him to remain as head of the force. It is an open secret that factional differences in the department have made the Chief's position one of worry, which was not lessened by criticism of recent crimes committed without detection of the criminals.

Moyer, although he is still a patrolman on leave of absence, will not remain on the department, but may enter business life. He was appointed a patrolman in December, 1909, and had been an officer four months when chosen Chief to succeed Chief Williams.

The appointment of Chief rests with the Mayor and City Council and as they do not meet until next Monday Acting Chief Kutz will have charge of police affairs until that time at least.

WEALTHY WOMAN DIES.

Mrs. Anna Walker, a wealthy pioneer of Long Beach, died this morning at her home on West Ocean avenue after a long illness. She was 2 years of age and came to Long Beach twenty-eight years ago with her husband, Capt. George M. Walker, U.S.A., and head of the eastern boot manufactory bearing his name. Capt. Walker died seventeen years ago.

Mrs. Walker was aware of approaching death and calmly made all arrangements for her funeral services which she insisted must be as simple as possible, not a song being sung and not a word spoken aside from a scripture reading and prayer, requests which will be carried out. The deceased even wrote her own funeral notice, confining it to less than a dozen words.

STRANGE RESULT.

Dr. F. D. Bishop is a patient at a local hospital suffering from a peculiar and serious ailment, resulting from striking his elbow on the pavement when he slipped a few days ago. The skin was not cut, but the elbow began to pain him and intermittent chills and fever followed, indicating an infection of some kind.

NEED DOCKAGE.

The Chamber of Commerce directors this morning discussing the insufficiency of the present city docks on the inner harbor, decided to recommend to the council the calling of a bond issue of $50,000 to extend the docks along the slip joining the present holdings. The Harbor Committee also recommended that it would be money saved if the city would decide to bond itself for the purchase of the entire harbor property, making it a really municipal harbor. The chamber, however, declined to go that far without due consideration and laid the report over.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Rev. O. H. L. Mason, whose announced sermon on reasons why the saloon would benefit the Pike, says that he does not propose to connect the Pike with saloons and favors a larger and better Pike. His sermon is a temperance sermon and intended to contrast Long Beach with other beach resorts where such conditions do exist.

The Police Court was occupied all of today with testimony in the Hotel Virginia alleged liquor case. The prosecution dismissed the case pending against Ben Tompkins, a bell boy charged with the same offense, and then placed him on the stand, but the lad refused to testify on the ground that he might incriminate himself. The case is being bitterly contested at every point by counsel for the defense, and the trial will probably result in another disagreement.

William Duffield died suddenly last night of heart failure at his home on Daisy avenue. He was 52 years of age and leaves a widow and four children.

CELEBRATE LANDMARKS DAY.

South Pasadena's Women's Improvement Association, Engage Speakers and Serve Refreshments.

SOUTH PASADENA, May 2.—History and Landmarks Day was celebrated yesterday by the Women's Improvement Association. Ex-Mayor Workman and H. D. Barrows gave talks on "Pioneer Days and Landmarks" of Los Angeles and vicinity. Mrs. Charles C. Hudson was hostess for the afternoon, and assisting her were Mrs. Norman Marsh and Mrs. Harry Lord. Tea and wafers were served following the addresses. Mrs. Rebecca Cairns and Mrs. John Monahan serving at the tea urns.

The annual election of officers of the club for the ensuing year also occurred, resulting as follows: President, Mrs. Frank Stephens; first vice-president, Mrs. E. M. Mumford; second vice-president, Mrs. John W. Monahan; recording secretary, Mrs. J. Brymer Jones; corresponding secretary, Mrs. George Alfred Miller; treasurer, Mrs. F. C. Delano; advisory board, Mrs. Leo Longley, Mrs. E. E. Thompson and Mrs. E. L. B. Godfrey; membership committee, Mrs. John W. Moore, Mrs. E. E. Washburn, Mrs. Estelle Johnson and Mrs. E. H. Rust.

LIBRARIANS MEET.

Mrs. Nellie Keith, the city librarian, has returned from Riverside where she attended a meeting of the Sixth District Library Association, of which Mrs. Davidson of San Diego is president. Sixty-five libraries were represented, and a most instructive as well as enjoyable day was spent. They were the guests of the library board of Riverside for luncheon at the Glenwood Inn.

CLEAN-UP DAY.

The big clean-up festival for South Pasadena under the management of the Chamber of Commerce and Women's Improvement Association, will be held Saturday of this week. The citizens are asked to assemble all rubbish, weeds, tin cans, bottles and other refuse on their premises not later than Saturday evening. Combustible matter is to be burned on the premises, and other things which will not burn are to be placed in gunny sacks, and left on the parkings along the sidewalks. The city wagons will call early Monday morning, and gather them up and haul them away free of charge.

Children of the city will be enlisted in the enterprise, under the supervision of the committees from the civic bodies, and it is believed that wonders will be worked in the matter of cleaning up the city, by setting aside one certain day for co-operative effort.

The committee in charge from the Chamber of Commerce, is Messrs. N. G. Ledgerwood, William Hazelett, E. E. Thompson and George C. Bush.

From the Women's Improvement Association, Mrs. Jonathan Dodge, Miss Emily Pryor, Mrs. E. E. Thompson and Mrs. Elizabeth Mumford.

NEW SYSTEM IS DEVISED.

Pomona's City Engineer Will Renumber the Houses of the Town and Make Confusion Impossible.

POMONA, May 2.—City Engineer C. E. Bailey has finished the work of compiling a new system of house numbering in this city, which will abolish the present unsatisfactory manner of numbering houses by blocks, units being used instead, and each ten feet representing a unit. The numbering will begin as formerly, east and west from Garey avenue, and north and south from First street.

The new system is to be presented to the Council for ratification, and most of the houses will then have to be renumbered. Under the proposed new system there may be opened any number of new streets and thus additional blocks formed, the house numbering not being affected.

The change will greatly simplify matters and much confusion and present trouble in readily locating houses will be avoided.

CONVENTION TODAY.

At the Citrus Protective League convention, to be held here tomorrow, which has been arranged by G. Harold Powell, will be discussed various phases of the frost problem, including methods of combating the frost menace to the citrus fruit industry. Sessions will be held both tomorrow forenoon and afternoon. H. J. Nichols, president of the Pomona Fruit Growers' Exchange, will welcome the visitors, and C. C. Chapman, president of the Citrus Protective League will respond. Others on the programme are Prof. A. G. McAdie of San Francisco, Weather Bureau Chief A. F. Call of Corona, C. C. Teague of Santa Paula, Dr. Eliot Cott of Riverside, C. W. Lefferts of Redlands, C. W. Mann of the Department of Agriculture, Ralph A. Gould and Prof. O'Gara.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The report of Postmaster W. M. Avis for April shows postal receipts of $3391.58, as against $2389.87 for April, 1911. This is an increase of $1001.71, or 41 per cent., and is but another indication of the rapid growth of this city. The postal receipts have shown a gain each month for the past year.

Ganesha Park is proving an attractive rendezvous for local residents, sojourning tourists and out-of-the-city visitors alike, these days. Yesterday a party of fifty came from Long Beach in automobile, and passed the day, having luncheon at the picnic grounds at the park, and last night about thirty-five people from San Dimas enjoyed a picnic supper and moonlight gathering at the park. Last evening, also, Misses Lucy Osborn and Edna Munroe entertained the members of the faculty of the Pomona High School at supper in the park.

WILMINGTON A BUSY TOWN.

Telephone and Electrical Concerns Are Extending Their Systems and Dredging Is Being Prosecuted.

WILMINGTON, May 2.—The Home Telephone Company today began stringing wires throughout the harbor district, running through the business section from the Pacific Electric Company's car tracks to the municipal wharves. Following close on the heels of this industrial improvement work, the report is current that the Southern California Edison Company is about to extend its electrical system through the main business section.

Both improvements have caused a resumption of activities at the Weir Company's pole yards, where several acres of land are covered with poles that measure from forty to seventy feet in length. The Weir concern is engaged in creosoting several hundred poles for the Edison company, these poles to be at once placed in the ground in connection with harbor development work.

Official notice of the change of grade on the most easterly portion of Canal street from the east line of the Banning's original reservation to the pierhead line, have just been posted by the city. Notice is given that the elevation at the intersection of Canal street and the Banning reservation shall be 5.55 feet; at the north line of West Bryant street, 5.19; at the intersection of the most easterly portion of Canal street with that portion donated by the Bannings, 4.81 feet; and at all points between designated points the grade shall conform to a straight line, with the grade at the pierheads to be 3.50 feet on both sides.

REACHING LONG BEACH.

Planks were laid today on the 1999-foot bridge on the Seventh-street road to Long Beach, which connects with the old Anaheim road into the beach city. This improvement is being made out of the general improvement fund of Los Angeles, with the city of Long Beach preparing to asphalt the road eastward into that city. Formerly a fifty-foot bridge provided means for travelers to cross the slough between Wilmington and Long Beach, the point being just east of the Consolidated Lumber Company's plant, about one mile west of Long Beach. The grade has been raised seven feet at the approaches and the bridge will cost $12,000.

Rapid strides are being made on the harbor boulevard, locally known as the J-street extension, which will be an important link in the development of the water front, inasmuch as it will be utilized to reach both the outer and inner harbors, and the Long Beach harbor.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC BRIDGE.

Today showed the final work on one of the main sections of the Southern Pacific Company's drawbridge at the entrance to the West Basin. The early completion of this work is predicted, and the United States government officials are prepared to at once put dredgers at work in the West Basin so that that part of the harbor will be ready at an early date to receive shipping of all classes. Congress has appropriated the money and the contract has been awarded for this improvement, the general appropriation amounting to $570,000.

DREDGING OPERATIONS.

The dredger Long Beach is now engaged in the government channel, cleaning out the tidelands from the Wilmington Basin to the Consolidated Lumber Company's property. Today both the dredgers Oakland and Turbine were working in perfect shape, without the slightest delay, following the recent accident on the Oakland. The average of 5000 cubic yards of earth being removed daily, is still maintained.

The mass meeting of citizens, called for tonight, to receive the report of the Harbor Commission, relative to proposed changes in the harbor lines, was not held, because of the official postponement of the meeting set by the city officials for this morning in Los Angeles. The meeting will probably be held next Wednesday evening.

DOG TRIED TO AID MASTER.

Fullerton Man Caught Beneath an Overturned Car Is Severely Injured. Hiatt Funeral Attended by Many.

WHITTIER, May 2.—With his right arm and one rib broken, J. R. MacAllister, superintendent of the Standard Oil Company in this and the Fullerton district, lies at the Whittier Hospital badly injured as the result of an automobile accident which occurred near the Girls' State School on the Los Angeles county good roads at 2 o'clock this morning. MacAllister was driving the big 6 Franklin "Six" loaned to him by Dudley Harvey-Elder, and was going at a high rate of speed when the machine ran into a ditch and turned turtle, the steering wheel pinning the driver under the machine until help arrived from a neighboring ranch-house.

The accident occurred on the turn in the county road in front of the Adams ranch at exactly the same place where Ross Dunlap, who was driving a Chalmers, took the ditch, his car turning a complete somersault, and being badly wrecked. In this accident Dunlap and three Mexican hired men were injured.

With the exception of his two dogs, MacAllister was the only occupant of the big machine. The damage to the car is considerable, as the front axle and springs were broken, the tonneau buckled and the motor badly injured. The tracks made by the car showed that all four wheels went into the ditch, and that the machine did not turn over until the driver attempted to pull out on the opposite side of the road.

J. R. Adams, in front of whose house the accident occurred, was the first to reach the machine and found MacAllister's bulldog making a desperate attempt to dig his master out. Adams summoned help and succeeded in lifting the wreck so that the injured man could crawl out.

HIATT FUNERAL.

Impressive funeral services for the late Mrs. Belle P. Hiatt, who died in this city Tuesday evening at 10 o'clock, were conducted at the Friends' Church this morning at 10:30 o'clock, Rev. Andrew Mitchell of Long Beach, assisted by Rev. H. E. McGrew of this city, officiating. A large number of friends and relatives of the deceased were in attendance.

Music was furnished by a mixed quartette consisting of Mmes. Allen, Tomlinson and Abe Sandusky and B. C. Beech and Dr. C. C. Williams, who sang three favorite selections of the deceased.

The remains were laid to rest in the Whittier Cemetery. The pallbearers were William M. Hiatt, Harry Williams, Joel Pennington, Lyle Hiatt, Albert Hiatt and J. Clem Arnold, all grandsons of the late Mrs. Hiatt.

The automobile classic of the West will be interestingly bulletined at The Times office, 617-619 S. Spring.

COLTON.

COLTON, May 2.—Roy Raleigh Foster of this city, and a descendant of Sir Walter Raleigh, is the inventor of an instantaneous electric water heater, on which he has just secured a patent. The capacity of the heater is one gallon per minute, and consumes about two kilowatts per hour at a cost of 15 cents for sixty gallons of water.

The entertainment given by the Colton Woman's Club this evening under the direction of E. B. Wilkerson proved a great success. Early in the week all tickets were sold for the first night's performance.

Thirty-two automobile loads of Coltonites went to Riverside this evening to join the parade and enjoy the carnival.

INTERVENTION A REAL DANGER.

Refugees Arriving at San Diego Express Beliefs.

Think Malaria More Dangerous Than the Rebels.

Three Military Companies Ready for War's Alarms.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Although a large part of Mexico is in a state of turmoil, with a few exceptions peace prevails along the line of the Tehuantepec Railway, which crosses the isthmus of that name, according to passengers and steamship officials arriving from Salina Cruz on the steamer Arizona today.

The steamer brought five refugees. They are Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Waugh and Mrs. O. L. Emlay and two children. They come from Ricon Antonio, a station on the Tehuantepec National Railroad, 199 kilometers north of Salina Cruz. Waugh is trainmaster of the line. Mrs. Emlay is the wife of the train dispatcher stationed at that place.

"Peace prevails on the isthmus, though soldiers are constantly on the move," said Mr. Waugh. "I am coming out in an effort to get rid of the malaria, and myself and Mrs. Waugh plan to go back after a few weeks' rest. Mrs. Emlay is coming out to put her two children in school. We were never bothered by rebels or any one else. The only thing that would put the lives of Americans in danger would be intervention. We have several hundred men employed on the railroad. Nearly all of them are Mexicans and all are loyal to the government. The only trouble on the isthmus is being experienced with some Indians down in the far end, who do not approve of the appointment of a jefe politico. They are doing some fighting, but Americans are not being troubled. A few families living on ranches have come into port of Mexico and Salina Cruz for safety, but that is all."

The Arizona brought 2200 tons of freight for this port. Included in this cargo are three carloads of Mexican mahogany cut in large slabs. This is valued at $15,000. The wood will be used in this country for the manufacture of cigar boxes.

READY TO FIGHT.

San Diego's three militia companies, the Fifth and Eighth of the Coast Artillery Corps, and San Diego division, Naval Reserves, are ready to volunteer for service in case intervention in Mexican affairs is decided by the Federal government, according to authority of officers of the companies.

For three weeks past recruiting has progressed until now it is said the companies in strength are almost up to the standard required for war footing.

According to officials of these companies the members are ready and

FREDERICKS ENTH SAN DIEGO RE

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO TH

SAN DIEGO, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The most enthusiastic of all Republican meetings of the present campaign held in San Diego was that tonight addressed by Capt. J. D. Fredericks, District Attorney of Los Angeles. The U. S. Grant Hotel assembly-room, capable of holding 2000 persons, was filled.

Capt. Fredericks spoke with a ring of true Republicanism. He spoke of the prosperity and growth of San Diego and all of California, which, he said, was due to the splendid system of the protective tariff introduced and maintained by the Republican party. Capt. Fredericks referred briefly to Senator La Follette's position, declaring that the same principles the Wisconsin Senator contends for are being introduced and carried out by President Taft and his administrative forces. He said he admired the efforts of La Follette to boost himself, causing his hearers to infer that he considered La Follette's estimation of himself over-rated.

Regarding Col. Roosevelt, he said the ex-President in his endeavor to force upon the people a third term is striving to establish a dangerous precedent. He referred to objections of Washington, Jefferson and the immortal McKinley to the dangers of a President holding office longer than eight years. Capt. Fredericks hooted

AMERICANS BATTL GANG OF MEXICA

OXNARD, May 2.—A thrilling tale of how ten Americans, among them two Oxnarders, who have been located on a ranch owned by Oxnard capital and known as the Hacienda Quimichis, battled with Mexican rebels for three days, was contained in a communication received today by Dr. W. R. Livingstone, from one of the members of the party, Killian Stimpson, a local boy. The startling tale tells how Americans on the west coast are being harassed.

A few days ago, according to the word received, a band of rebels numbering 150 appeared at the Hacienda and demanded admission under a flag of truce. Members of the band entered with drawn revolvers and demanded $600 in money. They were given $150, departed and returned the next night and were refused admittance, when they began to open fire on the Americans, who returned fire. Several of the rebels were killed, and they retreated. The steamer brought five refugees. They are Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Waugh and Mrs. O. L. Emlay and two children. They come from Ricon Antonio, a station on the Tehuantepec National Railroad, 100 kilometers north of Salina Cruz. Waugh is trainmaster of the line. Mrs. Emlay is the wife of the train dispatcher stationed at that place.

"Peace prevails on the isthmus, though soldiers are constantly on the move," said Mr. Waugh. "I am coming out in an effort to get rid of the malaria, and myself and Mrs. Waugh plan to go back after a few weeks' rest. Mrs. Emlay is coming out to put her two children in school. We were never bothered by rebels or any one else. The only thing that would put the lives of Americans in danger would be intervention. We have several hundred men employed on the railroad. Nearly all of them are Mexicans and all are loyal to the government. The only trouble on the isthmus is being experienced with some Indians down in the far end, who do not approve of the appointment of a jefe politico. They are doing some fighting, but Americans are not being troubled. A few families living on ranches have come into port of Mexico and Salina Cruz for safety, but that is all."

The Arizona brought 2200 tons of freight for this port. Included in this cargo are three carloads of Mexican mahogany cut in large slabs. This is valued at $15,000. The wood will be used in this country for the manufacture of cigar boxes.

READY TO FIGHT.

San Diego's three militia companies, the Fifth and Eighth of the Coast Artillery Corps, and San Diego division, Naval Reserves, are ready to volunteer for service in case intervention in Mexican affairs is decided by the Federal government, according to authority of officers of the companies.

For three weeks past recruiting has progressed until now it is said the companies in strength are almost up to the standard required for war footing.

According to officials of these companies the members are ready and willing in case they are needed to enlist as volunteers for such time as the Federal or State authorities would deem necessary. The companies are also drilling with more regularity than usual. The naval reserves, especially, are practicing on gunnery and will continue to hold regular drills and practice at stated times. To assist in the work of proficiency the Navy Department has detailed Ensign McLean, of the parent ship Iris, to regularly instruct the naval reserves in their various duties. This course will perhaps take details of the militia aboard the Iris for drill and gun practice.

Lieutenant Barthalow of the United States Navy, and Lieutenant Chris. Bauer of the N.G.C. of San Francisco, were here last night when they instructed the local division, naval reserves, in gunnery necessary for target practice.

For the annual cruise of the naval militia an interesting tour has been selected. According to Lieutenant Bauer the Marblehead will probably be brought to San Pedro with a skeleton crew. The San Diego and other Southern California divisions will be taken aboard there for a "shake down" trip to San Francisco. The itinerary then includes a start July 6 for Puget Sound points. Stops will be made at Eureka, Astoria and Portland. At the latter place the crew will be an added attraction during the Elks' reunion. From Portland the itinerary will include Port Angeles, Seattle, Tacoma, Everett, Bremerton, Victoria and probably Vancouver. Target practice will be held in Puget Sound.

In the event the Marblehead is not sent to San Pedro the San Diego division will make the trip to San Francisco by steamer.

San Diego will send more than 1000 visitors to Los Angeles next week. The excursion committee of the Chamber of Commerce is arranging to run a special train over the Santa Fe. The date has not been determined. It will be either Tuesday or Thursday. The latter is San Diego day at the Shriners' convention and the committee is considering whether or not the larger part of the San Diego crowd will wait until that late in the week to take the trip. Some members of the committee, it was stated this morning, favor sending the special train Tuesday, which is the date of one of the big parades. Nearly all of the local Shriners will go Saturday and Sunday. The Arab patrol expects to leave Saturday morning.

For the number of marriages in San Diego in one month April broke all records. County Clerk J. T. Butler issued 113 licenses. The next previous high water mark was June, 1911, when 110 licenses were issued. Recent licenses issued were to the following couples: Benjamin F. Royer, 42, Capitola M. Buck, 35, Los Angeles; Hugh A. Wayne, 25, Elaida Heywood, 22, San Diego; Clyde B. White, 24, San Bernardino, Jane Hampton, 24, Los Angeles; Felix Landis, 24, El Cajon, Alice T. Nesch, Kansas City, Mo.; Herbert A. Bradley, 21, Ruth M. Grimes, 18, Escondido; Claborne R. Wheelock, 49, El Centro, Cora E. Wporth, 38, National City.

SUPERINTENDENT IS SHOT.

SAN JACINTO, May 2.—W. H. Stanley, superintendent of the Cahuilla Indian reservation, was shot today by one of the Indians under his charge and will probably die. The bullet entered the victim's breast three inches below the heart and is still in the man's body. The difficulty was caused by a quarrel over land and the man who did the shooting grabbed the gun from a policeman and fired it before the weapon could be recovered. The Indian is under arrest.

Best of Campaign.

FREDERICKS ENTHUSES SAN DIEGO REPUBLICANS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The most enthusiastic of all Republican meetings of the present campaign held in San Diego was that tonight addressed by Capt. J. D. Fredericks, District Attorney of Los Angeles. The U. S. Grant Hotel assembly-room, capable of holding 2000 persons, was filled.

Capt. Fredericks spoke with a ring of true Republicanism. He spoke of the prosperity and growth of San Diego and all of California, which, he said, was due to the splendid system of the protective tariff introduced and maintained by the Republican party. Capt. Fredericks referred briefly to Senator La Follette's position, declaring that the same principles the Wisconsin Senator contends for are being introduced and carried out by President Taft and his administrative forces. He said he admired the efforts of La Follette to boost himself, closing his hearers to infer that he considered La Follette's estimation of himself over-rated.

Regarding Col. Roosevelt, he said the ex-President in his endeavor to force upon the people a third term is striving to establish a dangerous precedent. He referred to objections of Washington, Jefferson and the immortal McKinley to the dangers of a President holding office longer than four years. Capt. Fredericks hooted the idea of linking the name of Lincoln with that of Roosevelt. He recalled that great sentiment of Lincoln who, on taking the oath of office for the second time, said: "With malice toward none and charity for all."

"Think of Roosevelt with his well-known temper for falling out with every one who could not agree with him declaiming such a sentiment," said the speaker. "He might twist it by saying 'with charity for none and malice toward all—who do not agree with me,'" said the speaker. Capt. Fredericks spoke of liberalism in politics and in enforcing the laws of the country. "Why, bless you," he said, "the most liberal man of the leaders of the Republican party is William H. Taft." The applause of the crowd showed it agreed with him.

Capt. Fredericks also declared that the most progressive of all Republicans is President Taft and that the Republican party is the most progressive of any and that all the progress of this great nation is due to the policies and the wise administration of the Republican President. He predicted a complete victory for President Taft in the primary and in the election next November. The meeting was attended by a large number of women. W. W. Bowers, who stated he has voted for every Republican candidate for President since 1856, was chairman. Capt. Fredericks left on the Owl train for Los Angeles.

AMERICANS BATTLE WITH GANG OF MEXICAN REBELS.

OXNARD, May 2.—A thrilling tale of how ten Americans, among them two Oxnarders, who have been located on a ranch owned by Leonard capital and known as the Hacienda Quimichis, battled with Mexican rebels for three days, was contained in a communication received today by Dr. W. R. Livingstone, from one of the members of the party, Kilburn Stimpson, a local boy. The startling tale tells how Americans on the west coast are being harassed.

A few days ago, according to the letter received, a band of rebels numbering 150 appeared at the Hacienda and demanded admission under a flag of truce. Members of the band entered with drawn revolvers and demanded $600 in money. They were given $150, departed and returned the next night and were refused admittance, when they began to open fire on the Americans, who returned fire. Several of the rebels were killed, and they retreated temporarily, when the party, consisting of five women, five men and two children, made their escape, leaving behind all personal property and taking only guns, ammunition and money. All through the night they fled, pursued by members of the rebel band and when morning dawned embarked down the Chiflon River in canoes. Later they left the boats and started on foot for Puerto del Rio. There they learned that the Mexicans had sworn to "get" them, a special messenger bringing the news.

For three days and three nights they continued their flight by water, with the party of rebels following, some on shore and some in boats. They had practically no food or sleep during that time, fearing to land and take chances on an attack from behind trees or bushes.

They were finally picked up by a gasoline launch and taken to Mazatlan, where, they report, are hundreds of refugees, all of whom have had some harrowing experiences

GAVE LIQUOR TO SMALL BOY.

SAN BERNARDINO MAN ARRESTED FOR ALLEGED OFFENSE.

Incarcerated Dentist Makes Messenger of Minor and All Get Into Trouble—City Pavilion Is Secured in Which to Hold High School Graduation Exercises.

SAN BERNARDINO, May 2.—William Kiefer was arrested today charged by Probation Officer M. A. Bagley with furnishing a minor with liquor. The minor is a son of Attorney J. W. Stephenson. It is charged that the boy obtained the liquor for Dentist Arthur W. McDavit, who is serving a year in the County Jail for mistreating Miss Jessie McDonald. He is alleged to have held Miss McDonald a prisoner in his offices for eighteen months.

Stephenson was his attorney, and the lawyer's family has been having dental work done by McDavit at the County Jail to pay off the money owed Stephenson for defending the dentist. The boy had called on the dentist in this connection, and was given fifty cents and a small vial and told to hold the vial up in Kiefer's saloon and the latter would know what was wanted.

BREAKING LAW.

Seven business men of Chino were named in complaints made today that boys of the George Junior Republic were being supplied with tobacco in one form or another. Officials of the institution made an investigation and then filed charges.

The investigation is said to have disclosed the fact that older boys bought the tobacco and then returned to the institution and distributed it among the younger ones.

Orange County Sugar Concerns Will Be Utilized by Moving Picture Concerns for Educational Film.

SANTA ANA, May 2.—Arrangements have been made with the Southern California Sugar Company and the Santa Ana Co-Operative Sugar Company by a moving picture concern for the taking of a series of moving pictures of the sugar beet industry. It is proposed to show every step from the breaking of ground and the planting of the sugar beet to the time of sacking the pure white product of the factory. Pictures will be taken showing the Santa Ana Co-Operative Sugar Company plant in the course of construction. The sugar beet industry has come to be one of the greatest industries of this county.

HELD TO ANSWER.

Today Mrs. Kate Measor was held to answer in the Superior Court on two charges of violation of the Wylie local option law in that she sold liquor in no-license territory. Her bond in each case was fixed at $500. The principal witness against the woman was Deputy Sheriff G. C. Law, who bought beer from her, she thinking he was a farm hand.

NEWS BRIEFS.

A Roosevelt meeting at the Grand Opera House tonight was addressed by S. C. Evans of Riverside, a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congressman, and by Gov. Johnson. C. S. Crookshank presided.

The railroad committee of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce has interviewed the Pacific Electric in regard to the completion of the double track of the Santa Ana line between Buaro station and Bennedict station, and stated that it hopes the work will be done this year. The committee asked the Pacific Electric to put toilet accommodations on its suburban lines, and the suggestion was received with favor.

Marsh, 25, both of Los Angeles; Joseph F. True, 31, of Los Angeles and Minnie Christiensen, 25, of Garden Grove; Byron F. Record, 24, of Los Angeles, and Ila M. POTATO MARKETING BEGINS.

Imperial Valley Product Will Soon Be on Los Angeles Market in Satisfactory Quantity.

BRAWLEY, May 2.—Among the ranchers who are devoting considerable attention to the cultivation of potatoes are H. O. Stahl and C. D. Schindler, who have twenty-five acres planted. John Cady and E. H. Erickson also have large acreages planted to this vegetable, which will net them large returns for their labors.

Digging this year's crop of potatoes has just begun, although this is only preliminary to the marketing that will come within the next few weeks. The successful cultivation of potatoes, in this section of the valley has been the ambition of a number of successful ranchers of Brawley and this season's crop of seventy acres, which should produce at a conservative estimate, twenty carloads, is being watched with keen interest, as this crop will produce approximately $16,000 for the farmers.

HIGHWAY WORK.

At last work has begun on the National Highway from Brawley, as Charles Bigelow, official pathfinder for the Ocean to Ocean Highway Association, has left Brawley with a large and complete camp outfit and teams to begin the work. Bigelow commenced work at the terminus of the cultivated section of Imperial Valley on the west shore of the Salton Sea, where the road begins which was recommended as a part of the National Highway by Engineer Bright of San Bernardino and C. K. Clarke of Los Angeles.

Fred Fuller, an enthusiastic and intrepid pathfinder, with a stripped Reo machine drove from El Centro to Yuma through the sand hills east of Holtville. Fuller made a remarkable run, covering the entire distance in six hours.

D. H. Williams, at whose proposal Fuller made the record run, has driven over the road several times and believes that with little effort a good road can be maintained at all times direct from Holtville to Yuma.

MILO MAIZE.

A. L. Smyth raised a phenomenal crop of milo maize on eighty acres of land last year and this season has 160 acres of very early corn. This season's acreage will produce double the crop of that of last, as well as producing two crops.

WANT MAIL DELIVERY.

Escondido Chamber of Commerce Takes Steps to Bring About City Service as Quickly as Possible.

ESCONDIDO, May 2.—President Edgar B. Buell and Secretary J. H. Heath have been asked by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce to secure the necessary data for making the application to the Postmaster-General for the free delivery and collection of mail in this city, whose postoffice will be ranked as first-class July 1, and whose gross receipts for the fiscal year will be several hundred dollars more than the $10,000 which is one of the requirements for the free delivery service. The directors have also urged owners and tenants of houses and places of business to immediately comply with the recently adopted ordinance of the City Trustees for numbering and is encouraging street grading and paving.

GRAPE DAY PLANS.

Recognizing the good publicity work which has been done by the holding of four grape day festivals the Chamber of Commerce has asked W. E. Alexander, president of the last two celebrations, to call a meeting very soon for organization for the 1912 festival. The chamber has also invited the San Diego Realty Board and the San Diego Council of the Commercial Travelers' Association to hold outings in Escondido during the summer. It has also adopted a resolution of appreciation of the publicity work being done by James A. Jasper, an employee of the county, working under direction of the Supervisors.

S. E. Rice, for several years a resident of Escondido, died last night, leaving a widow and two sons. The funeral will be held Saturday forenoon, Rev. E. M. Hutchens, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, officiating.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Bancroft, mother of S. T. Bancroft, a native of Syracuse, N. Y., was held yesterday.

The Escondido band has reorganized for the season with Claude Heston as leader and manager, Henry Ihrig as librarian and Charles Hinman as treasurer.

W. C. Anschuetz, who was secretary of the 1911 Grape Day Committee, has resigned his position and will leave on Saturday for St. Louis, where he will be associated in business with his father, Carl Anschuetz.

JUDGE STAKES PRISONER.

Fines Man for Being Drunk and Disorderly and Allows Him Time to Collect a Debt.

REDLANDS, May 2.—After fining L. Arenas $10 upon his pleading guilty to the charge of being drunk and disturbing the peace of the town of Mentone last night, Justice McIver today gave the prisoner an opportunity to go unchaperoned to the home of a party in Mentone to secure the money. Arenas alleged that twice the amount of the fine was due him. He was asked how long it would take him to get the money.

"I have no money to pay my car fare, judge," he said, speaking through the interpreter, Constable J. A. Rivera. "It is your duty to furnish me that amount."

Justice McIver reached down in his jeans and produced a ten-cent piece, which he handed the prisoner. Arenas left, returning within an hour with the coin.

WILL ERECT A CROSS.

Ventura Club Will Cut Stately Pines and Reconstruct a Landmark—An Electrical Plan.

VENTURA, May 2.—The E.C.O. Club of this city, which has in hand the restoration of the old Mission cross on the hill has determined to erect a wooden cross thirty feet in height.

It will be made of pine trees obtained from Topa-Topa mountain, where the Indians in early days secured the timbers used in the erection of the Mission church and in the building of the original cross on the hillside. Permission has been obtained from the government to cut the timber from the reservation.

A scheme is afoot to have the cross lighted with rows of incandescent lights each night.

SPECIAL TRAIN FROM THE BELT.

RIVERSIDE PEOPLE COMING TO WITNESS THE RACES.

Riverside Jealous of the Fame of San Gabriel and Wants Something Similar—Jeweler Who Attempted to Slay His Wife Says He Is Very Sorry He Did It.

RIVERSIDE, May 2.—The road races at Santa Monica and the mission play at San Gabriel are the drawing cards which have made it possible to charter a special train to accommodate Riversiders who will leave Saturday morning to attend one or other of the events.

The idea of making Riverside a second Oberammergau was a sentiment cherished by Frank A. Miller, and other Riversiders for some time, and Mr. Miller went so far as to arrange to have authors submit sketches of a mission play, which he hoped to stage here in connection with the cloister music-room of the Mission Inn.

John McGroarty, Mr. Miller knew, was the ideal man to plan a pageant of this character, and it is recognized here that it would be hardly feasible to work out in Riverside what is possible at San Gabriel. Riverside is short on missions, and it is a common saying that Frank Miller would be willing to give $100,000 for one.

The Interstate Telegraph and Telephone Company, a subsidiary of the Southern Sierras Power Company, which is gridironing Riverside and San Bernardino counties with power lines, has filed with the County Recorder a deed of trust for half a million dollars. The mortgage is in favor of the International Trust Company.

The transaction is said to be for the purpose of paralleling the power lines of the Southern Sierras Company with telegraph and telephone lines, for the convenience of the company and its patrons. Duplicates of the trust deed will be filed in San Bernardino, Kern and Inyo counties. A three-phase transmission line is now in course of construction from Bishop to San Bernardino.

ran amuck yesterday and attempted to murder his wife with a razor, afterwards attempting to end his own life, today expresses regret over the attack on his wife, but says he is sorry that he did not do a better job with regard to himself. The woman will recover.

Information will be filed against Dessum Saturday, charging him with assault with intent to commit murder.

A number of Riversiders this morning witnessed a test of three wells on a 2000-acre tract, recently taken over by O. B. Hinsdale and other Los Angeles developers at the head of Box Springs grade. There are nine other wells in the tract, put down a number of years ago by George I. Lamy and associates.

On connecting the air compressor, there were secured from the three wells tested, twenty-eight, forty and forty-four inches respectively. If the tests shall prove satisfactory, pumping plants will be installed and a large acreage will be developed for citrus and deciduous fruits.

RECREANT GIRL WANTED.

Redlands Working Woman of Tender Years Sought by the Police of Several Cities.

REDLANDS, May 2.—Lena Baker, who left this city suddenly yesterday afternoon, is alleged to have stolen $25 and a number of articles from her room mate, Miss Clara Rudolf, and another friend in a local hotel. She is supposed to have gone to Los Angeles and the police of that city, San Diego, San Bernardino and other cities have been notified. She was employed in one of the local packinghouses, but asked for a half holiday. A complaint charging embezzlement has been filed against her. She is described as being 16 years of age, five feet, six inches in height and weight 185 pounds.

NEWS NOTES.

President Mont P. Chubb of the Redlands Chapter of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Association, has appointed George W. Wilder as the Redlands representative on the General Finance Committee. This appointment was made at the request of President John S. Mitchell of Los Angeles.

The Redlands postoffice receipts for the month of April just past were $3969.65, as compared with $3491.92 for the same month last year, an increase of about 14 per cent. The local postoffice will pass in to the first class on July 1.

A large attendance is expected at the annual Sunday-school convention of Redlands district, which will be held in the First Congregational Church at 10 o'clock, tomorrow morning. The Sunday-school having the largest per cent. of officers and teachers in attendance at 10:30 o'clock will be presented with a silk flag. To Interest Children.

The board of directors of the public library have employed Stephen Schuetze of Pasadena, artist, sculptor and raconteur, to hold a "children's hour" from 3 to 4 o'clock every Saturday from 3 to 4 o'clock every Saturday afternoon. Schuetze will tell the children stories with the object of interesting them in useful books. For May the subjects will deal with the North. They are as follows: Next Saturday, "Land of the Long Night;" May 11, "The Stories Olaf Heard;" May 18, "The Men Who Sailed South;" May 25, "The New World and What the Norsemen Found There."

Boy Is Lost.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Mooney of No. 343 West Forty-sixth street, reported to the police yesterday that their 17-year-old boy, Charles, is missing. He left home as usual Wednesday morning for the Y.M.C.A. building, where he attends high school classes. He was seen at the building, but did not attend classes nor return home in the evening, and the parents are greatly worried lest harm has come to him. They have offered a reward of $100 for his return. He is 5 feet 11 inches tall, weighs 135 pounds, is slender, slightly stooped, fair, brown hair, gray eyes, round of face. He was wearing a gray sweater, gray suit, silkskin shoes, gold-rimmed glasses and a soft hat of cream color. It is thought that he may have enlisted, as he had been much excited by reports of impending trouble with Mexico.

WAR DEPARTMENT AGREES.

Wharf and Storage Company Receives Permission to Develop Harbor Facilities.

The Pacific Wharf and Storage Company of this city received permission from the War Department yesterday to proceed with one of the most extensive development works yet undertaken on the east side of the harbor at San Pedro.

The work to be undertaken embraces the construction of a bulkhead approximately 10,000 feet in length and the dredging of slips and creation of an area of about 300 acres of land where there is now from six to fourteen feet of water.

Application was made by the company several months ago for permission to proceed with this enterprise and the reply of yesterday will start active work on the project as soon as the details can be arranged. Within the ensuing twelve months it is expected that much progress will be made on the enterprise.

The property to be bulkheaded and filled lies to the northeast of Dead Man's Island and the company's already developed wharf property. Beginning at a point at the southeast corner of this eighty-acre tract, the new project will run in a northeasterly direction to the Terminal Island shore line, until it reaches the Salt Lake Railroad property. There will be ample space for from eight to ten slips, but the full details for these have not yet been completed.

The permission received yesterday from Assistant Secretary of War Oliver provides that the attitude of the War Department in the matter is not to be understood as granting any property rights or the authorization of invasion of private rights; and the bulkhead's design must be satisfactory to the engineer officer in charge of the locality; that the United States reserves the right as against the applicant to deposit in this area any material dredged in the improvement of the inner harbor; and that the permission granted shall be inoperative if the company does not avail itself of it within two years.

Bad Work; Worse Pay.

WAR FINANCED IN BOGUS COIN.

Insurrecto Paymaster Taken for Counterfeiting.

Noted Red Revolutionist Is Caught at Douglas

Big "Phony" Plant Captured With Villareal.

A remarkable sidelight on the methods with which the two successive revolutions in Mexico have been financed, at least on the border where much of the actual fighting has been done, was shed yesterday with the receipt of news of the arrest of M. Villareal, red, revolutionist, and insurrecto paymaster, on a charge of counterfeiting.

Together with a large and complete plant for the turning out of bogus dollars and half-dollars, the noted anarchist was taken by United States officers at Douglas, according to advices received by Secret Service Agent George Hazen, in this city. To Hazen himself is due a great part of the credit for the big catch.

With Villareal were captured Jose Lopez and Francisco Torres, both on charges of enlisting soldiers for service against a friendly power. Their arrest was made under the provisions of a recent act of Congress supplementing the neutrality laws.

Villareal, with Ricardo F. Magon, Liberado Rivera and Tomas Espinosa, was convicted in the United States Court at Tombstone, Ariz., four years ago, of inciting a revolution. They were sentenced to a term of years in the Arizona Penitentiary at Florence by Judge Fletcher M. Doane.

They served their time and Magon and Rivera came to Los Angeles to organize the Junta for the support of another revolution. Magon and Rivera are now awaiting trial on a similar charge before the United States District Court in this city.

PHONY WAR CHEST.

Villareal, it is charged, began operations in the counterfeiting line as soon as he was released from Florence. On the recent trip of Secret Service Agent Hazen to Douglas, he discovered the counterfeiting plant. According to the testimony in the hands of the government, collected by Hazen, the "mint" was used to supply "money" to be used in paying off the insurrectos on the Mexican border.

It is known that much of this coin was given to the "army" all along the border States. Pieces have been picked up everywhere and witnesses are known who will testify that the alleged money was used as legal tender to the insurrectos.

Villareal is believed also to belong to the gang made up of Francisco Val-

Some of Society's "Jappyland" Leading Roles.

A number of the brilliant figures in the performance given by the city's elite for the benefit of the McKinley Industrial Home at the Auditorium last night. Under the direction of Edward H. Coates, composer of the oriental opera, was staged perhaps the most ambitious piece of amateur theatricals ever seen in this city. It was a great success.

Splendid—Brilliant.

"JAPPYLAND," DELICIOUS, AIDS A NOBLE CAUSE.

Remarkable Outpouring of Society Folk to Witness Delightful Musical Extravaganza, Given for Benefit of McKinley Industrial Home for Boys—Maids, Matrons and Men in Tuneful Songs and Pleasing Dances.

SWEET and tuneful as the pipes of Pan; colorful and bewildering as a kaleidoscope; tender as a dream of Psyche—"Jappyland."

There is no use trying to describe the brilliant performance of society maids, matrons and men at the Auditorium last evening, for the benefit of the McKinley Industrial Home for Boys. The dictionary doesn't contain adjectives enough to describe it. There are 400 persons in the cast. Each individual is deserving of 400 descriptive words. Is any further proof required?

"Jappyland" isn't a show, and it requires no press notices. It is a benefit—a real benefit. It is for a splendid cause—to enlarge a home for homeless boys. There is to be another performance of "Jappyland" at the Auditorium this evening. It is deserving of what it received last night—a house absolutely packed.

But it isn't for the cause alone that "Jappyland" deserves another capacity house. It has one coming for its own sweet sake. It is a splendid production.

There were times last evening when "Jappyland" seemed like a two-dollar-a-seat show from Broadway. These times were many. They were when the spotlight was on and everything was running with professional perfectness.

And there were other times when the production was better than a Broadway show. That was when some trembling little society bud would tip toe nervously into the spotlight and sing—oh, just a bit—nervously. Those were moments when everyone in the dark house felt a sympathetic quickening of the heart's pulsations for the poor little debutante.

But these moments, infrequent enough, had their own delightful reward. The nervous miss would be applauded into self-confidence occurred more than once that a young lady who began timidly, finished her speciality after three or four encores with the confidence of a prima donna—and with twice the appreciation.

Exit Baca.

FOURTH MEXICAN CONSUL IN YEAR TAKES OFFICE.

TEN DAYS ago The Times made the exclusive announcement that Francisco Martinez Baca, who for about six months has held the post of Mexican Consul here, had arranged to relinquish the position and that he would be succeeded in May by an official more in sympathy with a part of the Mexican population of Los Angeles and vicinity. The story was promptly denied by Senor Baca himself, who stated that he had no intention of leaving this city as the diplomatic representative of the Mexican government.

Yesterday, by appointment of President Madero, Jesus Lozano, brother of the former Consul, Antonio Lozano, succeeded to the Consulship. Baca and his family left for the City of Mexico Wednesday evening.

Antonio Lozano was appointed by President Diaz, but with the flight of that official from the republic, Arturo Elias, a friend of the provisional President, De la Barra, was named to succeed him. He in turn gave way to Baca, upon the election of President Madero. For some time past the new Consul has been vice-Consul under Senor Baca.

The unpopularity of Consul Baca began almost with his arrival in Los Angeles. The new Consul belongs to the aristocratic set in the City of Mexico and seems to have had but little patience with the common people of his native country. The upshot was that he seriously angered Los Angeles' large Mexican population.

The result of this friction manifested itself in indignation meetings where the Consul was denounced, and a request was sent to President Madero, asking that Baca be removed from office.

Senor Lozano, the new Consul, is a man about 35 years of age, and has had considerable experience in looking after the interests of Mexico in other countries. He is well known by the Mexican people in Los Angeles, and it is believed he will be a popular official, able to accomplish much here in behalf of his people.

Earn Living a Whole Year at Something Else?

"Excellent Idea," Says Supt. Francis, Gravely.

Educational Los Angeles thrilled with something very like alarm yesterday. Eighteen hundred almost panic-stricken public school teachers of the city were dazed by a report that Superintendent Francis was about to go before the Board of Education with a recommendation that every teacher in the city's service, man or woman, be forced to take leave of absence for one year, o ra specified term of years, during which time they should be compelled to earn their own living without touching their savings and without teaching elsewhere, and that if they could not present proof at the expiration of the time that they had supported themselves for twelve months at some other work than teaching, they were not again to be employed in the Los Angeles public schools.

While entirely incorrect in practice the rumor had a foundation in theory. Superintendent Francis made the statement yesterday morning that in his judgment every school teacher in order to be most competent, should give up the school room one year in at least every seven years, and possibly every five years, and earn a living for that time at an entirely different line of work.

As for making this rule obligatory upon the whole corps of city teachers at once, Superintendent Francis is entirely innocent of such a plan. "I am ready to go a good way," he said with a hearty laugh, "but I am not ready to go that far yet. I did say, and I stick to it, that a teacher ought to try himself or herself out at something else once in five or seven years, and I know of many reasons why this would prove an admirable system, one of the largest imaginable benefit, both to the

John Day,

Self-styled newspaper man, who is to be brought here from New York to face a variety of charges, among which is having deserted his bride of four days after a brilliant wedding at the Alexandria.

RECORD FOR MEANNESS.

Woman Charges She Was Deserted by Husband Four Days After Marriage, Defrauded and Penniless.

Debonair John Day, who will be brought back to this city from New York to answer charges of wife desertion and of having passed a worthless check, will find himself in more trouble when he arrives.

His wife, whom he deserted after four days of married life, says she will bring suit for divorce against him as soon as he comes. She will also ask the police to arrest him on a charge of conversion of $150 worth of diamonds that were her property before her marriage, and which she accuses him of having pawned to pay taxicab bills.

That Day did not pay all his auto hire bills, however, is attested by the Alexandria Auto Company, which holds a check cashed for Day for $35. This check was not honored by the bank. The police are collecting other alleged worthless checks cashed by Day.

Mrs. Day, who was assistant to Dr. A. C. Hummelbaugh before her marriage to Day, is living with her sister, Mrs. L. M. Lasche, who resides at No. 320 Beechwood drive, Hollywood.

When Day left her four days after their marriage at the Alexandria, he borrowed from her every penny that she possessed, she says, leaving her without even carfare to her sister's home in Hollywood. Indignant over the treatment accorded her sister, and also on account of the alleged worthless check passed on her, Mrs. Lasche told the police of the doings of Day, and a warrant was issued for his arrest.

KINDERGARTEN SUPERVISOR.

Columbia Woman Appointed to Succeed Miss Ledyard in the City Schools.

Miss Grace Fulmer, assistant to Miss Patty Hill at Columbia University, and one of the nation's best-known kindergartners, was elected by the Board of Education yesterday to succeed Miss Ledyard as supervisor of kindergartens and first grade of this city next year, when Miss Ledyard is to take charge of the kindergarten work in China.

Miss Fulmer has taught in Columbia for six years and last summer taught a class in Pasadena, where many of the Los Angeles kindergartners took work with her, and are enthusiastic in praising her as a leader full of inspiration and a woman of fine executive ability. Previously to teaching at Columbia, Miss Fulmer was connected with the Chicago Kindergarten College, as a training teacher, and went from there to the Washington City Normal.

Her work of supervising the first grades of the city will be a marked innovation in educational work here, and is introduced for the purpose of bridging the gap which educators consider exists between the kindergarten and the first grade.

Realty Record.

SIXTH AND OLIVE SELLS FOR OVER HALF-MILLION.

FOR $4000 a front foot, or an aggregate consideration of $525,000, the Los Angeles County Medical Association Building Company yesterday concluded the purchase of the southeast corner of Sixth and Olive streets from J. H. Spires. The deal, among the most noteworthy realty transactions of the year, makes definite the project of the corporation in question to erect a magnificent twelve-story office block for the exclusive use of physicians, an enterprise recently reported in The Times.

The deal had been quietly brewing for some time, but its consummation yesterday and at the staggering figure named was something of a sensation in real estate circles. The site fronts directly upon Central Park and is regarded as an exceedingly valuable piece of property and absolutely ideal for office-building purposes.

The property has a frontage of 132 feet on Sixth street and of 150 feet on Olive. The purchase price was reckoned on the basis of the Sixth-street front-foot valuation. The improvements consist of a one-story brick building, most of which is now used by an automobile-tire concern.

"Our project will surely go ahead now," said Dr. H. Bert Ellis, president of the building company, yesterday evening. "We are firmly convinced that we secured a bargain in the Olive-street corner and there can be no question that the site is the best imaginable for our purpose. It is only a question of completing the financial arrangements for the building itself now and these are progressing as satisfactorily as could be desired. Our plans are ambitious, but none too ambitious for a city whose future is as certain as that of Los Angeles. I see no reason, now that we have our site, for doubting that we will be able to go ahead with the great $1,500,000 building originally contemplated."

The building to be erected will be owned by stockholders who are members of the medical association. With the exception of the first story, which will be given over to stores, the entire structure will be occupied by the office suites of physicians. The building will be the largest and finest devoted entirely to such a purpose in the United States and will represent the last word in construction and appointment.

For the common use of the tenants of the building there will be installed in the twelfth floor a medical museum and library. Here also will be the clubrooms of the association. A portion of the same floor will be devoted to hospital purposes and will be fully equipped for all minor operations. The roof will be arranged as a roof garden and will contain an open-air amphitheater.

For the purpose of financing the project there was formed some time ago a corporation of physicians, of which Dr. H. Bert Ellis is head, and Dr. J. R. French, secretary. The directors are Drs. H. Bert Ellis, Albert Soiland, O. C. Witherbee, Stanley P. Black, J. R. French, Granville MacGowan, John R. Haynes, William H. Lewis, C. W. Bryson, E. C. Moore and C. H. Whitman.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Representatives of the City Undertakers' Association yesterday asked the Council's Legislative Committee to recommend establishment of new zones for undertakers in Hollywood, Highland Park, Boyle Heights, Wilmington and San Pedro. Such action was taken.

The City Attorney yesterday was instructed by the Legislative Committee of the Council to prepare an ordinance prohibiting the operations of mediums, fortune tellers and fakirs of similiar ilk.

The "Chinese Six Companies" yesterday appealed to the Mayor for an extension of the time within which Chinese laundries must move out of the residential districts.

Frank G. Henderson yesterday quit his job as secretary to the Mayor and took his oath of office as a member of the Public Service Board. The contest for the presidency of the board is scheduled for next Tuesday.

On the testimony of a Superior Court judge that he advised a woman against giving away her ranch in Tulare county, the woman's suit to recover the property was decided against her yesterday.

At the City Hall.

ALL UNDERTAKERS VIOLATING LAW.

SO DECLARE REPRESENTATIVES OF ASSOCIATION.

Say It Is Practically Impossible to Comply With Present Provisions of City Ordinance—Ask for Extension of Zone and Creation of New Districts.

"With possibly one exception, every undertaking firm in Los Angeles is violating the city's ordinance," declared Undertaker Bresee, Yesterday, to the Legislative Committee of the City Council. "It is an impossibility to establish undertaking concerns within the prescribed zone and have them fifty feet from any school building, church or dwelling. The ordinance should be changed. The restriction is ridiculous.

"So far as the present zone is concerned, I believe it is ample for all the undertakers necessary to serve the general body of the city; but I speak for the Los Angeles City Undertakers' Association when I say that we believe there should be new zones created in the outlying districts—say at Boyle Heights, Highland Park, Hollywood, Wilmington and San Pedro."

A member of the Pierce Undertaking Company was also present and made the same representations, with the exception that he was willing that the present zone should be enlarged to include that part of Los Angeles street situated between Washington and Pico streets, for which there was a petition before the committee.

"Not a single undertaking establishment in this city has a permit," declared Undertaker Pierce, but if the present ordinance were rigidly enforced, it would legislate all of the undertakers out of existence.

Assistant City Attorney Robinson declared that he believed the undertakers' zone should be materially enlarged and that under the present situation the undertaking business had become an absolute monopoly.

The members of the Legislative committee conceded the need of new zones being established for the outlying districts, and the subject was referred to the City Attorney and Health Commissioner for the preparation of a new ordinance, to be presented at the next meeting of the committee.

Yesterday afternoon the undertakers of San Pedro, in compliance with a request of Health Commissioner Powers, filed for submission to the Council their recommendation as to the undertakers' zone for San Pedro. The boundaries proposed are: Beginning at the intersection of Beacon and Fifth streets, thence west on Fifth to Nelson; thence south on Nelson to Sixth; thence west on Sixth to White; thence north on White to Third; thence east on Third to Beacon, thence south on Beacon to the place of beginning.

AFTER FAKERS.

SAY SPOOKS MUST GO.

F. M. Hall, assistant secretary of the League of Justice, appeared before the Legislative Committee of the City Council yesterday to support a communication from that body asking that the city adopt an ordinance prohibiting the operations of fortune tellers, mediums, crystal gazers, etc., including all classes of mystics that are operating in Los Angeles for gain.

Hall was supported in his presentation of arguments by Rudolph Kraus, A. M. Hunter and Officer Lloyd, who has been making investigations at the behest of Chief of Police Sebastian.

Various instances were cited where the investigations had showed rank fraud, and it was brought out that the money paid for city licenses for fakers of this character on the first day of May amounted to $870, while this income will continue during the next few days until all the fakers get their licenses for the month.

Members of the committee expressed themselves in favor of cleaning up the city in this regard, and a proposed ordinance presented by the League of Justice was referred to the City Attorney for the preparation of a comprehensive ordinance covering the subject. A repeal of present sections of the present license ordinance will be necessary.

SCHUETZEN PARK STILL DRY.

Officers of Schuetzen Park were before the Council's Legislative Committee yesterday, asking for an amendment of the city ordinance so that the park association may sell wine and beer to other associations that have picnics there. A petition to this effect was presented, signed by various societies that use the park. The subject was referred to the Police Commission for its report and recommendation.

NOT YET FIXED.

THOSE TELEPHONE RATES.

The Public Utilities Board still has before it the problem of fixing the rates on telephones. Yesterday Mayor Alexander and nearly all of the members of the City Council were closeted with the board, but the session adjourned at 6 o'clock without the rates having been settled.

This morning representatives of the Sunset, or Pacific, Telephone Company will be before the board to answer inquiries.

It was intimated last evening by a member of the board that the new rates would be settled tomorrow, as only a few points remained to be agreed upon.

The indications point to an adjustment of rates that will be a raise for the Home company in some particulars and a slight reduction of Sunset rates in other cases. It is understood that the vast majority of phone users—the residential sections of the city—will be affected but slightly, if at all, by the new rates, but that the changes will probably be on rates on business phones.

The object of the conference between the Utilities Board and the Councilmen yesterday was to have an understanding as to whether the board might expect to be sustained by the Council when it made its rates. The Councilmen were uncommunicative when the conference closed.

Want Time Extended.

The Chinese Consolidated Benevolent Association, commonly known as the "Chinese Six Companies," which is an organization to which Chinamen all over the United States contribute, and to which they have the right to appeal for aid when they believe their rights or properties are imperiled, yesterday sent to the Mayor a communication, stating that the Wing Hing Hong Company, to which the Los Angeles Chinese laundries belong, had appealed to it for aid in securing for the Chinese laundries of the city the same privileges and favors extended to other businesses within what has been designated by city ordinance as the residence district.

The association asks that an extension of time be given the laundries in which to move their concerns out of the prohibited territory, stating that all of the laundries hold leases on the properties occupied for from two to three years, and citing the fact that white laundries and other business concerns have been given extensions of time within which to remove. The communication was referred by the Mayor to the City Council.

Will Select Names.

The Legislative Committee of the City Council yesterday discussed the project of a general revision of the city's building ordinance and the creation of a commission for such a purpose. Some of the members believed that the city would be able to obtain the services of efficient men for this task without remuneration. The committee decided to hold the subject over one week and in the meantime select names to be considered as prospective members of the commission, from which to make recommendations to the City Council.

Saved Money on Barley.

The Board of Public Works is in the market for the purchase of 100 tons of barley. Bids will be opened May 6. The board last fall purchased 3000 tons of barley before the prices raised, paying $28 per ton, and thereby saved the city thousands of dollars over present prices.

Who Shall Feed Them?

Councilman Reed yesterday presented to the Legislative Committee of the City Council objections against the plan of the Board of Public Works giving any exclusive privilege for the supplying of meals to workmen on the aqueduct project without the privilege being subject to competitive bidding, and urged that if the privilege is not to be open to general bids, then the city should establish its own commissary on the aqueduct. The committee decided to ask Gen. Chaffee and Messrs. Sostergood, Mathews and Desmond to appear before it next Thursday to discuss this subject.

Budget Committee's Work.

The Budget Committee yesterday decided that the fire department shall have $650,000 in the next budget, which is $40,000 more than was allowed in the last budget. The City Prosecutor is to have $28,000, which is a cut of only $900 from the amount asked for by that official.

Spur Track Is Recommended.

Members of the Legislative Committee yesterday made an inspection of the site of a proposed extension of the Salt Lake's spur track on Andrews street, and decided to recommend that this extension be allowed under the provisions of the original franchise.

Will Open New Alley.

The City Engineer yesterday was authorized to prepare plans for an assessment district for the opening of an alley on the north side of the Burbank Theater, to run easterly to Los Angeles street. This will make an L-shaped alley through the block between Main and Los Angeles streets.

City Hall Brevities.

The Legislative Committee will hold a meeting next Monday at 2 o'clock to consider the model franchise ordinance. It is expected that several special sessions will be devoted to this proposed legislation.

Frank G. Henderson yesterday took the oath of office as a member of the Public Service Board. Samuel Marks is acting as secretary to the Mayor until George Baker Anderson recovers from his illness, when he will be formally appointed by the Mayor as his secretary.

P. W. Connon, an emergency employee of the street department, yesterday asked the Legislative Committee of the City Council to investigate the civil service's methods of rating him, objecting to having been placed on the waiting lists after others who had taken the examinations since he was examined. After explanations from a representative of the Civil Service Commission, the committee declined to take any action.

The Los Angeles Aqueduct Power Department has settled with John Culleton for injuries he received in Camp 6 of Division 4, last August, agreeing to pay him $500 in full settlement of his damage claims.

The City Attorney has notified the Board of Public Works that it cannot grant permissions to bridge public alleys, as this would be an encroachment upon the easement rights of the public in such alleys. This ruling was made on the application of Muse-Faris-Walker Company to bridge the alley back of the Fifth-street store.

The Legislative Committee yesterday recommended to the City Council that a district bounded by Court, Belmont, and First and Alvarado streets come under the provisions which prohibit the keeping of more than four horses in any one barn.

Property owners on Hope street yesterday asked the Legislative Committee of the Council to recommend that the proposed improvement of Hope, from First to Third streets, be done under the bond provision of the Hammond act, instead of under the cash provision. They protest that the cost is very high and that the cash proposition will work hardships on various realty owners. A decision was deferred one week.

At the Courthouse.

CAN'T PLAY THE INDIAN GIVER.

RANCH GIVEN AWAY IS HERS NO MORE IS RULING.

Superior Court Judge Testifies That When He Was Practicing Law He Advised Woman Not to Make Present of Her Property. Attorney Vindicated.

The advice given to Mrs. Christina Thompson by Judge Willis when he was a practicing lawyer that it was foolish to give her property away during her lifetime bore fruit yesterday when Judge Hutton decided that the property she had deeded to Le Compte Davis in 1908 could not be taken from him.

Abraham Thompson, far advanced in years, brought suit against Davis to quiet title to about 275 acres in Tulare county. The testimony showed that Thompson has been an incompetent person for years and that his wife attended to the business of the ranch and his other property interests.

Many years ago, Mrs. Thompson went to Jud Rush, Davis's law partner, and got him to draw her will in favor of the late Capt. Auble of the police department, the consideration being that he was to take care of her husband after she died. After Auble's untimely death, Mrs. Thompson had a new will drawn by Willis in favor of Davis. Later Willis drew a deed conveying the Tulare ranch to Davis. On these occasions, Judge Willis testified, Davis was not present or consulted. At his suggestion an agreement was included providing for the care of Thompson.

Mrs. Thompson stated at the time that the ranch was losing about $1800 a year and had nearly exhausted her resources. She wanted Davis to operate it. She had bonds and other property, the income of which was sufficient for her needs.

Davis made a $1000 mortgage on the ranch property, and this seems to have provoked the suit, together with the remark he made to Mrs. Thompson that he was thinking of selling the ranch, and if he did, he would give her $1000. She alleged in her complaint that Davis had obtained the deed by misrepresentation. The court upheld Davis's contention in every particular.

KNOCKOUT BLOW.

HOG RAISERS IN COURT.

A punch which landed flush on the jaw, and made B. D. Forbes take the count, forms the basis of a $10,000 suit for damages against T. C. Lynch, now on trial in Judge Finlayson's court.

Forbes and Lynch are in the hog raising business. The assault, according to Forbes's testimony, took place December 21, last, at the scalehouse, near El Monte, Forbes being present at the invitation of Lynch to discuss a question relating to feed for hogs.

During the course of the discussion, Forbes said Lynch alluded to "the dirty Vernoli sentiment." This led up to the assault, after Forbes had told Lynch, "I am a more moral man than you are."

Forbes asserts he was sitting on the ground and Lynch walked over and kicked him in the stomach. He squirmed out of the way, he says, and finally got to his feet. Lynch assumed a menacing attitude. He turned to walk away, when Lynch launched a blow. It was on the jaw, and when Forbes woke up he was lying on a bench, and someone was dashing water in his face. As a result of the blow, Forbes alleges, he suffers pain in the right ear.

THEY GET TOGETHER.

LAWYER'S SETTLE WATER SUIT.

A water suit filed February 19, 1910, was settled yesterday without a trial, the only known instance in the county, the attorneys say, that litigation over water rights ever failed to be fought out with all the bitterness which such suits engender.

The suit was brought by the Dunsmoor Canyon Water Company, to restrain the Mesnager Land and Water Company from interfering with the development work in La Crescenta basin. The Mesnager company claimed the water rights of the Dunsmoor company, and from time to time the suit has been called and continued.

Recently Attorneys Haas & Dunnigan, representing the defendants, and Attorney Milton K. Young for the Dunsmoor company, conferred and reached an amicable agreement. They divided the rights and arranged for bringing in new impounding dams and development. They stipulated all the details for the decree, the document covering ten typewritten pages.

This decree was signed by Judge Houser yesterday. The transaction, including its presentation, did not consume ten minutes.

The suit of the Citizens' National Bank against Laura L. Cross to determine the custodian of the contents of a safe deposit box which contains besides securities a large amount of cash, was called in Judge Finlayson's court yesterday and continued, owing to the death of the mother of Attorney Richard P. Dillon, one of the counsel in the case.

John Cross died August 5, last, leaving a large estate. Years before he had rented a safe deposit box in which were deposited the securities and cash now forming the basis of a unique suit.

Mrs. Cross claims part of the contents as her separate property, but as a question has been raised as to the proper custodian, the bank declined to surrender the box until the court adjudicates the matter.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

LONG-WINDED SUIT. Alleging that the assignment of Miles Morley's life estate in the property of his wife to his son, James F. Morley, was done to delay satisfying a judgment of the court, P. H. Hecker brought suit against father and son yesterday, asking that the assignment be set aside. The complaint states that judgment for $1863.75 was obtained against Miles Morley. Suit had been pending in the Superior Court more than five years.

IN THE INFERIOR COURTS.

Woman Who Belabors Man's Face With Club Pays One-Cent Fine, Smallest in Local History.

Police Judge Chambers imposed the smallest fine ever demanded in a local Police Court yesterday.

Mrs. Katherine Vasques was fined one cent on the charge of battering the countenance of Lomita Velasquez.

The woman smiled at the fine, and prepared to depart. But Dave Martin, the clerk, sternly reminded her of the copper that was due the court. She paid.

Mrs. Vasquez, who lives at No. 636 Date street, found Velasquez lying recumbent in her front yard. Indignant, she called to him to arise and depart. No answer. She procured a short, stout stick, and belabored the man over the head.

Then Velasquez became very much awake, and was highly enraged. Calling a passer-by to bear witness, he secured a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Vasquez, saying that he had become fatigued and could walk no farther than Mrs. Vasquez's inviting lawn.

Judge Chambers thought Velasquez got all that was coming to him, minus the penny.

Frame-Up Discovered.

Stating that he had issued a complaint against Sam Bernstein, jeweler, No. 314 South Main street, on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, in good faith, Deputy Prosecutor Gardner in Judge Chambers's court yesterday made a motion for the dismissal of the case against Bernstein when he learned that the complaining witness, Leonard Goodwin, had been sent to buy the watch by William Perke, a competitor of Bernstein. The defendant was discharged.

Goodwin admitted that he bought a watch on the request of Perke. Attorney Willis, who represented Bernstein, drew from Goodwin that he did not believe Bernstein when the jeweler asserted the watch was a high-class timepiece. Judge Chambers said that conspiracy to defraud would be the proper complaint to bring against Bernstein.

Her Heavy Resistance.

After Judge Rose had sentenced Henry Myler, colored, to thirty days in jail on a battery charge, yesterday, the wife of the prisoner grew loud in her complaints of the brand of justice dealt to her spouse.

So obstreperous did she become that Patrolman Browning was instructed to put the woman out of the courtroom. She weighed over 200 pounds and resisted with every pound, and two reporters went to the patrolman's aid. Biting and scratching, Mrs. Myler was with difficulty led out of the room and down the stairs.

Henry Moore, a friend of the prisoner, protested regarding the treatment accorded Mrs. Myler, and made such a racket in the hallway outside that he was arrested on the charge of disturbing the peace. He will appear this morning before Judge Frederickson.

A Long Vacation.

"What do you do for a living?" asked Judge Frederickson yesterday of Mrs. Sadie Gray, before he sentenced her to serve 180 days in the City Jail, for having committed several burglaries.

"What do you suppose, judge?" was the reply.

The court asked no more questions, but imposed the sentence.

Bailiff Singleton, while escorting the woman to the matron's department, advised her to make the most of her sentence, and secure a job of washing dishes in the matron's part of the jail.

"Let them try to make me work," cried the defiant prisoner.

MAKING IT HOT FOR HIM.

Additional indictments against G. P. Green, former treasurer of the Examiner, may be returned by the grand jury today, according to Chief Trial Deputy Horton, who is handling the case for the State. It is said that the books and the testimony of the two witnesses who appeared at the presentation of the case before the grand jury several days ago are sufficient for other indictments for alleged embezzlement.

SUIT AGAINST HARPER.

A suit brought some time ago by a local sporting-goods store against former Mayor Harper and others was set for trial in Justice Reeve's court yesterday, but by consent of counsel was further continued. Plaintiffs are seeking to recover $250 alleged due on goods sold the defendant.

HE PROMISES TO PAY.

The non-support case against Charles F. Casey was continued yesterday by Justice Young upon the promise of the defendant to pay his wife $50 a month for the support of herself and children.

HUSBAND IN TROUBLE.

Deputy District Attorney Graham yesterday issued a complaint against Alonzo Dixon of No. 2042 St. Elmo street, charging him with failing to provide for his wife and children. The preliminary hearing will be before Justice Reeve the 10th inst.

SAGE TEA USED BY OUR GRANDMOTHERS TO DARKEN THE HAIR

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair and are fast following suit.

The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready-to-use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. As a scalp tonic and color restorer this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers.

The growth and beauty of the hair depends on a healthy condition of the scalp. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy quickly kills the dandruff germs which rob the hair of its life, color and luster, makes the hair strength, color and beauty, and makes it grow.

BOYS CENTER OF CONTEST.

Superior Court Judge Sends Them to McKinley Home Pending Adjudication of Father's Affairs.

The struggle between Gorham Tufts, Jr., and his first wife for the custody of their two boys, Fletcher and Warner, was temporarily settled yesterday when Judge Wilbur made an order to detain the lads in the McKinley Home until June 28. By that time it is believed that the criminal cases against Tufts will be settled and the court can determine which of the parents should have permanent possession of the children.

The compromise between Attorney Francis H. Boland, representing Mrs. Mary H. Tufts, and Willedd Andrews, counsel for the respondent, was reached after a vain attempt was made to introduce testimony tending to show the first Mrs. Tufts is not a fit person to have her boys. The court ruled against the introduction of any such evidence.

Tufts made a brief speech to the court yesterday morning in which he said he has forgiven his enemies, and wants some peaceful settlement of the controversy.

The divorce decree awarded Tufts several years ago by a Chicago judge is to be reopened on the charge of fraud and misrepresentation in connection with obtaining the decree. If the decree is vacated then Mrs. Tufts No. 2 may ask for an annulment of her marriage on the ground that Tufts was already married when the ceremony with her was performed.

ALLEGED BURGLAR BAGGED.

Detectives Say They Made Important Capture—Loot Found Hidden in a Barn.

Detectives Rich and Roberds arrested William Christ on South Los Angeles street, late yesterday afternoon, and lodged him in the City Jail on the charge of burglary. The detectives state that the capture is one of the best made here in months, as Christ is suspected of more than one big job.

Christ is charged with entering the room of Miss Nettie McDougall, at No. 526 Maple avenue, and taking old Mexican gold and silver jewelry valued by Miss McDougall at $200, some old Mexican and United States coins, and $76 in money.

Christ is alleged to have hidden the jewelry and old coins in a barn on Hunter street, and to have gone on a tour of the downtown cafes, in one of which he was arrested. The officers recovered all of the looted articles, but $46 of the money, which Christ is supposed to have spent in ten hours.

NO TALK; NO FEE.

H. W. Pohlman, the recalcitrant witness before the Federal grand jury, will be heard in the United States District Court this morning. He called upon Judge Wellborn yesterday in relation to his witness fees. Some time ago application was made to Special Counsel Lawler, on behalf of Pohlman, that he be paid for his attendance on the sessions of the grand jury, but that official refused to give Pohlman any encouragement, telling him that he (Pohlman) would get just what the law allowed him and when the money was due under the rules of the court. Judge Wellborn took no action in the matter, and further efforts will be made by Pohlman to secure his per diem and travel pay from Seattle to this city and return. He is still being held here under the subpoena.

UNDER FALSE PRETENSES.

Justice Forbes held Anthony Bigoty to answer to the Superior Court on a charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses. The complaining witness, Sam Erman, said he was employed by the defendant to put some plumbing and gas fixtures into a house on Avon street which the defendant claimed to own. The witness said he later learned that the man did not own the place and therefore he was out his time and the materials. Bond was fixed at $350.

CAN'T FURNISH BAIL.

Antonio Pedone, a shoemaker living on San Pedro street near Thirty-first, was arrested by Constable Woodbury yesterday afternoon upon a charge of enticing persons into his shop. Deputy District Attorney Joos, who issued the complaint, said there were numerous complaints of vicious conduct by the man. Justice Young fixed bail at $5000 and set the preliminary examination for the 13th inst. Pedone went to jail. He protests his innocence.

MISUSE OF MAILS.

John W. Davis, alias Frank D. Teller, was lodged in the County Jail yesterday on a warrant sworn to by Postal Inspector Webster, charging Davis with sending improper matter through the mails. Davis was caught by means of a decoy letter sent him in reply to an advertisement in a city paper inquiring for a girl to do stenographic work.

IN HANDS OF JURY.

Judge Wellborn of the United States District Court will deliver his charge to the jury in the Frank E. Tennant embezzlement case this morning. It has been an action full of curious developments. Tennant is alleged to have stolen articles from the mails, and to have sent them to a woman in Denver.

MEXICAN COMMON SIX PER CENT

Increased Balance Ass Steady Dividend.

Sales Are Doubled by Ne Standard Contract.

Company Prepares to Hand Greater Business.

Directors of the Mexican P troleum Company describe the qua terly dividend of 1 per cent. to paid May 24, as a "regular dividend which means that dividends on t common stock will be resumed. Pri to the revolution against Diaz t initial dividend on Mexican Commo was declared and then dividends wer discontinued.

The common stock outstandin amounts to nearly $32,000,000, an the company also has outstandi $12,000,000 in 8 per cent. non-cum lative preferred, on which 3 per ce was paid in the last six months 1907, and 8 per cent. per annum pa since.

Increased activity is manifested i Mexican Petroleum Company, Ltd. common stock. The company has re cently closed a contract with the Standard Oil Company, increasing it consumption by 6500 barrels a day thus giving the Mexican company a output of 33,000 barrels. Last year's daily average delivery was 14,500 barrels. On the basis of the pres ent contract, figures for 1912 will make an average of 26,500 for four months, and 33,000 for eight months making a complete average for the year of 30,333 barrels a day. This is an increase in business of more than 110 per cent.

In 1911 the Mexican Petroleum Company, Ltd., earned a balance of $1,485,705 for its common stock, after 8 per cent. had been paid on the preferred. This is equivalent to more than 4½ per cent. on the outstanding common.

From Wall street comes the statement that this year's charges will be increased by $78,000 interest on $1,300,000 ten-year, 6 per cent. convertible first lien and sinking bonds. The 110 per cent. increase in business of course, will not double the net profit, for expenses increase with the larger business handled. Nevertheless there should be, it is said, a large increase in the balance available for the common stock. Some estimates go so far as to double the 1912 balance, but a 50 per cent. increase would give earnings for the year of over 6 per cent. after 8 per cent. on the preferred.

More Barstow Rumors.

Wildcatting on the desert in the vicinity of Barstow gives rise to rumors reaching Los Angeles yesterday and several days ago that oil has been struck. Whether these reports will develop spots of oil similar to those said to have been found in the original Kramer well several years ago, or whether nothing has been struck, is now a speculative matter. No confirmation of the latest supposed strike has reached Los Angeles. The Chicago Oil Company claims, it is said, to have made the more recent strike. This company has been drilling the past several months on the edge of the Barstow-Kramer field, nine miles northwest of Barstow.

A number of people living in San Bernardino and Los Angeles, who are interested in the company, have received no knowledge of the supposed strike, rumors of which have come from Barstow. This company is credited with having one of the largest and best rigs in the region. From time to time reports have been sent out that the drill was in favorable formation and that all that was needed to bring in a well was to go deep enough.

Oil Notes and Personals.

The Turner Oil Company, section 2, 20-15, Coalinga, is making preparations to drill well No. 4.

Oil is showing in well No. 2 of the Midway Five Oil Company, near Taft. A fifty-foot oil stratum has been penetrated at a depth of 2300 feet. The well is close to the Hale-McLeod gusher.

Oil sands have also been entered in the Midway Five's well No. 4, at 1400 feet.

William P. McIntosh of Los Angeles, who is interested in the Ft. Wayne-California Oil Company, is at Maricopa inspecting the property.

James A. Ward, who is operating in the Lost Hills region, is now in the Coalinga field, presumably for the purpose of examining property with a view to purchase.

VANDALS ALREADY WORKING.

Police Looking for Persons Guilty of Stealing Pennants of Shriner Decorations.

Numerous thefts of Shriner pennants and decorations were reported yesterday to the police and Capt. Murray sent out orders to patrolmen on all shifts to keep on the lookout for the miscreants who are undoing the work of the street and store decorators.

At one point on Spring street a person had reached out from the third-story of a building and stripped one of the ropes of six pennants. Banners bearing the Shrine insignia are in especial favor with these altogether too enthusiastic souvenir hunters. The police will deal rigidly with any person caught.

FAILS TO SAVE HOME.

Clinton Street Householder Fights Flames but Is Severely Burned. Three Houses Damaged.

C. M. Stokes was severely burned about the hands and arms yesterday when his home at No. 3117 Clinton street was consumed by flames emanating from a leaking distillate feed pipe connected with a kitchen range. A brisk wind fanned the fire carrying it to the residences of Henry Hancock, No. 3121 Clinton street, and H. B. Wiley, No. 3110 Upper Boulevard. The last two houses were partially burned. The fire department places the damage at $1200.

Stokes was busy in his garden when he discovered the flames in the kitchen. He rushed inside and threw a pail of water on the burning distillate, which scattered and spread to all parts of the room, some of the blazing liquid falling on his arms and hands. He rushed into the yard and thrust his arms into the loose earth, thus saving himself much pain. A doctor was called to attend him. The fire soon was communicated to all parts of the house, and spread to the buildings adjoining.

Firemen soon had the flames in the three houses under control. Only one of the houses, that of Stokes, was insured, there being $2000 insurance on the house and $1000 on the contents.

Solar Plexus.

A SWIFT PUNCH FOR SCIENTISTS.

PRACTICAL GEOLOGIST LANDS HARD ON THEORY.

Pioneer Oil Man Has a Package for Early Mineralogists Who Put Out of Court Idea of Petroleum in California—Testimony Strong Against Espee's Claim to Land.

The scientific geologist as distinguished from the practical mineralogist was given a solar plexus blow yesterday by W. E. Youle of this city in his testimony before Special Commissioner Leo Longley, in the hearing of the suit brought by the government to declare vacated patents to alleged oil land in the Elk Hills, now held by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company. Youle was in the oil business as far back as 1866, when he operated with Col. Drake in the Pennsylvania field.

"Scientific geologists, years ago," he said, "wrote able bulletins on the subject of the probability of finding oil in California, and they all agreed that there was none; subsequent events have demonstrated how little they know about it. There is no better mineralogist in this world than the drill, and the only one to be depended on. Scientists may talk and argue, but the drill settles everything."

Youle was in the McKittrick field as early as 1889, and upon his report to the officers of the Southern Pacific that asphaltum and oil existed in that section, President C. P. Huntington and other officers of the corporation made a trip to what has since been known as the center of the Kern River oil territory. The result of the trip was the construction of the branch of the Southern Pacific Railroad from Bakersfield to McKittrick. At that time oil was so cheap that but little development work was done, as the current prices were from 10 to 15 cents a barrel.

The witness had covered the entire Elkhorn Valley, between the Buena Vista and the Elk Hills, and visited the famous section 36, in the Elk Hills, now the subject of so much contention, and he declared that there was abundant evidences of oil. In his opinion the land was worth not less than $2000 an acre for oil alone.

A ten-foot vein of asphaltum had been located by him in that vicinity that ran 90 per cent. pure. All through the Elk Hills, he declared, were abundant evidences of the existence of oil, and he had not changed the view expressed years ago that it was one of the most promising fields in the United States.

On cross-examination, Youle declared that in spite of the fact that present developments in the Elk Hills were not such as to show the field to be a promising one for oil, he was certain it was there and gave many reasons why. His opinions were correct. But he admitted that he had never bored for oil in the field, always being deterred by conditions.

Charles W. Lamont, an old oil prospector, said that he believed there was plenty of oil in the Elk River country, but he had never actively engaged in the work there. His views were predicated entirely on the geological formation of the territory as he interpreted it with his knowledge of the profession of oil-well boring.

WAIT FOR THEIR PAY.

The work of the clerks in the registration department of the County Clerk's office is about over. The employees may have to wait until the next session of Legislature before they get their pay for May. Though the girls have expressed much dissatisfaction they have stuck to their posts. The work of sending out sample ballots is being done under special contract made with the Board of Supervisors. County Clerk Lelande has disclaimed responsibility for the conditions in the registration department and ascribes the blame to short-sighted legislators.

WRONGLY SUSPECTS WIFE.

Conrado Archuelet, who lives at No. 515 New High street, delirious from fever, imagined yesterday afternoon that his wife, who was attending him, was trying to kill him. He therefore leaped from bed and endeavored to cast himself from the window on the third story, but Mrs. Archueleta whom he imagined his enemy, worked desperately to keep him from his purpose until help arrived. He was then taken to the Receiving Hospital, treated, and strapped to a cot.

SAWTELLE ALARMED.

Burglars in the vicinity of Sawtelle have greatly alarmed the residents and complaint was made to the Sheriff yesterday. He has promised to aid the City Marshal of Sawtelle in detecting the offenders, who are supposed to be from neighboring beach towns.

FRA ELBERTUS AGAIN.

Elbert Hubbard, the man who made East Aurora famous, will lecture here Saturday evening under the auspices of the Ad Club of Los Angeles. His theme will be "Modern Business."

DEDUCTIONS DISPLACE SHOVEL.

Coroner Does Not Exhume Body of Man Whom Woman Thought Died Under Assumed Name.

Having satisfied himself by inquiry among the Masonic friends of the late W. C. Barclay, who committed suicide on April 11, that he was not known as Wade Hamilton, Coroner Hartwell decided yesterday not to disinter the body. The police department accordingly telegraphed Mrs. J. C. Rose of Hutchinson, Kan., that the body had been identified by several intimate friends before interment, and that it was undoubtedly not Wade Hamilton, whom she supposed had died here under the name of Barclay or Carstens.

The police believe that the name "Frank Hamilton," as entered in a notebook found on the body of Barclay, was that of a man who was no relation of Wade Hamilton, a friend of Mrs. Rose. They say that George Carstens, who was also thought to be Hamilton, was 31 years old, and could not have been Hamilton, who was described as a much younger man.

PROSPECTS ARE NOT SO GOOD.

Dinuba Growers Fear That Season Will Not Prove Profitable Unless Distribution Plan Is Devised.

DINUBA, May 2.—Unless some of the co-operative organizations in the dried fruit and raisin industries come to the front with an adequate plan for distribution of the peach crop and raisin output this season, there is every reason to believe that the growers will realize even less than in the season of 1911. Present speculative prices being offered by the packers have been necessary by reason of a war between the various branches of the packing industry, and as usual the grower is getting the worst of it. Early estimates of a short crop were followed by offers of the packers to fill futures at six and one-half for standards in 50's. This would enable them to purchase from the grower at 6 cents. In fact, most of the early confirmations at six and one-half were covered with 6-cent contracts.

Struggles between the packers for the eastern trade has resulted in the price being hammered down until at the present time offers to the eastern jobbing trade are being made on a basis of as low as four and one-half for standards in 50's. This would mean purchasing in the sweatbox at 4 cents.

Conservative houses are advising their eastern trade that these tactics on the part of the packers are almost sure to result in booming the co-operative marketing, and a consequent tightening of the market to as high figures as the traffic will stand, and are urging their factors to close at the 6-cent price, while the growers show a disposition to contract at a figure which will enable the shippers to cover.

The raisin situation is about the same, except that thus far the packers have refused to confirm any contracts below 6 cents for fancy, although offers have been made, it is claimed here among the growers of fancy goods as low as five and one-half. At the latter price the grower faces a chance of contracting for his raisins at two and one-quarter to two and one-half sweat box, if the packers are to come out even.

It is said that trade letters offering peaches at 5 cents for standards, and raisins at four and one-half are in the hands of the growers, secured through friendly sources in the East, and the organizers of the exchanges are making the most of them.

As a result of the speeches and organization work done here raisin day it is said a huge tonnage of the Alta raisins has been signed up.

Commission men operating in this district have completed a canvass of the muscat district, and are authority for the statement that the early raisin crop this season will probably be as short as that of 1911. The cause for the backward condition of the vines, as well as the comparative small tonnage of grapes in prospect is a puzzle to growers and horticultural experts as well.

The general opinion appears to be that unusual weather conditions of last year weakened the vines, and that this year, being the season of recuperation.

There is a theory advanced that the trouble is due to cut worms, but investigation does not appear to bear out this statement. The best figures place the shortage of crop to be anticipated as great as 30 per cent. The present development of the berries shows that the early muscats will be at least two weeks later than average.

PASTOR'S BROTHER DROWNED.

Fresno Minister Meets Widow in New York and Learns Details of Death of Kinsman.

FRESNO, May 2.—Rev. William Louch, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of this city, who went to New York after the Titanic disaster, to meet his sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles Louch, one of the Titanic survivors, returned to Fresno last night, after seeing Mrs. Louch return to England on the White Star liner Celtic. Rev. Louch's brother, Charles Louch, was lost when the Titanic sank, but his body has been recovered and as far as is known was taken to Halifax and embalmed.

"I saw five widows, whose husbands went down with the Titanic, board the Celtic, bound for England," said Rev. Louch. "How many more were on board I do not know."

According to his sister-in-law she left the Titanic in the next to the last life boat, as far as she knows. She left her husband at the rail on the big steamer and never saw him again. Although she says she was in a position where she could have looked back and seen the vessel take the dive that ended the lives of hundreds, she did not look back from the time she left the vessel. She was met by Rev. Louch shortly after her arrival in New York on the liner Carpatha and a few days later departed for her home in England. The body of Charles Louch will likely be shipped back to England fo buial.

Mr. and Mrs. Louch were on their way to Fresno to visit with Rev. Louch and his family. While they were expected, Rev. Louch did not know of their sailing on the Titanic until he saw the name of Mrs. Charles Louch among the passengers saved. He then left immediately for New York.

LAND SALE.

Another sale of West Side land including 5000 acres of the Cuthbert-Burrell ranch on the McMullen grade, was reported yesterday by L. A. Nares, who with Earl Fitzwilliams and Capt. E. H. C. Bald, English capitalists, took possession of the property. This is the second piece of property that has been purchased by the English syndicate within the past two days, the Helm ranch of 2865 acres, adjoining, being taken over Tuesday.

While the purchase price has not been made public it is reported that the two run close to the million mark. It was announced that the large ranch would be cut up and put for sale in smaller tracts. The Hanford and Summit Lake railroad runs through both properties and there are two stations on the land.

In connection with the development of this land, Nares and his associates will make a channel for the Kings river through the property. When this work is completed, Nares will have developed fifty miles of Kings River front from Kingsburg to the James ranch.

GOOD ROADS.

Now that the Raisin Day campaign has been concluded, the efforts of the Fresno County Chamber of Commerce will be devoted to the campaign for good roads in this county. W. W. Phillips, president of the Chamber of Commerce and also of the Good Roads Association, announced yesterday that meetings of the Chambers of Commerce would be held throughout the county during the next few weeks to discuss the good roads movement and the proposed bond issue. Representatives of the good roads movement will address the meetings and urge the people to get in and boost. At a recent meeting of the Coalinga Chamber of Commerce the movement of bonding the county for $3,000,000 for good roads was endorsed. Petitions calling for the bond election are now in circulation and it is reported that they are being freely signed.

QUEEN OF RACE CARNIVAL.

Annual Floral Event at Porterville Will Close Tonight With a Parade and Prize Awards.

VISALIA, May 2.—Miss Helen Hayes, a charming young woman of decided blonde beauty, has been chosen as Queen of the Roses, in the annual Rose Carnival, which is being held this week by the ladies of the Episcopal Church.

Miss Hayes's maids of honor are Misses Irma Knoble, Maurine Gilliam, Pearl Bode, and Alma Berry, and her flower girls, Louise Garcia, Rachael Hyde, Elisa and Mildred Johnson, Eugenia Beardsley and Grace Goldstein.

Programme of the opening evening proved to be especially interesting, as well as artistic. The crowning of Queen Helen was opened with a triumphal procession through Hyde Park, where the exercises were held, and after the formal coronation, an address by Mayor Cutler at the conclusion of which the golden key of the city was presented to the monarch. Musical selections by Miss Loretta Newman, Miss Bessie Kreiss, Mrs. W. R. Carlisle and Messrs Beardsley, Dinsley, Scott and Rowell brought the programme to an end. A general social hour followed.

The carnival will come to a close tomorrow with a procession, all of the carriages and autos of which are to be covered with roses. Suitable prizes will be awarded for the best and most originally decorated entries.

TRAINLOAD OF POLICEMEN.

Two Hundred Los Angeles Cops to Patrol Santa Monica and Auto Road Race Course.

A special train bearing seventeen police sergeants and 175 patrolmen will leave the Pacific Electric depot on Hill street tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock, under Lieut. Butler for the Santa Monica auto race course. These men will be sent to the beach by Chief Sebastian to help the Santa Monica police keep order in the beach city during the big races.

The seventeen sergeants who will be among the number policing the races will take stations with squads of patrolmen on the course and at various points throughout the city, the majority being on Ocean and Nevada avenues. The Santa Monica Chief of Police will pay the members of the Los Angeles police department, who have volunteered for this duty, $3.50 per day.

Regulating New Streets.

[Providence Journal:] In city planning the lay-out of large tracts of unimproved real estate should be supervised. Many of these tracts have street lines which are not in harmony with existing highways. This condition is brought about by a lack of co-operation between the property owners and the municipality. In the majority of American cities whole neighborhoods are marred by streets with "dead ends," or not properly connected with the older thoroughfares.

Believes This Will "Cure Lung Troubles"

Consumption is a disease which should not be trifled with. If the trouble is present, don't waste time in argument.

If a so-called "cold" has long persisted; if a cough is present that keeps you anxious; or any of the symptoms exist such as fever or night sweats, weakness and loss of appetite, and perhaps, some raising of mucus—do the sensible thing:—take Eckman's Alterative—as Mr. Bettersworth did.

Bowling Green, Ky., R. No. 4.

"Gentlemen:—In 1908, I had a severe cough for six months. I tried all the medicine that my friends and doctors recommended to me, but no results came for the better. At last I tried your medicine. In one week's time there was quite an improvement in my condition, and after I had taken several bottles I felt as well as ever in my life. I will gladly write personally to any party wanting information in regard to your wonderful medicine." (Signed Affidavit)

A. C. BETTERSWORTH.

CUTICURA OINTMENT HEALED BAD SORE

Scraped Flesh Off Bone Below Knee. Suffered So She Couldn't Sleep. Also Says: "I Believe Cuticura Soap is the Best Soap Made."

805 Lafayette St., Wichita, Kan. — "Some time ago I was coming up some steps when the board crushed under me like an egg shell, and my right limb went through to the knee, and scraped the flesh off the bone just inside and below the knee. I neglected it for a day or two, then it began to hurt me pretty badly. I put balsam fir on to draw out the poison, but when I had used it a week, it hurt me so badly that I changed to ointment. That made it smart and burn so badly that I could not use it any more, and that was the fourth week after I was hurt.

"Then I began to use Cuticura Ointment for the sore. It stopped hurting immediately and began healing right away. It was a bad-looking sore before Cuticura Ointment healed it, and I suffered so I couldn't sleep from two days after I fell until I began using Cuticura Ointment.

"Cuticura Soap is the best soap I ever saw. I have used all kinds of soap for washing my face, and always it would leave my face smarting. I had to keep a lotion to stop the smart, no matter how expensive a soap I used. I find at last in Cuticura Soap a soap that will clean my face and leave no smarting, and I do not have to use any lotion or anything else to ease it. I believe Cuticura Soap is the best soap made." (Signed) Mrs. M. E. Fairchild, May 8, 1911.

Cuticura Soap (25c.) and Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. A single set is often sufficient. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. book on skin and scalp treatment. Address, "Cuticura," Dept. T, Boston. Tender-faced men should use Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick.

HOT TIME.

Santa Barbara is preparing to cordially entertain Secretary of State Knox, but if the Secretary wants a really warm reception he should pay a visit to Mexico City about this time.

CAPTURING THE SEA.

If Santa Monica and the beach cities apply for admission to Los Angeles and are successfully annexed, a fine water front site may yet be offered for this city's union passenger depot and for the City Hall.

THE HABIT.

A juggler who married a woman in Los Angeles has been arrested in San Francisco on a charge of bigamy. He was so accustomed to juggling things that he tried it with his marriage license, to his grief. On the stage he juggles with plows and cart wheels, but a little slip of paper with a State seal upon it got the best of him.

MAKING THEM USEFUL.

A turtle has no business loafing around the Gulf of Mexico and Pacific Ocean points with no other visible means of support than the ungrilled steaks which he carries in his system. It has been decided therefore to force the turtle to contribute his share to the comfort and development of society by taking his shell for the manufacture of women's combs. The question now is, does the turtle hunter become a beach comber?

UP TO THE MARK.

Clever little Japan is always ready to march with the procession, and it generally gets a place close to the band wagon. For the first time in its history Japan has sent out women delegates to an international convention in its representation at the big Red Cross conference at Washington, D. C. Having learned that this is woman's day in the United States, the Mikado has evidently decided that it is a good thing and he wants in.

A BIG POINT.

In securing the promise of officials at Washington to print weather reports from Los Angeles throughout the country, the president of the local Chamber of Commerce has scored an important point. If an eastern man faces the blizzard to dig his morning paper out of the snow and reads that the temperature in Los Angeles is like summer weather, it will gradually dawn upon him that Los Angeles is the place for a man to live unless he is an Eskimo.

TAKING THE HINT.

Arizona is getting wise to the cheerful habit Los Angeles boosters have of building a handsome suburban village in a year. When the town of Bard was flung upon the map across the river from the Yuma side, the Arizonans were given an object lesson close at hand. They evidently liked the plan for a few miles from Phoenix May 10 they are going to open a new city on one of the great ranches under the Tonto Basin dam, and they are actually running a special excursion train all the way from Los Angeles for the occasion.

IN SPOTS.

Building permits for April in Los Angeles were greater in numbers than for some time. The record was characterized by the numerous permits granted to construct dwellings. Los Angeles grows all over in spots. What is a field of wild mustard and purple onion blossoms one month may be a perfectly parked, beautiful bungalow section the next. Take a car ride in almost any direction toward the outskirts of the city and if it is the first time that you have been over that line in two months you will find many blocks built and occupied which were vacant lots on your last visit there.

PROMISING.

A large canning plant will be located in the Imperial Valley in order to utilize fruit and vegetables which otherwise might go to waste. This plant and others like it in the same vicinity can handsomely succeed because the canning industry in that section is always certain, both of an abundant supply of preservables and of a wide variety. Not only has the valley a wonderful quality of tomatoes, figs, apricots and other fruits and berries, but it can be made to produce an unlimited supply of the finest asparagus on the market; and perhaps nothing in the canning business brings a better price or is more in demand than asparagus.

THE HAT BOYCOTT.

The militant suffragettes' suggestion that hats shall now be boycotted in the good cause has met with ribald jest in the London newspapers, which naturally picture the poor husbands begging wife on bended knee to buy new Easter hats. All the same, there is rather more method in their madness than would at first appear, for the millinery trade is probably one of the largest and most profitable in England and is, at its source, controlled absolutely by man. The big Lancashire hat factories, employing many thousands of hands, could easily be put out of business by a well-organised hat boycott. Then there are the wire, ribbon, tulle, flower and feather manufacturers to be considered, to say nothing of the landlords of the miles of millinery establishments in London alone.

A hatless woman is no unusual sight in California, but in England a hatless woman on the street is a curiosity. She would not consider it respectable to run in next door without a hat. That is why the proposal is meeting with such a large amount of publicity.

A BLOW FROM ROOSEVELT.

Col. Roosevelt has struck his California supporters a solar plexus blow. He has directed his Massachusetts delegates not to welch but to abide by the result of the voting contest that they invoked. If the California insurgents shall be deprived of the privilege of snatching their stakes back in case they lose, they will lose one of their most valuable political assets. It will be remembered that the Senatorial advisory law in California provided for the election of whomever should carry the greatest number of Senatorial and Assembly districts, and Works perambulated the State under a pledge to abide by the result of the district contest.

Spalding carried more districts than Works and was entitled under the law to the Senatorship. But it so happened that on the popular vote, Works obtained a slight plurality over Spalding. Thereupon the "Progressive" leaders declared that the Legislature that passed the advisory law was composed of corrupt and wicked men, who were serfs of the Southern Pacific Company and therefore the law must be disregarded and the Senatorship given to Works.

The action of the last Legislature in providing for the election of twenty-six delegates from the State at large on one ticket and making no provision for election of delegates from Congress districts, was taken in brazen defiance of the unvarying Republican practice as well as the direct call of the National Committee for the election of district delegates. The national convention is not bound by the State laws disregarding and overriding its authority, and if district conventions should now be called and district delegates elected under such call, such delegates might be admitted to the national convention.

President Taft now needs but 114 votes to win on the first ballot. Ohio, Texas and New Jersey will give 116 votes to him. Idaho, Utah and Montana will give him twenty-four more. And the thirty-six La Follette votes from Wisconsin and North Dakota as between Taft and Roosevelt will never be cast for Roosevelt, who betrayed their favorite son.

That Taft will be nominated is reasonably certain. The vote of California in the convention would not help Roosevelt if cast for him, but it would "queer" California in that it would help to withdraw the help of eastern Senators and Congressmen from her in securing protection for her citrus fruit, sugar and wool industries.

TRUE TEMPERANCE.

A dispatch from Chicago brings to all true lovers of temperance the most hopeful sign of the final abolition of the liquor evil that has yet been recorded in the annals of this country. A reduction of over 7 per cent. in the number of saloons and drinking places during the last year has been brought about in that great metropolis by the voluntary action of the drink dispensers themselves. Voluntary—that is to say—as far as surrendering their licenses is concerned. What has caused this change of heart is the fact that the consumption of alcoholic liquors has suffered a diminution, so that in the case of this 7 per cent. of the retail dealers, it has ceased to pay.

IT HAS CEASED TO PAY. There is the goal at which all true workers in the cause of temperance will direct their efforts. Make the liquor strong drink diminish instead of simply attempting to cut off the supply and prohibition will soon become a dead issue. As long as the demand for spirituous and malt products makes distilling and brewing a profitable business, so long will the most drastic prohibition measures fail to effect their object.

The plain, cold fact that the demand for strong drink in the city of Chicago has during the last year diminished by 7 per cent.—small though it be as a beginning—bespeaks a promise of complete victory for the champions of rational temperance.

When several Southern States adopted anti-liquor laws, a paean of triumph went up from the Prohibition party. Thoughtful temperance workers waited and watched results. Already the pendulum is swinging back. The outward and visible sign of the temperance principle was there, but not the inward and spiritual grace. The breweries and distilleries continued to prosper. Meanwhile for long patient years, with no flare of trumpets nor bursts of florid eloquence, temperance workers were teaching the people by moral and hygienic precepts and proofs the waste, the folly, the danger and the uselessness of alcoholic and narcotic stimulation. The teaching of scientific temperance in our public schools has done more to advance public morality than all the prohibition ordinances enforced by State, county or city authority. In Chicago the first fruit of this work has now been published. In Chicago, where as a political power the Prohibition party does not count, the teaching of temperance doctrines in an orderly and systematic fashion has begun to break the backbone of the colossus of strong drink.

This is working from the root to the branches, not simply pruning off the limbs and leaving the tap root to strike deeper. To reduce the supply without diminishing the demand only makes the business so much the more profitable for those still engaged in it. To wipe out the demand will effectually do away with the whole question. When we can write, "It has ceased to pay," over the lintels of the doors in 70 instead of 7 per cent. of the saloons in this country, when we can inscribe it on the unused wagons of breweries and distilleries, we shall have accomplished by means of education that which has been proven impossible by coercive legislation.

OUR LITERATURE.

Anglo-Saxon Americans differ in their mental make-up from Englishmen in that they possess a larger quantity of electric "juice." The American, according to Brander Mathews, "is swifter than the Englishman, slighter in build, springier in gait." Lowell remarked that "if it was a good thing for an English duke that he had no social superior, it surely was not a bad thing for a Yankee farmer."

The farmer who tills his own acres and the miner who works his own location are under no ban of caste. They rank politically and socially with authors—whether they be authors of newspaper articles, or of other works of fiction. A British literary autocrat once said that the purest English in the world is spoken in Boston. If he had journeyed farther west he might not have felt impelled to repeat the remark. In California the Argonauts were never slaves to a grammar. They were not poisoned by fixed rules. They felt at liberty to enrich the vernacular with idioms suggested by their surroundings. A command to depart which a Harvard professor would phrase by saying, "Your immediate absence will be very precious to me," a Californian of the vintage of "49 and the spring of '50" would condense into "You git." An acquiescence which a Yale graduate would express by saying, "I cheerfully comply with your request" would be uttered by the ejected one in the word "Sure." A barkeeper who was a linguist, gifted in many tongues, was asked in Russian by a thirsty Muscovite emigrant if he could make him a cocktail. There was no word in the Slavonic language that could be used for the word "cocktail" so it was spoken in English. The saloon man understood the word cocktail and he comprehended the accent of interrogation in the customer's voice. He summoned his lingual resources to his aid and replied, "Si, senor. Certainement. You bet."

Sir William Hamilton said "a premature development in the direction of the fine arts (and literature is one of the fine arts) is often enfeebling to the vigor of a new country, if indeed such movement do not prove its own destroyer."

But we in the West and especially on the Pacific Coast have long since grown out of the condition of a new country, if indeed it was ever applicable to us. Early in the last century dress coats fluttered in the shadow of the primeval wilderness and the jingle of the piano was heard ere yet the war whoop of the savage was silenced. Yet the ability and the energy of the American people were not largely devoted until within the last third of a century to the cause of letters. There were virgin lands to clear and till and iron highways to be constructed and cities to build. We had poets and novel writers, indeed, but they were not so numerous nor so fecund as in England. Our journalism is more pointed and more forceful in phrase. The London Times would say of a statesman whom it was criticising that his conduct "left very much to be desired." Its New York namesake would probably remark that the Senator was a broken-down horse thief, a liar and a Democrat.

A CONVICT'S INVENTION.

If the invention of Myers, the Arizona convict, is what it is alleged to be, the changes in the industrial world that will result will be very great. It is claimed that static electricity gathered from the air can be cheaply and effectively transformed into continuing currents of dynamic electricity. The governing factor in using this invention will necessarily be the cost of the transformation. It is claimed by Myers that the machinery for gathering and transforming the electricity is so simple and so cheap that every farmer and factory owner and householder can afford a plant. If so then light, heat and power will be greatly cheapened. But it does not follow that the present light and power companies will be put out of business. They have the wires and other machinery for distribution. Their plants for making the electric juice can be changed so that they can use the Myers invention and can probably furnish heat, light and power cheaper than an individual farmer or householder or manufacturing company can make it and still secure as great profits as they now enjoy.

The greatest advantage will inure to the ocean steamship companies, for if the invention proves what the inventor claims for it, it will enable the ships to dispense with the carrying of coal or even fuel oil for the manufacture of steam, for they can draw their power from the air as they go.

When the mechanic can with a few turns of a crank generate the power to run a loom or a lathe; when the housewife can reach into the air and capture the fuel with which to warm and light the house and cook the food; when the dweller in Los Angeles can seat himself at the wireless instrument and chat with his friend in San Francisco or Chicago, surely the millennium will be close at hand.

"Move On!"

PRAYING MACHINES.

In Thibet there is a religion fraught with convenience to sinners. The praying is done by machinery. The clergyman is equipped with a praying machine of the size and weight of a hand organ. He plants this before the front door of his parishioner, adjusts the stops to an appropriate invocation and turns the crank. At the close of this religious exercise the householder throws him a penny, and he journeys on to the next member of his congregation who happens to be in need of spiritual solace.

Mechanical supplication to the throne of grace might be advantageously introduced hereabouts among the politicians. On election morning Republicans, Democrats, Socialists, insurgents, standpatters and don't-care-a-whoopers might join in grinding out the petition, "For what we are about to receive, the Lord make us truly thankful." At night when the returns were counted the Old Guard would call for the text, "Let us sing unto the Lord, for we have triumphed gloriously. Issachar, the insurgent ass, and his rider, Roosevelt, have been cast into the sea of defeat." The progressives would join in singing,

"Have mercy, Lord, O Lord, forgive
Let a repentant sinner live."

The Democrats would chant, "Plunged in a gulf of dark despair I sink to endless woe," and the Socialists would call for the Jonathan Edwards hymn:

'The Merrimac was by the Monitor rammed
In the days of long ago.
If that ain't our fate may I be—blessed
For we have been served just so."

PROTECTION OF WORKERS.

A Democratic writer assails the Republican doctrine of protection to home industry and gravely asserts that it does not protect the workers the least little bit. He says "the wages of laborers in the unprotected industries of the United States are much greater than in the protected; and it has been shown that in the protected industries the wages are but little larger than those of European workmen. For proof, take the unprotected industries of brick and stone masons, carpenters and blacksmiths, whose wages in this country are fully twice as much as those of workers in the same crafts abroad."

Surely Congress has been unmindful of its duty in failing to protect the workers in the building trades, by levying either an ad valorem or a specific duty on skyscrapers built by cheap labor in Belgium and shipped across the Atlantic, safely deposited on the deck of a liner and lashed to the mainmast. There should be a schedule X in the tariff law levying a duty on carpenters' work boxed, masons' work barreled and plumbers' work in bottles.

The highly intellectual attainments of this Democratic writer resemble those of the orator who said: "If I had the wings of an eagle I would fly north and east and west and south and proclaim the immortal William J. Bryan President of these United States." Whereupon an unappreciative hayseed in the audience cried, "You'd be shot for a wild goose before you flew a mile."

A QUERY.

There is no land in all the world equal to our own California. In extent of territory, in variety and salubrity of climate and in fertility of soil it is unrivaled. In opportunities of fortune and in civil and religious liberty it is one of the greatest States in the first nation among the powers of earth. There is no bar of creed, or caste, or birth, or fortune between the farmer's son and the judge's gown, the Senator's toga, the Governor's chair, or even the Presidency.

American citizens owe their advantages largely to the representative republican government which our fathers framed and builded upon the rock of the Federal Constitution. Is it not our duty to transmit this priceless heritage to our children, untorn and untainted by the alterations and misrepresentations of self-seeking demagogues who have the measureless audacity to assert that Washington and Jefferson and Adams and their associates were grafters and purchased chattels who framed the Constitution of the United States under the direction of capitalists and in hostility to the interests and rights of the common people?

ROOSEVELT LOOMS AGAINST THE FARMERS.

Tillers of the soil in California are vitally concerned as to the attitude of the Presidential candidates on the tariff as it applies to California. Thousands of California voters, who wish to exercise the right of franchise intelligently at the primaries May 14, want to know how Theodore Roosevelt stands on wool and lemons and other products subject to tariff legislation.

Roosevelt has declared himself in sympathy with the views of the Johnson-Heney-Kent combination, which means but little encouragement for the many thousand farmers in the State who would like to know the probable fate of investments in citrus and deciduous fruits, sugar beets, olive orchards and sheep ranches under Roosevelt administration. Many of the prominent insurgents in California voice their disappointment that their leader cannot be induced to express himself upon any item of the tariff. It was confidently expected that Roosevelt would gain the greatest measure of his support from the country districts, but even the most sanguine partisans of Roosevelt do not anticipate an overwhelming indorsement from the sugar beet producers, the owners of lemon groves and olives and the men engaged in sheep raising.

The theory of government by the people, which the former President insists is the issue of the campaign, contains no information on topics of this kind. It makes no mention of the every-day problem of gaining a livelihood, a subject which engages the attention of most men during nine-tenths of their waking hours. In California there are a number of important industries at stake because of the combination between Democrats and insurgent Republicans, and these questions have been dodged repeatedly by every supporter of the third term advocate. Meanwhile the power of the veto in the hands of President Taft is the one assurance of protection for thousands of men and women who must continue to draw a living from the soil of California.

P. A. STANTON.

MEN AND THINGS ACROSS THE SEA.

Premier Asquith is considering a visit to Dublin, which, should it come to pass, would make him the first Prime Minister to visit Ireland while holding that office on a distinct political mission.

It is true that many Prime Ministers have visited Ireland before, but always either before or after their occupancy of that office, with the sole exception of Lord Palmerston, who was the owner of large landed estates in Ireland, and who visited the country once or twice during his premiership, though in a strictly unofficial capacity.

Neither the Earl of Shelburne, who had vast estates in Kerry; the Earl of Derby, who had an estate in Tipperary, nor Earl Russell, who had an estate in Neath, visited Ireland during their premierships. Lord Salisbury visited Ireland in 1893, in an interval between his second and third premierships, and Mr. Gladstone in 1877 and in 1878, in an interval between his first and second premierships. Sir Robert Peel, Lord Melbourne, Earl Russell, Mr. Balfour and Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman visited Ireland before their premierships in official capacities.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg published in a Paris newspaper professes to give an account of the daily movements of the Czar of all the Russias. His Majesty rises at 8:30. He breakfasts heartily and then works uninterruptedly until 1 o'clock, running through the newspapers annotated by his Ministers. At 1 o'clock lunch is taken with the family, after which the Czar takes a walk with his son. From 4 to 6 o'clock His Majesty is again in his study.

At 6 p.m. the Czar dines, the meal occupying about two hours. The Czar, it is stated, eats well, and the table is always abundantly supplied. At 10 o'clock we again find the Czar in his study. It is then that the chief of police has his audience with His Majesty, who retires to rest at midnight. His nervousness is somewhat abated, but still, says the writer of the dispatch, the Czar sleeps badly. At the time when the terrorists were asserting themselves his master had to resort to "soporifiques." The dispatch adds that the Czar's rest is less peaceful than that of his humblest subject.

The retirement from the British navy of Sir Arthur Wilson, after fifty-seven years of service, removes from the service its most distinguished member. Sir Arthur has the reputation of being the most able naval strategist of modern times. He is also known as a rigid disciplinarian and an unusually hard worker. Possibly this latter trait may have been responsible for the manner in which he concentrated so much of the direction of the navy in his own hands—a condition of affairs which is likely to be considerably altered in future in view of the recent creation of a naval war staff. Among his more recent appointments have been that of comptroller of the navy, 1897-1901; commander of the channel squadron, 1901-3; commander-in-chief of the home and channel fleets, 1903-7, and first sea lord, 1907-11.

Perhaps the most dramatic feature of Sir Arthur's whole career was the occasion on which he won the Victoria cross, and it is noteworthy that the incident in question should have occurred not on the sea, but in operations far inland. On the occasion referred to Capt. Wilson, as he was then, kept a number of Arabs at bay with the hilt of his sword, which had snapped off short earlier in the engagement.

The French programme for warship construction provides for the expenditure of over $360,000,000 between 1912 and 1920. When this is accomplished the French fleet will consist of twenty-eight battleships, ten squadron scouts and fifty-two torpedo boats. In the new auxiliary fleet there will be ninety-four submarines, four mine layers and gunboats and vessels for such special purposes as surveying, transport and naval schools.

Twelve of the proposed battleships have already been launched and the bill stipulates that two shall be completed each year. The cost of these men-of-war amounts to more than £60,000,000 apiece.

Even after the completion of this programme the French fleet will still be inferior to Germany's. France's naval supremacy in the Mediterranean will still probably be unquestioned and the general feeling among the deputies is that free naval communication between France and her North African possessions must always be a primary consideration.

Nearly anybody can get his name in some of the newspapers these parlous days by merely declaring that he is going to vote for the Roosevelt delegates in California.

If the Democrats insist upon putting the tariff on peroxide, silk stockings and laces, it is evident that they do not propose to support "votes for women" in that party.

When Col. Roosevelt gets through explaining he may take the people into his confidence and tell them where he stands on the tariff. He has been too busy so far to attend to this very unimportant matter.

Of course, it is an outrage and something awful for anybody to spend money to get the nomination from Col. Roosevelt. However, we do not understand that the Roosevelt boomers are out for their health actly.

"Why do editors send back manuscripts?" was the subject of a discussion by the Pacific Coast Woman's Press Association. One reason is because the contributors have been thoughtful enough to enclose stamps.

THE EARTH MASQUE.

The majesty and marvel of these souls
Who walk beside us in the common day,
Or hail us like a cry from out the night!
Could we but scan these souls as we look deep
Into the chalice of white hyacinths,
Drawing the perfume from their hidden hearts;
Could we but rend these mystic veils of sense
That hang before the temple's occult shrine
And know the Word made flesh, the shaft of light
That masks grotesquely in this mad world dream,
More foolish than night visions in the day,
Dear God, could we remember how to hate!

The Play.

ADA DWYER COMING OUT.

CREATOR OF "FRISCO KATE" IN ORIGINAL ROLE.

Edward Fielding to Be New Second Man of Burbank Company. Kinemacolor House Leased to "Q" Amusement Company — Sunday Performances of "Mission Play."

BY JULIAN JOHNSON.

Ada Dwyer, the creator of the role of "Frisco Kate" in Paul Armstrong's biff-bang underworld drama, "The Deep Purple," is coming West to play her original role, when Bennett makes his this season's debut in that piece at the Burbank Theater, in about two months.

With Bennett and Dwyer in original parts there is still a crying need for somebody to play that deliciously snivelling role, "Pop" Clark. How about the man who made the part so uproariously real, some weeks ago, at the Hamburger Majestic Theater?

Miss Dwyer will also remain, in all probability, to give the first performance upon any stage of an important part in "The Money Moon," supposedly Bennett's starring vehicle for next season.

Edward Fielding, allegedly an actor of unusual qualifications and repute in the East, has been engaged by David M. Hartford, or rather, upon Mr. Hartford's recommendation, for the Burbank company, and will make his debut with the "Seven Sisters" debut of Laurette Taylor.

The Kinemacolor Theater, which has been devoted to natural-color pictures, has been leased to the "Q" Amusement Company, who have become well known throughout the Southwest by reason of their active interest in matters theatrical.

The Kinemacolor pictures have proved themselves an attraction of such merit that Sullivan and Considine have contracted for them for their houses in Salt Lake, Sacramento, Seattle, Portland and San Francisco, and from all indications it will be but a short time before they will be seen in this locality and on their entire circuit.

The new management will have the same policy as that of their Garrick Theater, presenting first-run licensed pictures with high-class entertainers and vaudeville acts. The theater itself, which is one of the coziest in the city, will be known, as formerly, as Tally's New Broadway Theater.

"The Mission Play," John McGroarty's histrionic document upon the beginnings of civilization and religion in California, is a success in its own new theater at San Gabriel, and will enter its second week next Monday afternoon at a special matinee performance.

By special permission of the diocese of Los Angeles and Monterey, there will be two Sunday performances on the ensuing Sabbath. The Catholic clergy, though unalterably opposed to the ordinary theatrical representation on the Sabbath, feel that this play, being thoroughly imbued with the religious spirit, is a powerful sermon, and consequently favor these two representations, given primarily for the especial benefit of those interested whose occupation makes it practically impossible for them to attend on week days.

Next week's matinee performances are in honor of the thousands of visitors who will be in the city, and are intended to accommodate those who wish to spend pleasant, instructive and highly unusual afternoons away from the glare and roar of paved streets.

Ben Horning as Padre Junipero Serra and Princess Eleanor Lazarovich as Senora Josefa Arguello continue their impressive interpretations, and the entire production is working with smoothness.

Another—a second week—of "Madame X" is a Burbank necessity. Ever since the initial performance last Sunday afternoon the Burbank company's fine rendition of this powerful Alexander Bisson drama has attracted overflowing audiences.

This is the first time "Madame X" has ever been given by a stock company.

The Euterpean Minstrels of the Los Angeles Y.M.C.A. will give their ollo and stunts at the Pier Auditorium, Long Beach, this evening, with a full cast of seventy in chorus and orchestra, assisted by Reaves Eaton as a new end man, and by William H. Wallace in monologue.

To the interesting programme which amused a large audience at Temple Auditorium recently will be added an "Insane Sketch" by Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Scovell.

The Y.M.C.A. orchestra of twenty-five pieces will be conducted by William Garroway.

SPIKE HARD TO SPIKE.

Dachshund With a Beer Appetite Sets Everybody Going When He Mixes Drinks and Sips Much.

Liquor came near proving the undoing, yesterday, of one, Spike, lineal descendant of one of the finest lines of Dachshunds that ever came into America.

Spike had been out with his master, C. J. Stiner, for a promenade of the busy trade boulevards of the city, and with his master on arriving at the Alexandria, where Stiner was registered, casually dropped into the bar.

Friends at one of the tables interested Stiner, Spike followed as a matter of course, or coercion possibly, for he was attached to a long leash. Politics was the absorbing topic at the table. Taft, Roosevelt, Wilson or Clark all sounded alike to Spike. He wasn't interested for a minute.

The aroma of fine German beer and the positive odor of scented German cheese meant more to him. Spike, noticing the heat of argument, quietly slipped away from his master and a moment after appeared behind the bar.

Beer seepage from discarded bottles attracted him. Rush hour prevented any of the bar-keepers giving him special attention with a boot. Spike drank heartily. He mixed drinks and became noisy and obstreperous. Whether they went to his head or settled in his piano legs he refused to reveal in a later interview. His nosing about brought down a bottle of old whisky. The crash drew attention and then the fun started. Bar-keepers went after the long, sausage-shaped animal. Spike was fast on his feet. His strap threw over more bottles. More men joined the chase.

Out into the lobby dashed Spike, a mob after him, one man more agile than the rest grabbed the leash. Spike circled around the legs of a rotund party and there came a fall. More shouts and laughter, and while it rippled and rolled, Spike slipped his collar.

Bell hops, porters and guests joined in the merry catch-as-catch-can for the championship tussle with the yellow weasel-chaser. Finally Ned Williams made a flying tackle and landed Spike. Now he's in "jail"—the hotel basement.

Country Club Functions.

The Annandale Country Club was the scene of a large social affair on Tuesday evening when Mrs. George Sharpe and Mrs. Black, both of Pasadena, entertained more than 200 guests at a luncheon and card party.

The hostesses were assisted by their daughters and a large contingent of friends played deputy hostesses during the afternoon, relieving each other in the arduous duties of presiding over the various refreshment tables, which were provided in addition to the luncheon with which proceedings opened.

Many beautiful gowns were seen, the hostesses looking particularly well in handsome gowns draped richly in lace.

The clubhouse was radiant with rare flowers, great bowls of lillies and roses decking the porches and doorway and immense jardinieres of snowballs surmounting the fireplace and the piano. Mimosa, acacia and yellow daffodils also played a large part in the effect, and the tables were heavy with exquisite silver brought from the homes of the hostesses.

The Hawaiian orchestra provided the music, singing many of their quaint folk songs, and altogether the affair was one of the notable society functions of the week.

Mrs. A. L. Cheney was also the hostess at a large luncheon and card-party yesterday afternoon at the Los Angeles Country Club, for which special preparations were made. The floral display of golden flowers, chiefly poppies, was a radiant sight and most skillfully arranged.

After luncheon the guests repaired to bridge in the club's pretty ladies' quarters, the upholstery of which is carried out in soft shades of tapestry, great bowls of golden poppies again meeting the eye on all sides.

Eastern Trip.

Mrs. George Rice of No. 5268 Pasadena avenue, will leave Saturday for Chicago and will be away four or five months visiting old friends in Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Missouri. Mrs. Rice is a leading member of the Shakespeare Club, the Friday Morning Club and the Highland Park Ebell.

Coming Events.

In addition to the large reception of Mrs. John D. Reavis, and Miss Gilbert's dance on the 23rd and June 1, respectively, the country clubs are booked up for several other dates.

At the Annandale Country Club Mrs. Sidney A. Britt is to give a dinner dance on the 18th, and J. L. Davies contemplates giving a large dance for about 300 guests sometime during the next two weeks, date not yet fixed.

Then on the 16th Mrs. M. P. Snyder is to give a luncheon and card party for about fifty guests at the Los Angeles Country Club.

At San Gabriel, Miss Fanny Shoemaker and Mrs. Gabrielle Elliott are planning a society tennis tournament to take place shortly, when a dance and a club tea party will be included in the arrangements.

The Annandale Country Club is resuming its Saturday afternoon social rendezvous for its members, when tea and sandwiches are served on the terrace or in the lounge-room when the weather is chilly. This Saturday will see special attractions in this respect.

Riverside Social Items.

Miss Jessie B. Wooldredge of Riverside became Mrs. Carl C. Walker on Saturday evening, when a very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wooldredge, the bride's aunt and uncle. Garlands of white flowers in profusion and a great wedding bell of white carnations decked the house everywhere, the bride looking very dainty in a hand-embroidered white silk gown and a sulle veil with orange blossoms. The Rev. R. M. Zuck officiated and Miss Ruth Helms, one of the guests, played the wedding march. Miss Myrtle Wagner and Ruel Hibbard attended the bride and groom. The many guests included Mrs. C. E. Wooldredge, Mrs. R. M. Zuck, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Vaught, Mr. and Mrs. George Turner, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Sharpe, Mr. and Mrs. H. Masters, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wooldredge, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Larne, Mrs. S. E. Dickey and Mrs. Drummond.

Among the many young people present were the Misses Elizabeth Zuck, Ruth Helms, Ethel Helms, Alice Chambers, Myrtle Wagner, Hallis Wadsworth, Erma Wooldredge, Lulu Wooldredge, and John Zuck, Arthur Dickey, R. Baker, J. Deakin, Ross Wagner, Ruel Hibbard, W. Helms, Ward, Roy, and Whitsett Wooldredge.

Victoria Club Luncheon.

A bride and three brides-elect were the guests of honor at a pretty luncheon party given on Saturday afternoon at the Victoria Golf Club by the Sunshine Society. Mrs. Jack Macgregor was the bride and Miss Winifred McDougall, Miss Villa Seaton and Miss Mabel Shields were the brides-to-be.

After the luncheon the guests of honor were each presented with a case of silver spoons and many charming speeches were given for their felicitation. A musical programme was then enjoyed.

Miss Seaton is to live in Australia after her marriage.

And Another.

Still another bride-elect is Miss Fern Sodestrom, for whom a further entertainment was given by her mother, Mrs. Frances T. Sodestrom, last Saturday. On this occasion the guests included the Misses Leila Waite, Mildred Waite, Marjorie Cunningham, Dorothy Cunningham, Norma Dennison, Fern Keane, Frances Seaton, Dorothy Wilbur, Ina Conger, and Eunice Ward; Messrs. La Mont Simms, Robert Sodestrom, Gordon Corwin, John Robertson, Rae Sullivan, Gerald Castleman, Gordon Satider, Silas Masters, Jules Covey and Earl Macdonald.

To Visit in East.

Mrs. Melvina A. Lott, a wealthy philanthropist of large local interests, is to leave tomorrow for an extended visit in the East, accompanied by her niece, Miss Theodora Lott. It is their intention to remain several weeks in New York City and the early summer in New Hampshire. They will return to their residence in the Wilhelm Apartments about the middle of August.

Mrs. Shettler Hostess.

Young society people who took part last evening in the "Girls, Girls Girls," dance in "Jappyland," were entertained Tuesday evening by Mrs. Reuben Shettler, one of their chaperones, who was assisted by Mrs. William M. Holland. The merry evening party was enjoyed by Lewis R. Works, and the Misses Waunita E. Brown, Florence Thresher, Luella Cannan, Geneva Blair, Laura Meade, Helen Thresher, Margaret Parke, Grace Whitley, Ada Addison, Emilina Sherman, Frances Vermilyea and Margaret Colburn.

Smile, and Dig Up.

HA, YOU'RE IT! TAGGED AGAIN.

Ten Thousand Youngsters to Decorate Us Pronto.

Nothing but the Glad Hand Crossed With Silver.

Associated Charities Needs All It Can Get.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY.

"Tag, you're it!"

When you hear that cry tomorrow, just dig down for that 10 cents, because you never can resist the appealing looks of the small boy or girl who makes it for sweet charity's sake.

Tomorrow is Tag Day.

Ten thousand school children will be selling tags and great is the enthusiasm in the high and intermediate schools and at many of the grammar schools especially Amelia-street, Castelar-street and Macy-street, over selling the bits of pasteboard, the returns from which mean so much to organized charity in this city.

Mrs. Mary Poulin, assistant secretary of the Associated Charities, said last night:

"For three months we've been devoting every cent we received to the work. None of us has drawn salary during that time and, while we are glad to do the work, the habit of eating goes right on and we don't want to become objects of charity ourselves.

"We have less than 600 regular subscribers to our organization, and H. W. Frank loaned us, from his own pocket, $1000 last month for our work.

"We estimate having helped 12,000 persons last year. Our situation in this city is peculiar, in that people come here because the place is so widely advertised, often without any money at all. Frequently they come to us right from the depot, baggage in hand."

JUST A LITTLE START.

Mrs. Poulin tells of the cases which come up and the wholesome assistance given people who need only a little help to put them on their feet:

"So many persons," she says, "need only a little temporary help to place them among the self-respecting wage-earners of the community. I have in mind a man who came to us from the East, his wife sick, himself out of employment and with four little children to support. We found a position in the market for him and now he's in partnership with another man down there and doing a thriving business.

"Another, an Englishman, came to me. He was sick—from dissipation, we believed, but heaven knows, we don't inquire, we just help—and we got him work as a dishwasher. He was very grateful. In a few weeks he was raised to the position of waiter and is making a good living now. Do you know, that man came to me with tears, the other day, and said: 'I must confess to you now that I was on the verge of suicide the day I saw you first—an unkind word would have sent me away forever—but you were kind, and I live and am happy.' Truth to tell, my conscience smote me as he spoke, for I remember how hard it was for me, that day, to speak kindly for I was worn out with my work.

"Still another case was that of a conductor who came with fine letters of recommendation. We thought he must be some kind of faker or he would certainly have a position. We asked him if he really wanted to work and he said 'yes,' and we got him employment cutting down trees. He was a little fellow, but he cut those trees down in fine shape and then the man who had hired him took an interest in him and recommended him to Manager Huntington of the Los Angeles Railway Corporation, who put him to work. We saw one of the head men of the company the other day and he said: 'Say, that's one of the best men I ever had. His only fault is that he will give away all his money helping people who are harder up than he is.'

"We have many tubercular cases. Many of them are hopeless, of course. But we have a little camp over on Rose Hill and here we are placing these unfortunates as fast as they come to us. They are doing well, too. But we must have funds to carry on the enterprise. Most of them are willing we should care for them until they are well. But occasionally we have one like the great fine Norwegian lad who is out at Edendale now, dying, because he was so anxious to get employment, so eager to pay us back, that he went to work before he was able and literally killed himself.

"We have many helpless ones—the old blind woman and her two sick daughters, whose husbands have deserted them and their children; the woman with four children, whose husband has left her and who, when they arrived at the charity headquarters, were famishing, not having had anything to eat for a week; the old man in the eighties, who had been one of the leading civil engineers of the West, but who is now blind and helpless, and others.

"But perhaps our most interesting and inspiring work is with the girls we help away from paths of sin. Just the other day we found two girls in a house where some one had placed them when they came to the city, ignorant and almost penniless, and we took them out, found them homes with decent people, and now they are leading happy, wholesome lives.

"And so the tale goes on—sometimes the cases are amusing, as when the old Irish woman came and demanded a ticket to Ireland. 'What's the trouble?' we asked. 'Trouble!' said the old woman. 'Sure, there's no trouble; it's only I've not seen me blessed cousin for going on fourteen year, and I'd like to be clappin' me two eyes on her. So, plaze give me the ticket.' But, of course, we had to refuse, and she bridled and stuck up her nose at us.

"But, sad or gay, worthy or unworthy, they're all common humanity, like the rest of us and must be helped, whether out of sin or out of debt, or off a bed of sickness."

does not claim to be a "cure all."

Remember this it DOES claim to make PURE blood, by regulating the stomach. An unhealthy condition of the liver, kidneys and bowels is brought about by poor digestion, and this condition makes for poor blood, lacking in good red corpuscles.

When your bowels are clogged, it is the same as though a sewer were stopped up, giving off poisonous gases—your intestinal tract is your sewer. This herbal remedy tones up the bowel muscles, and exerts a time effect on them and the stomach and kidneys as well.

Don't be a "doubting Thomas," but investigate for yourself—one trial is absolutely convincing.

CITY EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.

Council to be Asked to Establish Agency to Help Men Secure Work Without Extra Cost.

The project of establishing a municipal labor bureau on a scientific basis that will bring together the many persons seeking and those desiring help, will be presented to the Industrial Problems Committee of the City Council at its session at the City Hall, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Among those who will give arguments favoring the creation of such an institution will be W. D. Spalding, secretary of the Civil Service Commission; Councilman Reed and Reynold E. Blight. They will represent a body of citizens who have been giving this subject much thought and who believe that the city can greatly aid the welfare of the wage-earner and be of much advantage to the employers of labor by adopting such a course.

Secretary Spalding said yesterday that the Civil Service Commission receives approximately 6000 applications a year from unskilled men who want positions and that it can place but 450 men in jobs. He says that the experience of this commission has fully shown the need of a comprehensive plan for the placing of men in the jobs that are wanting men and declares that the employment agencies of the city are not accomplishing the results that could be reached by a municipal bureau.

At the present time there are seventy employment bureaus or agencies operating in Los Angeles, paying license fees that make a tax on the men who secure employment through them amounting to $6860 a year. It is argued that this burden should be taken off the men seeking employment.

DIGNITARY'S FIRST VISIT.

Reception Tomorrow Night for Grand Master of Grand Encampment Knights Templar of America.

The Knights Templar of Southern California will participate in a reception to the Very Eminent William Bromwell Melish, Grand Master of the Grand Encampment Knights Templar of the United States, tomorrow night, at 8 o'clock.

This is the first time Southern California has ever been honored by a visit of the Grand Master, and a reception in full Knight Templar form will be held. Deputy Grand Commander Hammell and Grand Captain Gen. Weidner, together with Gen. Wankonski, A. J. Copp, Eminent Commander No. 9, and A. S. Abbott, Commander No. 43, will be in charge.

All Knights Templar, visiting or otherwise, are cordially invited.

JURY FAILS TO FIND.

The jurors disagreed in the retrial of the $15,000 damage suit of Mrs. F. Hirschberg against the Southern Pacific Company for personal injuries, last night, in Judge Wood's court, and were discharged.

A dispute as to the payment of 25 cents was the basis for the litigation. Mrs. Hirschberg reached the Arcade Station with her son, Jack, July 27, 1910. Three days later they called for her trunks and were informed by the baggage master that there was an excess baggage charge of $13.25. The amount was disputed, Mrs. Hirschberg stating that she had paid the transfer charge.

According to the testimony the baggage master produced the forwarding slip, which he handed to Jack. The latter retained it and when the baggage master endeavored to get it there was an altercation. The company alleged that Mrs. Hirschberg became involved in the row and fell. She testified that the baggage master threw her down, as a result of which she suffered internal injury, losing forty pounds in weight.

The second trial occupied several days, former Judge McKinley appearing for the company, and Attorney Drake for Mrs. Hirschberg.

DRIVERS GROOMED FOR WORLD RECORD RACE.

World Famous Pilots Who Will Drive the Giant Motors

In the free-for-all grand prize race. David Bruce Brown on the Benz won the Savannah Grand Prize last year and established a long-distance world record on the Fiat. Bert Dingley has figured in the Vanderbilt Cup race. Dave Lewis is a local lad who is driving the smallest car in the big race. Barney Oldfield is the greatest track driver on earth, but is meeting the world's best road race drivers for the first time. Brown is picked to win. Oldfield is a favorite with many. Dingley on the Simplex is the dark horse. Fred Wagner is the official starter for the Automobile Association of America.

Speed Thrills.

FAST WORK MAKES BIG RACE-WINNER UNCERTAIN.

Barney Oldfield's Fast Lap in Fiat and Bruce Brown's Work on Benz Puzzle the Fans—Light Cars Are Also Closely Matched and the Medium Buzzers All Have a Chance to Win the Trophies.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

ONE hundred thousand spectators are to witness the Santa Monica road race tomorrow, according to Manager A. M. Young. Crowds thronged the course during the practice yesterday morning. Every arrangement has been made to handle a record-breaking throng.

Final details for the big speed battle were made yesterday and after the two hours of practice this morning nothing will remain to be done until the flag falls for the Buick to shoot away.

Every car is in shape for the race. Every driver is in the pink of condition. The course is faster than ever. With such a combination a world record is almost certain to be smashed.

Keen rivalry in the light-car race makes the first event of the day one of the most interesting ever pulled off. The Flanders cars are working right. Now the crowd is wondering whether Jack Tower and Fighting Bob Evans have been hanging back purposely. The little cars flashed around the course yesterday seconds faster than ever before.

Word was passed around the course soon after the practice started that the Flanders cars were out for fast time. The announcement was not necessary, for when Evans and his Flanders came scooting down the Palisades the fans knew the car was wide open and they also knew that this Flanders is decidedly in the running.

FLANDERS RIGHT.

When asked about the cars Joe Ollier of the Studebaker Bros. company has only smiled. This smile of confidence was also shared by Paul Bruske of the Studebaker factory. These two men have been out each morning and it was rumored that they were worried about the speed of the little cars. This worried look was wafted into the mists of the early morning yesterday and both Ollier and Bruske looked as handsome as ever. The reason? Why, the Flanders cars were making as fast time as any machines in the light-car race.

With the little machines hitting off a clip of eighty miles an hour, it is now impossible to pick the favorite. The Buick, the two Flanders, the Regal (with Roscoe Anthony,) the Maxwell and the Reo are all decidedly

BEST PLACES TO SEE SANTA MONICA RACE.

The best place to witness the Santa Monica Road Race is in the grand stand at the start and finish.

The fastest time will be made along Ocean boulevard, directly in front of the main grand stand, which seats 7000. The big score board erected by the Auto Emergency Service Company will give everybody within its range a chance to find out just where each car is every minute of the race.

Two miles of parking space for motor cars, near the grand stand, along Nevada avenue and on the Palisades and at other vantage points has been set aside and will be free.

The light and medium car races start at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. The free-for-all, the big event, starts at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

San Diego enthusiasts will journey to this city today for the road race in 100 motor cars and with a band. The boosters from the southern city will parade the main streets this afternoon.

Vernon Defeated.

EASY BUNT IN TENTH SPELLS DOOM FOR HAP.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Beavers and the Vernon Tigers were tied in the tenth inning at 1 to 1 today, when, with one out, Koestner jarred Southpaw Hitt for an inoffensive grounder that nestled just in front of the home plate.

Catcher Brown heaved desperately, but longitudinally about one degree too far east. Chadbourne sacrificed Koestner to second on a bunt, and Bancroft immediately punctured Hitt's pneumatic pitching for a scorching double into deep center, scoring Koestner. All of which is equivalent to the assertion that Vernon was walloped 2 to 1.

KOESTNER AT BEST.

Koestner twirled in magnificent form, winning his fourth contest of the year. But for the dropping of a fly ball by Butler in the second inning, he would have chalked a shutout. Some 1500 persons, mostly men, sat through the dismal weather for six innings of a hundrum game of monotonous inaction, featured only by a lone run scored by Vernon. Rain drizzled down a goodly portion of the afternoon.

Just about the time the harassed rooters began to ruminate on the rapidity with which the locals swatsmiths bit the mud there came a transformation.

Rapps, first man up in the "lucky" seventh, singled through shortstop. McDowell ambled carelessly to the plate and hit out one which put a dent in the left field fence. It was what in the box score is termed a two-base bunt. Rodgers went safe on a puny grounder over which Hitt made a fade-away slide, filling the bases and nobody out. Howley grounded to Hitt, who forced Rapps at the plate. Koestner grounded to Patterson, who retired him at first, when there was more than an even chance of an out at the plate, for McDowell scored the tying run. Chadbourne flew out to Purcell.

TIE THE SCORE.

Vernon had the Beavers nonplused in the first section of the tenth when Portsider Hitt slammed a line drive toward the right wall that had motion pictures of a midnight scene in Portland spotlighted all over it. Fortunately for the McCredieites the sphere fell a foot or two short of clearing the fence, and Carlisle and Bayless, the next two up, were easy outs.

Hogan's tally came in the second inning on a comedy of misplays. Stinson, who reached first on a low

CONLEY-WHITE BATTLE DEVELOPS MANY PHASES.

Willie Coe to Box With Frank for Luck Next Week. Ad Wolgast Arrives One Day Early Looking Fit. Charley Dalton Discovers a Large Peeve—May 10 Card Now Complete.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

AS THE TIME for the Conley-White battle draws nearer, the interest is waxing apace. At first it was thought, owing to the fact that both men had been Waterlooed by Joe Rivers, that the affair would be of a second rate nature, but then the public woke up to the fact that Rivers is no longer to be classed with men like Conley and White, and that he is now a dangerous contender for the lightweight title. This lets the two fighters out, as far as dope on the fights with Rivers.

It is a funny thing about these fighters and their managers. Not long ago Harry Gilmore was boosting Conley off the map, now he is telling White that he can beat Frankie in a walk. Tom Jones has been in the other corner on several fights and now is telling Frankie that he can't lose. Conley looks like a bean bag when we consider this end of the game, as he seems to have hard luck in keeping in with his managers. First it is one then another. Gilmore thinks he has the dope to put Conley out and Jones says he wants to be shown, so take a pick and let it go at that.

After his fast workout yesterday afternoon, Jack White looks as though he would be himself when he meets Conley. He seems to have limbered up to a marked degree in regard to his back muscles and starts his punches faster and with more of a snap. In the fight with Rivers it was White's bucket swings that beat him. No man can start a wallop a mile behind his elbow and hope to land it on the shifty Mexican. Well Conley is not as shifty, but he has speed enough to get inside of these long-distance wallops, if White uses them, but under Harry Gilmore and brother, Fred, the Chicago lad is dropping the bucket swing and he will have to before he can climb any higher in the fight game.

The Weight Question.

In speaking of the weight question, Harry Gilmore said that White tipped the beam at 124½, two hours before the fight with Rivers, and it was an easy bet that Joe went well over 130, so White had to buck a six and one-half-pound handicap anyway, which he will not have to face in the fight with Frankie.

Gilmore further stated that White could make 122 at 10 o'clock in the morning, and would be glad to do so for any of the fighters in the country at the present time, but that ringside weight was out of the question, therefore, it is safe to say that Johnny Kilbane and Aba Attell will never cross mitts with Jack in a real championship affair as both will require ringside weight.

Conley's Chances.

Now for a few words on the Conley side of the present controversy. In the first place Frank is listening to every word that comes out of that oracle, Tom Jones, his manager, and for that reason alone, is getting better than ever before, but that is what they all say in the anti-bellum statements. However, Conley seems to use his head more while working out and if he will employ the same stuff when in the actual fight, he is bound to make three times the showing he has made in the past. Before Frank has put his little bullet dome down and dug in all the way and it was easy for the other fellow to stand off and wallop him at will, now Jones is trying to make him stand off and have a look before he starts anything and let's hope that he will follow the advice, for it is good.

Many figure that Conley is doomed

AWFUL BATTLE IN BALL PARK.

Oaks and Angels Knock Ball for Forty-two Hits.

Twenty-seven Runs and Ten Errors Piled Up.

Six Pitchers Used During Long, Tiresome Game.

BY GREY OLIVER.

Oakland, 17; Los Angeles, 10.

They had a grand old cricket game out at the ball grounds yesterday. It might have been fennis, two-old-cat, hockey, cricket, bowling or sewen up. No one knew exactly what it was, but it's a cinch that no one, unless he was a breakfast food fiend, would have called it baseball.

Twenty-seven runs, forty-two hits, ten errors, eight runs in one inning and two hours and forty-five minutes of play. What could you call this mess?

It was one of the worst exhibitions seen here in many months and whoever thinks this stuff is baseball must be crazy. Why each team used three pitchers and when the thing was ended the box score looked like your vegetable garden after the chickens had been in it five minutes.

It was just somethin' turribul. Many fans got up and left after every inning and many were sorry they did not go when the others did. Just guess the Oaks making two runs in the second inning, three in the third and eight in the fourth.

The less said about such a struggle the better, for you make either the fans or the players or the umpires sore and probably all of them at once.

Ump George Wheeler gave the Oaks one run they did not need, but he doubtless thought that as long as the Angels were having their feathers pulled out by the handful, it might be a good scheme to pluck 'em clean. Can't imagine any other reason for that run in the seventh.

Sharpe opened the inning with a fly to left and Mitze singled. Gregory followed with a bounce to Howard, who forced Mitze at second. Berger tried to make a double play at first, but his throw carried the ball by the base and Gregy ran to second. Frick lined the ball to center and Daley shot it back to Slagle, who relayed it to Berger, and Frick was touched out near second. A second later Gregory crossed the plate and while the third out on Mitze was made before Gregory touched the plate, Wheeler allowed the run to score. This made practically no difference in the result and no one cared but Gregory, who was given a run he did not make.

ONE BIG GROWL.

There was some howl over this, but nothing to what occurred in the third inning on Metzger concerning a balk. He was started in the third with a pass and went to second on Lober's sacrifice. When Martinoni was winding up to pitch the ball slipped from his hand and there was a big argument by both teams as to whether or not this was a balk.

It is, according to the rules, but a big bunch of class AA players did not seem to think so and the game was stopped several minutes while the captains and the infielders wrangled with the umps on this point. Few of the fans knew what the trouble was, but after much running back and forth, some loud talking and a conference by the umps, Metzger was sent on to third base.

It was only an incident, but it showed that the high wind and the impending disaster was this early making crabs out of almost everyone.

Toner was the first pitcher tried by the Angels, but he had enough in three innings. In fact, he began to wobble in the second, when the Oaks made two easy runs off a double and three singles. In the third they got three more runs off four singles, a pass and a wild pitch.

Toner didn't look very good to Dillon on account of a sore arm and he laid this bird on the shelf and stuck in Slagle in the fourth. This was an awful trade, for that fourth inning came very near being a record one in the Coast League.

Hoffman was the first up and hit a long fly to right, which Heitmuller muffed after a run, Hoffman going to third on the error. Coy grounded to Dillon, who chased him back to the plate for the out. Then Patterson grounded to Howard who made a low throw to the plate to catch Hoffman.

Roger Bresnahan Offers Half Million for St. Louis Nationals to Mrs. Britton.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, May 2.—Confirmation of rumors that Roger Bresnahan, catcher and manager of the St. Louis Nationals, was trying to become owner, developed unexpectedly this afternoon when Mrs. Helena Hathaway Britton, owner of the club, testified in Judge Grimm's court that Bresnahan had offered her $500,000 for the club and for the park.

Mrs. Britton was on the stand in her suit to prevent E. A. Steininger, president of the club and administrator of the estate of M. Stanley Robinson, from voting the stock of Mrs. Britton and her mother at meetings of the club. Steininger's attorney had asked Mrs. Britton what the baseball team and Robison field were worth.

"I can simply say," Mrs. Britton replied, "that Roger Bresnahan has offered me $500,000 for the team and the park."

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, May 2.—Billy Papke of Kewanee, Ill., former middleweight champion, practically knocked out Billy Leitch, a former New York policeman, in the second round of what was scheduled to be a ten-round bout at the National Sporting Club here tonight. It was Leitch's first fight as a professional. Both men weighed-in at 163 1-4 pounds.

The moment the men squared off, Papke rushed Leitch to his own corner and drove a hard right swing to the head. Leitch fell to one knee. He got up, but Papke was all over him and shortly before the bell again floored the former policeman with a right swing.

Leitch was groggy when the second round started, and after he had been knocked down four times his seconds threw up the sponge.

FAST WORK.

in the running. So are both the Ford cars.

Hal Shain, in the medium-car race, is one of the plucky drivers who is out to win. The Schacht is hitting a pace that puts the car in the running every second, and he has made some of the fastest laps in his class. Even against Ralph de Palma, on the Mercer, Shain has shown his class. It would not surprise me to see this lad romp home at a pace that will shoot him into the money.

SPEEDY WARREN.

"Scoot" Miller, on the Warren-Detroit, is another lad who is slipping around the course without attracting much attention. He must be figured in the fight for the cup and the prize money. The Jacob Jepsen trophy is worth fighting for, and Miller is out to get the cup.

Ralph de Palma, on the Mercer, is the favorite in this race. He has a right to be the favorite. There is no better driver on the course, not excepting one of the men in the free-for-all. De Palma is one of the most experienced drivers now in the game and when the cars are sent away at 10:20 o'clock tomorrow morning the young foreigner will be there with a car that would have a chance in the free-for all.

The two Case cars are turning laps in splendid time. Lewis Disbrow, on the Case "Forty," is one of the world-famous drivers. He, is of a lovable nature, never boasts, but sits at the wheel of his car with a determined grin. He is turning some of the fastest laps on the course and is right in line for first honors.

CASE DRIVERS.

Joe Nikrent is a local driver. He is out on the other Case "40," and has a good chance to win. He drove the Marmon last year into second place in this race, and showed his class every minute. This year he is out with a fight for the prize that looks good, and if Nikrent slips over the tape into first place, I will not be surprised.

Rupert Jeffkins is the other Mercer driver. He has been turning some fast laps. He is not the favorite, but he is not as reckless as he was last year, and is doing consistent work in practice. Jeffkins has a fast car. He has a right to win first place.

BIG FREE-FOR-ALL.

There is not a fan who has the presumption to pick the winner in the free-for-all. Barney Oldfield has upset all the dope. When the former world champion went around the 5.417 miles in 5m. 58s. on Wednesday morning he unsettled everything, and it was impossible to dope out the race.

To those who have followed the drivers and cars every morning, David Bruce Brown has a shade on Barney Oldfield. To my way of thinking, however, Oldfield has an even chance with the famous Benz driver. College Boy Brown is a real world-beater, but Barney Oldfield certainly knows how to drive.

"Bert, if I was like you knew me three years ago, I'd walk away with this race," is the way Barney Oldfield put it yesterday.

Well, Barney is a few years older, but he is still young enough to win, even against such mere boys as David Bruce Brown and Caley Bragg. These drivers may take a greater chance than Barney, but they do not know their cars any better than my old friend Oldfield, whom the May Day babies called Barney O'Field.

BARNEY O'FIELD.

When Barney flagged the cars to protect the kiddies on The Times joy-ride May 1, the little fellows waved to him and yelled, "Hello, Barney O'Field."

"Well they've made me Irish at last," was Barney's comment, and I hope I've got enough grish in me to win."

Bert Dingley is through with his fast work. He will taper off this morning, but he will not show a fast lap until the race. He is entirely satisfied with his car and will rest today in anticipation of the big race tomorrow afternoon.

Caley Bragg is satisfied, but will be out this morning with Attorney E. E. Hewlett, who enters the car. These two have been circling the course at top speed, and the Fiat has shown its class on the Palisades. This car is one of the favorites in the big race, and Bragg is picked to beat Bruce Brown and Oldfield.

BRAGG A WONDER.

Well, it must be admitted that Caley defeated Barney when the world champion was defeating everybody else. Now it remains to see if Bragg is as good as he was two years ago, and if Barney can come back. These two men will fight it out every second of the big race.

This 200-mile speed battle will be started at 1 o'clock. Even if a world's record is broken the race will not be over before 5 o'clock in the afternoon. An average of seventy-six miles an hour is the estimate placed by several for this big race.

Second Chance.

PLUCKY DRIVERS WHO LOSE MAY WIN ON MOTORDROME

"IF I LOSE Saturday in the Santa Monica road race, I will get another crack at the victor Sunday at the Motordrome." is the slogan all the drivers are handing each other and to the man who is being played as a third or fourth choice there is some consolation in this attitude.

Several of the drivers entered in the big road race will be on the board Motordrome speeding for the first time Sunday and they may find it just as hard to bring home a winner on the circular course as over the road.

Pilots like Barney Oldfield, Louis Disbrow, Joe Nikrent, Ralph De Palma and Caleb Bragg will welcome battle on the Playa del Rey track, but with Bruce Brown and several others this will not be the case.

Considerable speculation is going on among the drivers as to the time that will be made in the record trials at the Motordrome. The present mark is held by Barney Oldfield and the conditions under which he established it were much more favorable than at the present time, but still both Louis Disbrow and Caleb Bragg feel confident that if the management does what it says is planned in the way of leveling off the rough places on the track a new figure will be hung up.

Disbrow will drive the big powerful 200-horse-power Jay-Eye-See racer, while Bragg will drive the Fiat cyclone equipped with a, 100-horse-power engine in the record dashes.

What the big Santa Monica Fiats, with Tetzlaff, Oldfield and Bragg at their wheels, will be able to do is a question. None of the machines have been tried out over the board course yet and they will probably be sent off in the free-for-all without any practice.

SOLONS GET CATCHER KREITZ.

SACRAMENTO (Cal.) May 2.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Manager Graham of the Sacramento Coast League baseball team today announced the purchase of Ralph Kreitz, catcher, from the Chicago White Sox. Kreitz was with the Dubuque team last season. He left Chicago for Sacramento last night.

SOME MUST GO.

I've got about twenty-five players on my team now," said Bud Sharpe yesterday, "and I must get rid of five of them before May 15. I do not know which ones to throw out, for I would like to keep all of them."

TWO COAST RECRUITS IN BIG LEAGUE PLAY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two more Coast recruits broke into the line-up in the big leagues today at Boston, where Brooklyn was trimmed. Cutshaw was given a regular berth. He made one hit. With the Philadelphia Americans, Maggert relieved Strunk in center field. He played only two innings and had no chance to show what he could do.

Manager Wolverton shoved himself into the game as a pinch hitter in this game. His single in the fourth inning sent a run across.

Manager Jennings of the Tigers shifted his line-up today. He brought Vitt in from the outfield and sent Delehanty to the outer gardens. Vitt put up a good game in the infield, handling several hard chances without a slip.

In the Chicago-Cleveland game in the American League Weaver played a great game at short. One lightning play by the Coast recruit in the fourth inning saved the game for Chicago. Weaver knocked down grounders far to both sides and threw his man out at first.

Nick de Maggo, the well-known local boy who went to Vancouver in the Northwest League this season, is burning things up in true "Pinz" Bodie style. Last Sunday the fielder connected for four clean ones out of four times up. In addition to his batting average, which is well over .500 for the season, Nick is fielding in tall-timber fashion.

Frank Grimes, the boy who shoots the angles for the division No. 1, 9 in the Los Angeles Railway League, will soon be away from the scenes of ball cord and controller handle if he keeps up his wonderful work in the pitcher's box. The boy is sure good when he can strike out eighty-four men in five games. This feat was accomplished in the amateur ranks, to be sure, but even at that his record is the talk of the joy army.

Mose Wilson, the ball player who broke his knee cap in the Tufts-Lyon game last Sunday, is reported to be on the way to recovery and is expected to be with his team again in a month.

Clyde Miller has stepped from the sand lot class into a berth with the Santa Ana club.

Ed. Durlin, former short stop on the Waco (Tex.) club, is in the city and will go into business here. Durlin will soon get into the active ball field among the semi-pro. outfits; but will not go into the real professional stuff again as business matters have crowded out such ideas.

Fred Butler, who has been playing big league ball among the local near professionals, reported to the Porterville club yesterday, where he will do the police duty around the third depot.

A telegram was received from Babe Reams, while the ex-Angel was in San Francisco on his way to the Far North, where he is to play with the Aberdeen forces. It read, "All O. K., my best to the bunch."

Two baseball bugs were discussing Heitmuller yesterday, and one wise gentleman said, "He is good, but you should see his brother. The real Heitmuller is a bear at football, as well as baseball, and played on the U. C. team, with Overall."

It is true that Heitmuller played on the football team with Overall and was a star on the college nine; and it was the same "Heine" that holds down a man's share of right field for "Pop" Dillon.

After Orvie Overall went to Tacoma, Heitmuller and Bliss were left to look after Berkeley's baseball hopes from the plate and behind, but a game with a commercial team in Oakland put the college battery on the blink, and they were soon in the salary-getting class. Bliss was with the Coast League for a time, but went up to the big stuff. "Heine" went back, but came back, as many do.

"Scotty" Allen, the well-known umpire, who presides over amateur frays hereabouts, will leave for an extended trip through the eastern States tomorrow. The indicator man will be gone at least six weeks, going over the northern route, and returning over the southern, stopping off in Texas, where he has many friends.

VENTURA RACE MEET IS A HUGE SUCCESS.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

VENTURA, May 2.—The first race meet at the new Seaside Park in this city yesterday was the most successful ever held in the county. Fully 2000 persons were present. The grand stand overflowed before the races were started in the afternoon and the track was lined with spectators on both sides for a half mile. At least 200 automobiles were on the grounds. Every section of the county was represented.

The sports began in the forenoon, when a motorcycle race of ten miles was pulled off between Ted Henderson of Santa Paula, and Albert Gilmore of Saticoy. Henderson was the winner in 12:37. After this there was an exhibition of broncho riding by C. Saunders of Fillmore and Owen Crisger, the former being the winner.

There were five races during the afternoon. The first race was a free for all pace. The winner was the Palomares mare Norma which defeated Surprise and Zomar. Time 2:32¾.

The trotting was won by James Leonard's Zombroz over Primrose Zombroz and Boyd Deroy. Time 2:32.

Third race, pacing, was won by Wisman's Eskimo over Richard A. Tittle Taylor and Brownie. Time 2:37¾.

The half-mile dash, was won by Joe Donlon's Yanoo Belle over Walter H. and Black Beauty. Time .55.

The fifth race, quarter-mile dash, was won by Hobson's Prince. Time .25.

The meet was so successful in every particular that already there is talk of another race matinee to be held early next fall.

RED hot bulletins of the Santa Monica Road Race will be shown in front of The Times office, 607-619 South Spring street.

For the past four years the loyal fans of Los Angeles have been going to Washington Park in the hope of seeing a real pennant baseball team wearing the Angel uniforms, each year they have been doomed to the old saying, "Better luck next season."

This season the Seraphs got a real start and with a little luck seemed to be almost the real article, but wait! They come up against Oakland and the scales are pulled from the eyes of the trusting ones and once more the aggregation shows the lack of harmony which has cost dear in the past.

Yesterday the game was awful, in fact, it was so bad that the fighting Oaks themselves were demoralized and began to boot the ball all over the lot, but Manager Shary got the rudder under control before any serious damage was done.

Up to the fourth inning the Los Angeles team had a safe lead, which was good enough to win any ball game in the Coast League, but what did they do with it? Give it away, freely and without any malice. Errors of the sand lot variety were piled up one on the other, till the scorekeeper had to use an extra page in his book, to keep tab of all the miscues. Eight runs in one inning is too much.

Taking the Angel team as a team for man, it is good enough; but there is something lacking in team spirit and the fighting element, which every squad must have in a "AA" league to make a showing and keep up with the rest of the bunch. Harmony seems to be lacking and without it, no baseball team will ever get into the first division.

Manager Curley announces that every reserved seat for the Johnson-Flynn fight has been sold and that it expects to have a $150,000 house, which is rather an optimistic view for any Las Vegas fight. Flynn left yesterday afternoon for his training camp and will be followed today by Johnson, according to the present plans. Every time Johnson gets into a fight with a white man, some of the wise ones begin to have dreams and we suppose that the office will soon be flooded with these offerings of the subconscious ego, but it will take a lot more than mental telepathy to bring home the bacon here.

Joe Rivers will meet Bob Davis of San Francisco tonight in a three-round "thing" before the Hawthorne Club. We say thing because it can't be called a real fight, when they are using the heavy padded mitts. The answer to the whole thing is just this: Crafty Joe Levy is going to let the Frisco fans have a look at his Mexican wonder and then take him away so they will all be talking about the coming fight with Wolgast on July 4. A little advertising now and then goes a long way in this game.

Levy says in a letter, that he is going to take his charge to Denver for a week's engagement at the Empress, and then hop all over the Middle West giving boxing exhibitions here and there, and it is a safe bet that Joe will not forget the fact that his boy is going to meet the champ on the Fourth of July, more of the same stuff mentioned above.

There is one party in this affair who is not pleased with the way things are going, that is if his letters home can be taken as any criterion, in the person of Joe Rivers himself. He wants to be home with the folks

LOS ANGELES HIGH

Wins Banner in the County High School Tennis Tourney on Mt. Washington Hotel Courts.

Yesterday afternoon on the courts of the Mt. Washington Hotel the two remaining events of the county High School tennis championships were played off and the results were exactly as the play of last Saturday had indicated.

Los Angeles High got away with the banner emblematic of the championship chiefly through the work of Miss Corinne Stanton, who won the ladies' singles, with Miss Leonard, the ladies' doubles, and with Barber the mixed doubles.

The defeated parties in the ladies' doubles were the representatives from Pasadena High. In the mixed doubles the L.A.H.S. team defeated McCormick and Miss Browning of Long Beach after a hard fight, the score being 6-4, 2-6, 6-2.

In the finals the wearers of the "Blue and White" defeated Miss Browne and Lyttell of Glendale in another hard match, the score this time being 14-12, 6-4. The strong wind interfered with the playing.

Some of the whispers received over the wire last night might interest a few of the fans along the row to wit:

CINCINNATI (O.) May 1.—Gil Boag, manager of the Madison Athletic Club, New York, wired Jimmy Britt here tonight an offer of $10,000 to fight Knockout Brown of New York, May 17, before the Madison club. Britt at once wired his acceptance. "The pipe must be going fine."

SPRINGFIELD (Mo.) May 2.—Carl Morsis, the Sapulpa (Okla.) heavyweight, arrived here today and spent several hours in a gymnasium completing his training for a ten-round boxing bout with Luke McCarty tomorrow night. Both are in good condition, their managers said.

It is not believed the authorities will interfere with the contest. "Another crab."

BUTTE (Mont.) May 1.—The case against Jerry McCarthy, a boxing promoter, arrested for holding a bout before members of a regularly-organized club, was discharged today, the Police Court holding that the law permits limited bouts with soft gloves before special clubs. This is the first decision on the law. "Vindicated."

NEW YORK, May 1.—To constitute the Ranking Committee for the coming season, the United States National Lawn Tennis Association today announced the appointment of Miles S. Chariock of the West Side Tennis Club, and Crescent Athletic Club, chairman; George T. Adee of the Country Club, Westchester, secretary, and Charles M. Bull, Jr., of the Crescent Athletic Club.

Another appointment of importance announced is of a committee to make complete revision of the constitution and by-laws of the National Association.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The Olympic tryouts for the pentathlon a five-event contest, will be held at Celtic Park, here, on May 3, under the auspices of the American Olympic Committee. The series will consist of a running broad jump, javelin throw, 200-meter run, discus throw and 1500-meter run. Chief among the competitors will be Jim Thorpe, the Carlisle Indian athlete.

SACRAMENTO (Cal.) May 2.—A concerted effort is to be made by the race horse men of California to set aside the Walker law, which makes betting on horse races illegal. The men behind the movement have been working quietly so as not to stir up opposition.

A meeting is to be held in San Francisco in the near future at which there will be representatives from all parts of California, where racing stock is owned. Plans will be discussed looking toward the calling of an election to repeal the Walker law under the recently-adopted initiative amendment to the Constitution. the horsemen desire to inaugurate the Pari-mutuel betting system.

The delegates from Sacramento to the San Francisco meeting are, Frank Ruhstaller, E. J. Carragher, F. E. Wright, Thomas Coulter and Charles Silva.

AROUND THE BASES.

Nagle proved to be one of the features of the game, for he made his first appearance this season as a pitcher in the last inning. He got away with it, too, for only one man got to first base on him and that was Gregory, who made a scratch Texas leaguer to left. Walt was applauded when he went into the box.

Dillon used no less than fourteen men in the game and none of them seemed able to stop the Oaks. Driscoll and Core were substitute batsmen, but neither could get a safe blow.

Lober appeared in left after a long absence and managed to get two singles. He got an error on a throw to the plate in the fourth because the ball hit the runner and did not hit the catcher's hands. It is a bad thing to give a fielder an error on such a throw, but there was nothing else to do.

If these Oaks keep on making an average of twenty hits per game there will be few pitchers in the Los Angeles team after this week. They could not be stopped the last two games. Everyone will be afraid to look at the batting averages at the end of the week.

The treacherous wind made a lot of errors for the players and no one was sure of any fly ball. Heitmuller misjudged one in the gale and Mitze lost several fouls for the same reason.

OWENSMOUTH BABY VS. SELECT KID.

Two big cars in the free-for-all at Santa Monica are to fight a duel tomorrow. The "Owensmouth Baby," the Flat owned and entered by Dr. Edwin Janss and the "Select Kid," the big Flat owned and entered by Eddie Maier. These two cars are to be piloted by famous drivers and the rivalry between Dr. Janss and Eddie Maier is keen.

Barney Oldfield will pilot the "Select Kid," the 120-horse-power monster, which Eddie believes will defeat the "Owensmouth Baby." Teddy Tetzlaff will handle the "Owensmouth Baby" for Dr. Janss. Either of the cars could win the Dick Ferris trophy and either of them could break a world record.

Tetzlaff has shown remarkable speed in practice. His car has turned laps in less than six minutes. This is the biggest car Teddy has ever driven and he is out for the $3000 prize, but more than anything else he is out to win for Dr. Janss. This means that Teddy is thinking first, last, and all the time of beating Barney Oldfield.

Eddie Maier and Barney are close friends. Barney is anxious to win for his chum. With "Bud" Maier in the box watching him Barney will drive as he never drove before. He will start with the "Owensmouth Baby" and will fight it out with the infant to the last lap.

Dillon quit after the fourth on account of his bad hand, which pained him. Rossback, who succeeded him, made two singles.

This kind of a game proves to the fans that the foul strike rule does not seem to hurt the batting averages very much. When the ball was being hit around the lot dozens of spectators were yelling for new pitchers to be put in.

Parkins was the life of the game on Wednesday on the coaching line and the locals got even on him by making several kinds of a monkey out of what he had to offer in the pitching line in the first two innings.

Lober made a star catch when he backed up to the left fence in the third inning to grab Hetling's long fly which was carried backward by the wind.

That was one game where there were very few fancy plays. It seemed that everyone hit the ball hard and when they do that there is nothing stirring in the circus catch line.

Howard had a bad time of it trying to throw the ball and two of his bad pegs were costly, for they figured in runs.

The big grand stand and bleachers proved a fine protection from the wind and the old time clouds of dust that once blew across the field were not there.

WHY DO SOME FELLOWS PLAY BALL?

"There's a fellow named Harvey Brooks on the Oakland team," said one of the Oaks players yesterday, "and I have to laugh every time I think of him playing baseball. He don't have to any more than a rabbit.

"His home is back in the East or South somewhere and about a month ago he sent a letter back to his father asking for some spending money. He probably gets a couple of hundred bucks a month from the Oakland team, but he thought he needed some more coin.

"Well, about a week later he received a letter from his father and in it was a check for $1000. Can you beat that for "spending" money? A lot of the fellows saw that check and wouldn't think of cashing it because they thought it was phony. Can you guess about a ball player having such a piece of paper? Well, he finally got it cashed, but still at that a lot of persons thought there was a josh attached to the check. This only shows that ball players are sometimes not really what they seem."

DE WITT VAN COURT'S COLUMN.

What kind of a stunt is Jack Curley trying to pull off, in matching Jim Flynn with Jack Johnson? Curley has been trying pretty hard to make the public believe that Flynn has a chance to beat Jack.

Recently in Milwaukee, Flynn was doing a vaudeville stunt in one of the theaters. He invited Bob Moha, a middleweight, built greatly like Joe Wolcott, to box three rounds with him. They wore gloves as large as pillows and Moha made Flynn look like a fourth rater in the three short rounds that they boxed. If a middleweight like Moha can hit Flynn as often as this, what will the fans, who will no doubt pay big prices to see Flynn and Johnson go through their stunt in New Mexico, get for their money? If contests of this kind are to be allowed, we may begin to gather flowers for the funeral of the fighting game in America.

English Up In Air.

The English fight fans are still up in the air over the success of the French fighters. They cannot understand why the French fighters are going ahead so fast, especially when England has been the oldest of all countries in the fighting game.

When given a little investigation, it can be easily understood. The Englishmen still count points in boxing alone, never giving credit for good, hard hitting. As long as an English boxer lands a blow with his hand closed he is given credit for a point. This is all right as far as the scientific end of it goes and the result is many clever sparrers in that country. The Frenchmen give credit for a good, hard punch, in fact, a little to the boxer's score who lands the blow. This is the best method of scoring. This style of boxing will develop fighters quicker than any other way. It is an incentive to encourage hard hitters to develop cleverness as well.

The American Style.

About eight out of ten English boxers that go to Paris are defeated. The English also condemn their boxers that adopt the so-called American style. They never believe that there is any good in anything but a straight left-hand punch. Few of these so-called American fighters that go over to England are anything but second and third raters, and our English friends believe that they use the style generally in vogue in this country.

I will admit there are few of the real American school of boxers in the country. It is fast dying out. But what of such men as Packy McFarland, one of the very few of the American school that are left. What he did to England's champion was a shame. Packy is a combination of the English and American schools of boxing and this is the real American system. Such champions as Jack Dempsy, Jack McAuliff, Jim Corbett, Abe Attell and many others are of the old American school of boxing.

No Swinging Blows.

The English style does not permit of any swinging blows, they call it round hitting. But the American school of boxing teaches all sorts of blows in a scientific way. If the English man would adopt the French style of scoring blows they would improve in a short time. Better still, why not the Americans adopt the English system of interpreting the rules and enforce them as they do, and adopt the French style of scoring points. We would then have an ideal set of boxing rules.

The French are quick to see the advantages and disadvantages in any line of sport. When bicycle riding was a craze, those Frenchmen astonished the Americans by the quick manner that they got on to the Yankee tricks.

The Jockeys Laughed.

When the American jockeys went to England to ride, they were laughed at for riding on a horse's neck, but they were soon convinced that they did not have a chance at their old ways of riding and many English jockeys adopted our style and were successful from the start.

But with boxing it is different, they are too prone to stick to the old school. While there are many things that are good in their system, they have made no headway for many years. There are many teachers in London today that teach the same system that was in use fifty years ago, without any improvement or change.

Everybody Splash.

SURF BATHING SEASON BEGINS NEXT SUNDAY.

THE surf bathing season at the near by beaches is to open Sunday and the human fish are expected to be out in force, alternating dips in the tossing billows with lolls on the sands which are productive of the much sought color, sea shore tan.

All forms of swimming are popular in Southern California, but surf bathing leads all others in point of numbers of followers of the sport.

There are many local swimmers who never miss a Sunday at one of the beaches during the whole year and for them, the summer months are only a bit more attractive on account of the greater number of friends on the sands; but there are others who can not stand the cold, and wait for the coming of spring before donning a bathing suit.

The L.A.A.C. will be out in force Sunday, while the boys from the other clubs will not be far behind if the weather does not become suddenly changed.

Many of the L.A.A.C. boys have decided to wear the small emblem this season and the color of the suit is to be solid blue. Strange to say, these club men have set the styles for surf bathers in this section for several years; and this year the decree calls for solid colors, blue or gray preferred.

The suits will not be cut quite as low as formerly, but there will be enough room left under the arms to insure unhampered action and use of the back muscles. A number of the "good" swimmers are to appear in silk suits, but the average paddler will not be expected to flash anything so classy. According to Howard Salisbury, a man is not supposed to wear one of these "Beau Brummel" garments till he has been credited with swimming from Ocean Park to Venice.

The surf-board will be as popular as ever this year and some of the first raters will use the big scoot-board which is larger and can accommodate two persons.

The following are a few of those who will be in the water on opening day.

Ell. Brown, Chas. Bassett, Ed. Keating, Walter Keating, George Watkins, Jack Watlington, Vic. Hostetter, Gordo Whelan, Louis Alauzest, Jerry Brown, Tim Brown, Chester Moore, Cliff Rueman, Geo. SEASON TO OPEN.

Los Angeles Motorboat Fleet to Open Season by a Cruise Next Sunday to Portuguese Bend.

The members of the Los Angeles Motorboat Club will open their season Sunday with a cruise to Portuguese Bend.

The fleet will leave the club's moorings at 9:30 Sunday morning and follow on, till outside the break-water, when the boats will take their own courses. Some members and their friends will spend part of the time fishing, others will cruise around on the outside for a time before reporting at the finish to Commodore De Camp.

It is expected that at least thirty boats will make the trip to the Bend and carry over 100 motorboat enthusiasts.

According to ex-Commodore E. J. Louis, the sport is making rapid strides in Southern California, and will soon be far ahead of its present state. It is a sport within reach of the average business man. A motorboat can be built for from $75 to $3000 and the cost of operating but a mere trifle.

FINEST apartment or hotel sites at the seashore between "Trollers and Sea" are in SEASIDE TERRACE, Santa Monica.

Ruth Chatterton, practically a co-star with Henry Miller, and to be seen with him later this season at the Mason, has just been placed under a five-year contract with Mr. Miller.

The first week of the combined tour of Dustin and William Farnum, playing New England one-nighters, yielded $5667. Their vehicle is "The Littlest Rebel."

Cort is to produce John Philip Sousa's long-prepared opera, "The Glassblowers," this autumn.

Martin Beck is said to have lost a good deal of money on "The Glass House," his first venture into the legitimate, which will probably close, in Chicago, Saturday night.

London has discovered a new Carmen, in the person of Tarquina Largaina. There have been favorable comparisons to Emma Calve in her best days.

William Morris, the American vaudeville manager who has been long upheld by Harry Lauder, seems to have amazed another live one in Annette Kellerman, whom he has taken to London.

An odd play-owning combination is that of Abe Erlanger and Pat Casey, joint owners of "The Spy," English success which is the property of George Alexander.

William Faversham has secured "Panthea," by Monckton & Hoffe, for the United States.

Bernhardt's new play, "Queen Elisabeth," having fizzled out in Paris, that actress will probably put on a revival of Alfred de Musset's "Lorenaccio."

The Orpheum Circuit has bought another sketch by Graham Moffatt, author of "When Bunty Pulls the Strings."

This new piece is called "Jean," and has a cast of three.

Ada Reeve, now returning to England, had a remarkable American record. She was here for several months, but appeared, in all, in but nine towns. She played five weeks of record-breaking business in San Francisco, and in Los Angeles, three.

Andre Messager, co-director of the Grand Opera of Paris, may take that famous organization to Rio de Janeiro this summer. The troupe will include the famous tenor Muratore.

Trust it has better luck than some other French companies we know.

"Gen." Ed. Lavine, on the Orpheum time, is after a European imitator who has booked all the continental halls under the title, "Gen." Bumm.

Mabel Barrison, the brilliant young comedienne of the first "Blue Mouse" production of a season or two ago, is still living, though very weak and ill. Miss Barrison was at death's door from tuberculosis in Texas a year ago, but has been for some time at Saranac Lake, N. Y.

Last week she was removed to the home of her mother, in Toronto.

The London Alhambra has engaged little Maggie Teyte, the young opera star, for a two weeks' vaudeville engagement. She will sing two songs, twice daily, at a weekly salary of $2500.

A recent sensation at the Hammerstein London opera was Gounod's "Romeo and Juliet," with Felice Lynne and Orville Harrold in the title parts.

So much for "The States."

C. M. S. McLellan and Ivan Caryll have again collaborated on a musical comedy. This one is called "Gay Delphine," and will be produced in August simultaneously in America and England—by Klaw & Erlanger and Charles Frohman, Frohman making the British production.

Blossom Seeley is a feature with the new Moulin Rouge show in New York.

James K. Hackett and the night watchman of a hotel in Onondaga, had a regular encounter recently, and, after a number of rounds, the actor is said to have gotten the worst of it.

The Ringling Circus took the road last week, opening its long season under canvas in Danville, Ill.

Franz Lehar is in London, preparing for the first English presentation of "Gypsy Love," which Marguerite Sylva has presented, with indifferent success, in America this year. The London principals include Sari von Petrass of Budapest, the London idol, Gertie Millar, and Lauri De-Frece.

Sewell Collins, is said to have written a very clever new sketch, "Just Like a Woman." It is being played by Margaret Moffatt.

The Weber-Fields "Jubilee" will close in New York, next week.

Paderewski has just concluded a disastrous tour through South Africa.

He says the South Africans do not care for good music.

Cleo de Merode is to be seen at the Grand Opera of Paris in J. Nouges's new work, "Danseuse de Peompeii."

Sir Charles Wyndham, seeking rest from his arduous London theatrical duties, recently went to Egypt. He has just returned in very good health.

Fannie Ward has a $200,000 suit against Marc Klaw for breach of contract. She refuses to compromise.

Eva Tanguay says she has lost diamonds worth $9000.

To make the yarn good she has retained William J. Burns.

To find them?
Of course not—to hunt for them.

"The Pink Lady" seems not to have been very well received in London. No wonder, if the London offering was anything like the Los Angeles presentation.

CONLEY-WHITE BATTLE.

in this fight because any fighter in the world can hit him, and with a man like White, who has a kick in either hand, Conley is running into grave danger all the way.

Well suppose White hits him freely and often. Take the Kline-Conley affair last summer. Here Conley stood up for ten rounds and nearly had his head punched into the press box. After ten rounds he came back and put Kline in dreamland. Now Kline is one of the hardest-hitting boys, for his weight, in the country, and if Conley can make the boat in this case he has every chance to make it with White. Therefore, the whole thing looks as though we are going to have a real fight on May 10.

Willie Coe to Box.

Willie Coe expects to box twice with Frankie Conley next week before his go with Jack White. Here is another of those hunches. Frank says that every time Willie boxes him he always wins and realizing that White is a "bad hombre" he is leaving none of the hunch stones unturned to bring home the "pork and."

Coe is one of the fastest 115 to 120 boys in the States, but has never taken up the professional game because he can make twice the money in business, selling the latest fashions in English suits. For two years Bill was the amateur champion of the Pacific Coast at 115 pounds and had to retire before he gave up the title.

In choosing him for a couple of bouts, Conley has a live one and will get more speed from his workouts with Coe than from any other part of the training campaign. Bill is good.

Kid Dalton's Fears.

According to dope Andrew Carnegie has nothing on one Charles Dalton, knight of the square circle. Charlie says that he has been with us for the past ten years, fighting the good ones and the bad ones, without a single complaint, and has climbed right up with the Pacific Athletic Club, only he has not been getting any higher.

Yesterday the Italian had a real peave on, over the way he was treated in the matter of fights here. What he wants now is to be the official trial horse for the club on a stipulated salary. "When McCarey finds a new one," said Dalton, "let me have a crack at him and if he beats me, you know he goes up, but if he don't, well the old paper-selling thing again. You haven't seen any of them knock me dead, and I'm telling you it takes a man to get me carried out of the ring."

After being wound up, Dalton went on to say that he had fed most of the fighters who are at the top now. Whether or not they had to be fed to keep body and soul together, is a matter open to conjecture, but, there is the statement. What is eating on the vitals of Dalton's mind at the present time, is the fact that he can't get enough money to fight Gage and his feelings are hurt. Getting at the meat of the thing, however, we must admit that Dalton has been one of the war horses for the past nine or ten years and deserves a chance when it comes to trying out the tough ones.

Wolgast Arrives.

Ad Wolgast stole a little march on his friends and arrived in town yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, one day ahead of his schedule. Ad looks the picture of health after his sojourn in the wilds of Wheeler Springs. He has gained five pounds and tips the beam at a little over 135.

Of course, Ad was asked over one thousand times how he felt under the first work and if he was as strong as when at the springs getting ready for the fight with Moran. Ad's eye is bright and he looks like the old-time Wolgast now and we can rest assured that he will be in the limelight.

The auto people want him to enter his Mercer car in the Santa Monica road race Saturday and if the boat can be put in shape between now and the day of the race, Ad will sit in the grandstand and watch his buggy go floating by in the hands of Happy Kirkland.

Wolgast says he will be ready to talk more about his condition after the fight with Willie Ritchie on May 13 at San Francisco. Somebody said that the Packey Wells fight was something of a surprise. "Yes," said Ad, "and I am sore when I think of the easy thing I passed up last year with the Britisher, but Jones said no."

The May Card.

The May 10 card complete is as follows:

Eddie Garey vs. Monte Allen, 122 pounds, six rounds.

Bob Graham vs. Harry Tenbrook, 154 pounds, six rounds.

Jimmy Austin vs. Jack Ward, 105 pounds, six rounds.

Jack White vs. Frankie Conley, 122 pounds, twenty rounds.

The Jimmies.

Jem Percy is out with a challenge to any of the 126-135-pounders hereabouts in the preliminary class. Jimmy Austin will start in to do some real training for his bout with Jack Ward at Jack Doyle's Vernon camp.

CHINESE LOAN FAILS.

Premier in Peking Is Said to Aspire to Be Dictator by Outwitting Yuan Shi Kai.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PEKING, May 3.—Premier Tang Shao Yi and the representatives of the foreign bankers failed to agree today on an arrangement for a loan.

The Premier practically demands unlimited funds with the most nominal supervision. The bankers are opposed to floating Chinese bonds without thorough supervision over expenditures.

The opinion is held that Tang Shao Yi is endeavoring to arrogate himself a practical dictatorship, the President. Yuan Shi Kai, being temporarily placed in the background.

Margaret Anglin,
Distinguished actress soon to be seen at the Majestic in the vehicle which has served her the major part of this season, "Green Stockings."

OXY TIGERS STILL KEEP WINNING STREAK.

Yesterday afternoon the Occidental Tigers took a fall out of the baseball team from the Hollywood High School, trimming them 9 to 1 without any effort during the seven innings of the game.

The Tigers started out with a rush the first inning, getting five runs, three hits and three stolen bases in that frame. They played gilt-edged ball, taking advantage of all their opponents' misplays. Harry Kirkpatrick stole home in this frame, making a daring dash for the plate and getting away with it.

The Tigers got eight hits from Ceultas, while Sid Foster held the foothill lads to three measly bingles, all of the one base variety. The Tigers still have a fighting chance for the local intercollegiate pennant.

DELHI DOING WELL.

Henry Berry received a letter yesterday from President Comisky of the Chicago White Sox team in which it was stated that Delhi was doing very well and would probably stick with the team. The big red heaver did not take very well to the eastern weather, but it is thought that if he has a good chance to show himself, he will become a regular. If Red was here now he could be used to very good advantage, for Berry's heavers are in bad shape.

"FRAT" MEN FALL DOWN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ITHACA (N. Y.) May 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In making public statistics as to scholarship of forty-three fraternities and clubs at Cornell University today, President Schurman declared that the average scholarship standing of fraternities was below that of non-fraternity men, that the marks of all fraternity men were so low that he would not name an "honor roll," that only twenty fraternities or clubs were above the average mark, and that five of the twenty were special or professional fraternities.

The average per hour for 1233 men in these fraternities and societies is 70.03 per cent. He said:

"If we exclude those marked 'special' or professional, we find that the average mark per hour for men in the general fraternities is 69.58 per cent.

"The average mark per hour of 263 men selected absolutely at random from non-fraternity students, computed in the same manner as for the fraternity men, was 73.91 per cent."

ZEYOUMA TO PLAY RUGBY AT SHERMAN.

Philip Zeyouma, the little Indian runner from Sherman Institute, who has created a sensation in the last month, will take up rugby football next fall according to big Joe Shoulder, coach at the Indian school.

The wards of Uncle Sam declared their intention of playing the English game a short time ago and the boys are discussing their prospects of winning at this date.

Zeyouma will go out for a wing position and Shoulder says that he is the real goods. Being able to tackle exceptionally well, practically immune from injury and fast as any to be found, the runner looks good as a rugby candidate.

NO WONDER THEY WIN.

"This fellow Sharpe is a fine man to play under," remarked one of the Oaks yesterday, "and none of us could want any better manager. He understands the game and treats all of the boys like a white man should. No wonder they play their best for him." This is the way they talk about Bud and it is probably one reason why the team wins so many games.

AWFUL BATTLE.

but failed, Patterson going to second. He advanced on Heitling's hit to left and scored when Lober allowed the ball to get away from him.

With two runs in and one out Sharpe bounced the ball to right and Hetling scored. Mitze grounded to Howard who juggled the ball and then Martinoni cracked one to the center fence for a double, scoring Sharpe. Mitze got to third on this and both he and Martinoi scored when Frick singled to right. He ran to second on the throw in and scored when Leard rapped the pill for a single to left. He got to third on Lober's bad throw to the plate and scored after the catch of Hoffman's fly to Daley.

There was a big cheer when Coy finally made a third out at first on a grounder to Howard. Both Hoffman and Coy had been to the place twice in the inning.

A triple and a single made another run in the fifth and two singles, a double and an error got the final two in the eighth.

Parkins heaved the first two innings for the Oaks and was bumped for five runs and five hits and then retired in favor of Martinoni, who also pitched for two innings. Gregory began in the fifth and finished the game.

ANGELS LEAD ONCE.

The Angels started out like real winners for they rapped three runs off Parkins in the first round. Howard's scratch infield hit and steal got him on second and Daley's double scored him. Then Heitmuller hit a home run far over the left fence, sending Daley in ahead of him.

A single, sacrifice, a useless fielder's choice and three passes made two runs in the second and then Parkins quit. These two runs were forced in by bases on balls after the bags were filled.

What's the use of talking about any more runs or anything, in fact. When the Oaks can make twenty-four hits and three errors and the locals eighteen swats and seven errors you can come near guessing that something might happen in the run line.

The only real play of the day came in the fourth when Heitmuller hit a hard grounder to Frick. This bird threw high to first but Sharpe jumped in the air and sticking up his left hand, grabbed the ball, coming down on the bag before the runner got there.

Too bad so many base hits are wasted on an awful struggle like this. And it was a struggle. Look at the error column and guess, but at that the high wind had something to do with the blunders.

FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN AND MEN

BY OLIVE GRAY

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: While personal beauty for themselves, all care. I noticed in one of the best stores it is called a "beard softener" and comes set in a circular shape upon wood or and a long metal handle with which to use after lathering, as "the man" information the beard.

Dear Broadway!

Isn't she beautiful in her galla clothes?

Whenever we have a convention and appear en fete, I find myself wishing that we could have such beauty perpetually. It is so gay with the banners flying, and color, color everywhere; and every one is expectant and excited. "Who is this?" "Who passed just then?" "Is a procession coming?" "It seems as though I heard a band!" You hear such exclamations on all sides, and it is more than delightful to be downtown. And it seems as though no one stayed at home, these days. Why should they, when "downtown" looks so fine, and when in almost any block on Broadway, you are likely to meet almost anyone from anywhere. That is one of the charms of our beloved city—instead of, as the old farmer said—"You can start from there and go anywhere"—I would revise it and say —"Wherever you start from you will bring up in Los Angeles."

Each time we have a great convention or conclave, it seems as though the city had reached the ultimatum of beauty; but when it tries again, again it succeeds in outdoing all previous attempts.

Bargain Checks.

One of the Broadway stores has a collection of inexpensive suiting in the various styles of black and white checks, which are at present so popular, and while the price of the goods is but a few cents per yard, the appearance is that of a fabric several times that cost. For one piece gowns for summer wear, or for separate skirts, to don between whiles, when the full quota of white skirts has been used, or, in fact, for any occasion when a dark skirt is needed, these would be excellent. Any handy girl could make such a skirt herself.

The Big Dragon.

Not the old big dragon, but a spick, span new one; is there to welcome the visitors to one of the great oriental stores. This dragon is too large to be housed in several big windows even if they could be pieced together; and he is more deeply crimson, more benevolently savage, redder of tongue, and more sparkling of scales than any dragon ever before seen on these shores. The trail of the dragon is marked by glorious blazonry of banners, starting from the window-ways and doors of the great fragrant "cavern" where he dwells and extending all the way through to the other exit—(street,) so that hunting the dragon is not at all difficult.

A Book Of It.

A whole book filled with new patterns in Irish crochet, is what I found on the news stands, yesterday. The variety and number of patterns there shown, extending from the most simple edging up to the most elaborate dress or robe, should delight the heart of the woman who is familiar with the "stitchery" hook.

Gloves for Less.

An Invitation and an Admonition.

"Come in without knocking and go out the same way" is a legend posted upon the door of a busy office in one of the Broadway buildings.

How She Won.

A lady who says she always manages in one way or another to get her own way, told me recently how she circumvented her husband and her sons, during an eastern political campaign. She did not have a ballot, but she had an opinion and it was diametrically opposed to the voting opinion of the masculine side of her household. The family was about to move its residence, and this clever woman so arranged that they moved just a few days before election. The voters did not think of their plights until election day, when it dawned upon them that they were as much disfranchised, for that occasion, as was the feminine head of the family.

Shrine Millinery.

One of the windows of a large Broadway house is decorated with millinery in the colors of the Shrine; and really it vies in beauty with the bebannered street itself.

Summer Play.

Now that summer is at hand, interesting outdoor play for children, is a question in every household which has little ones. I knew of two little girls who were entertained all the season by means of a small "river" flowing from a slightly opened hydrant in the back yard. They made farms, along the bank, gardens and parks and even instituted mills and factories. The small animals and cars purchasable at any toy store for a few cents each, helped out the plans materially and they are already beginning to save their pennies for needed "livestock" and farm implements for another season of harmless fun. Such play develops the ingenuity, while it interests and instructs.

A Pretty Package.

Among the many packages of new toilet preparations which are sent to me, one which impressed by its artistic wrapping was put up in a novel way. Instead of sawdust or paper scraps, the packages were kept from touching by means of shredded and curled tissue paper in a charming lavender shade. As the packages themselves were put up in the same color, the effect was most inviting. As to the articles themselves, I may have something to say to you, later after testing them.

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: While, of course, men care little for personal beauty for themselves, all men care for neatness—or should care. I noticed in one of the best stores a little appliance which is novel. It is called a "beard softener" and consists of a series of rubber prongs, set in a circular shape upon wood or metal, similarly to a bath brush, and a long metal handle with which to manipulate the tool. This is to use after lathering, as "the man" informed me, for the purpose of softening the beard.

A Discovery.

I have learned by actual experience," said Elizabeth, "that a good quality of silk hose lasts far longer than do any other kind; so you see it is genuine economy to buy them." Oh, Elizabeth, how many—like you—find themselves willing to submit to economy of that kind! But, then, when you can buy silk hose for little more than cotton—is it an extravagance, after all? If you need figures to prove that it is not—perhaps my friend will furnish them.

Fashion Favors.

Black and white checks of all varieties and for all purposes. Perhaps the most novel of these checks is the diamond-shaped pin check. This is especially popular for motor coats. As a rule, some bright coloring is used at the neck, upon the sleeves and about the belt line.

All of the new skirts are cut wider, and yet many do not measure any more in width than those that have been smart this season. There is a little more fullness around the upper part, and no good skirt draws in around the knees.

Afternoon frocks in shot taffeta silks are arranged in nine cases out of ten with fichu bodices, draped to the figure with early Victorian demureness. They are finished with quaint little ruches and box plaiting of silk, bordered with frayed-out edges.

White, cream and tan ratine will be much used for separate collars and cuffs worn with topcoats.

To wear with an ornate costume, a broad hat bound with black velvet and covered with Irish lace stands in the first rank.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Annual Meeting Parent-Teacher Associations.

The annual meeting of the 121 circles which compose the Los Angeles Parent-Teacher Federation was quite overshadowed by the annual election, which was a hotly contested trial of strength between two factions. After the primary election the "authentic progressive" party put up a ticket in opposition to the regular ticket, headed by Mrs. D. K. Trask. Electioneering was vigorously carried on by both sides and questions of parliamentary usage and election laws were frequently raised.

The annual reports show the organization to be rapidly increasing in size and usefulness. There are now 7225 paid members in the Los Angeles associations. The enterprising community of Graham is the banner association, with a membership of 285; Hoover street comes next with 187 members.

Mrs. C. C. Noble announced the plans for organizing the State in eight districts, with Los Angeles county, where the movement originated as District No. 1. The State convention of the Mother's Congress and Parent-Teacher Associations will occur at Pomona, May 28 and 29, and it is expected that the work of organizing circles and federations will be pushed throughout the State.

Interesting reports were given of the work done by Emergency Committee in supplying aid to school children and families sending children to the schools; of the Hospital Committee, which supports two beds in the Children's Hospital and aids with the work done at the cottages furnished by the federation at the hospital for the treatment of school children; and of the Day Nurseries and other philanthropic efforts of the associations to aid the teachers in their work of making good American citizens out of the little foreigners who are filling the schools in some sections of our city. Mrs. H. C. Waddell, in her report of the work done by the Mutual Benefit Committee, told of the sewing circle recently formed for the girls of the Castelar school. Of twelve girls, five nationalities were represented and only one of the members spoke English. These girls are provided with materials and are taught to make garments for themselves. At Christmas time they were supplied with the cloth and made garments for several orphaned children, presenting them as Christmas gifts. Nine scholarships have this past year been supported through the efforts of this committee.

At the afternoon session, the Vermont school orchestra delighted a large audience with music. Superintendent Francis delivered a stirring talk and Mark Keppel, county superintendent, discussed the free text book law which the State Council of Education is advocating and which will be introduced at the next session of the Legislature.

The "progressive" party in the federation was snowed under nearly 3 to 1 in the elections. Mrs. Harry Huston, heading the regular ticket, won over Mrs. D. K. Trask, who led the "insurgents," by a vote of 207 to 80. The entire regular ticket won in a walk by practically the same figures, as there was but little scratching.

The officers elected are as follows: Mrs. Harry Huston, president; Mrs. S. J. Kerr and Mrs. Charles Adair, vice-presidents; Mrs. E. D. Fay, corresponding secretary; Dr. C. C. Noble, treasurer; Mrs. E. H. Noe, historian.

Books and Conversation.

The Books and Conversation Department of the Ebell held a most interesting session Thursday morning. The topic for discussion was "Racial Amalgamation," the programme being arranged by Mrs. J. B. Millard. Mrs. Sumner P. Hunt reviewed "The Promised Land," the series of articles published in the Atlantic, written by a young Russian Jewess, Mary Antin. This is one of the most remarkable human documents yet produced, giving the life history of a young girl and the development which the "Promised Land" of America has made possible for her. Mrs. Sidney J. Parsons discussed Max Nordau's recent book, "A Question of Honor," also dealing with the Jewish race question. Israel Zangwill's latest book, "Mixed Religion," was presented by Mrs. Millard. Luncheon was served after the morning session, with Mrs. Alfred K. Brauer as hostess.

Tuberculin Ordinance.

Club women are taking an active part in contest over the Tuberculin Test ordinance. They began the agitation for clean milk. It was largely through their efforts that the Health Department took up the question and that the ordinance was passed by the Council. At a largely attended meeting at the Women's Clubhouse Wednesday afternoon a number of addresses were made in favor of the present ordinances. The Friday Morning Club is sending out ballots to its members and other clubs are taking an active part in the campaign being carried on by the Pure Milk Campaign Committee, of which Dr. George L. Cole is chairman, and Mrs. Charles F. Edson, secretary.

KIMMEL UNDER THE KNIFE.

A Bony Wart on the Inside of His Skull Filed Off—May Regain His Memory.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, May 2.—[Exclusive Despatch.] Victory in his fight to prove to the world that he is George A. Kimmel was predicted today by the Niles, Mich., "man of mystery" in the Robert Burns Hospital.

"Kimmel" submitted to a cranial operation yesterday, risking his life in the hope of regaining his memory. A large section of his skull was removed, an inner protuberance which was depressing his brain was filed off, and the bone then replaced.

Dr. Loren J. Wilder, who performed the operation, pronounced it a success.

"Kimmel" himself said he would live to establish his right to the same he claims.

"When the wound is healed I will prove my identity," he said. "My memory will return and I will vindicate myself. My mother and half the world denounce me now as an imposter, but when I am well I will prove their charges are false.

Dr. Wilder would not permit "Kimmel" to talk of his past life.

DEAL COMPLETES BUILDING SITE.

ALL LAND ACQUIRED FOR BIG BUSINESS STRUCTURE.

Parker Block Purchased for Quarter Million by Promoters of Twelve-story Project on Northwest Corner of Fifth and Spring. Structure to Cost Million Dollars.

The formal transfer of the so-called "Parker block," eighty feet north of Fifth street, on the west side of Spring street, to the Commercial Fireproof Building Company, was concluded yesterday at a given consideration of $225,000.

The deal completes the acquisition by the purchasing corporation of the entire northwest corner of Fifth and Spring streets, on which a twelve-story office building is to be erected at the time of the expiration of present leases.

The site to be improved includes also 80x121 feet at the corner, purchased from Mrs. Emma L. Rissman for $600,000, and the site of the old Express building adjoining on the west which was acquired for $175,000 from the Century Building Company. The lot acquired yesterday was purchased from O. H. Churchill, P. D. Rowan, George W. Wilson, Dr. W. Jarvis Barlow and others. The deal in its entirety has been handled by R. A. Rowan & Co., which also completed the arrangements for the building project.

The structure to be erected will be modern and will cost approximately $1,000,000. Plans are being prepared by Parkinson & Bergstrom.

Among incorporators of the building company back of the project are J. P. Sartori, M. S. Hellman, W. D. Longyear, E. P Johnson, Capt. Ben Johnson, O. H. Churchill, E. J. Marshall, J. S. Torrance, R. A. Rowan & Co., James H. Adams & Co., and the W. H. Parry estate.

CONTINUES WILL CONTEST.

Miss Anita Turnbull Determined to Keep up Fight for Part of E. J. Baldwin Estate.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, May 2.—Despite the decision of the California Supreme Court denying her a new trial, Miss Beatrice Anita Turnbull of Brookline will continue her contest for a daughter's share of the estate of the late E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin, who, she claims, was her father. The estate amounted to approximately $20,000,000.

Walter B. Grant of this city, one of Miss Turnbull's attorneys, announced today that the contest would be continued. "I do not know what the California Supreme Court says in its opinion denying the new trial, so I can not say just what our course will be," he said. "The fight may be renewed either in the State courts of California or the Federal Courts there."

Looms Darkly.

WEALTHY MAN ASKS GOVERNOR FOR A PARDON.

Superior Court Judge Decided Defendant's Contention That He Was Railroaded to City Jail Is Without Foundation—Served Three Days Last Year.

Unless a pardon is granted by the Governor, application for which has been made anticipating the action of the court in affirming the judgment of the Police Court, G. C. Fetterman, a millionaire orange grower, will have to serve ten days in jail, because he broke the speed ordinance on North Broadway, December 15, last.

The legal fight to keep Fetterman out of jail has been waged with great energy. He was arrested and appeared with other offenders in Judge Chambers's court. Fines were imposed on those who preceded his case and when his turn came Fetterman waived his rights to a trial and pleaded guilty, expecting to be fined.

To his consternation Judge Chambers imposed a jail sentence of ten days. He was taken below like any other offender and for three days brooded in his cell until his attorney, Earl Rogers, whom he had engaged after conviction, secured his release on a writ of habeas corpus.

Fetterman contracted a heavy cold in jail and was dangerously sick for three weeks following his release. An appeal from Judge Chambers' judgment was taken to the Superior Court. The City Prosecutor argued that Fetterman had no right of appeal in this case and moved to dismiss it.

The matter was submitted, and Judge McCormick handed down his opinion yesterday, in which he held that the lower court was unquestionably authorized to impose the sentence. Whether or not the sentence was too severe, the court held was not reviewable on appeal. It should be addressed to the Governor under power of pardon.

Judge McCormick declared Fetterman's contention that he was railroaded was tantamount to the assertion that a defendant may enter a plea of guilty to a criminal charge and submit himself to judgment under the plea on the theory that he will receive some particular penalty which the court may be justified by law to impose.

If the penalty, however, is not satisfactory or is not the one anticipated or expected, the defendant may then complain of the sentence because the acts proven and the offense proven were of a more serious nature than those charged but which, the court held, were necessarily included in the alleged crime committed.

Fetterman's attorney does not anticipate that Fetterman will be taken to the City Jail at once to begin serving his sentence. Arrangements have been made, if the pardon is granted, to receive telegraphic advice.

TROUBLE OVER POOL GAME.

Players in Altercation Fight and One Stabs the Other—Auto Knocks Man Down.

A wrangle over a game of pool in the Franklin pool hall, No. 430 Central avenue, last evening, resulted in Thomas Grady, No. 760 Ceres avenue, sustaining three stab wounds, inflicted by George Cummings of Hemlock street, who escaped. Two of the cuts were on the back just below the shoulder blade and the other, the more serious of the three, was just over the heart.

Another Receiving Hospital patient was George Henry, 34 years old, No. 1539 McKinley street. At Ninth and Santee streets he was knocked down by an auto driven by George Clarkson of the Hotel Chickasaw, sustaining a broken right knee cap and a number of bruises. The auto ran over Henry's motorcycle, wrecking it. It is said Henry attempted to cut in front of the auto.

His Pride Fell.

[Judge:] There were times when McFee gloried in the fact that he was the father of nine children, even if they were on the lines of the proverbial human stepladder; but on the day when he was taking them out for a walk, he felt chagrined.

He was walking along at a fairly good gait when he was halted by a policeman who asked:

"I say, you, what you been doin'?"

"Nothing," replied McFee. "Why?"

"Well, what's the crowd following you for?"

enzuela and Gumincindo Guitterez, captured at Beaumont some months ago, and now undergoing a sentence inflicted by Judge Wellborn at McNeil's Island. It was shown at that time that Valenzuela was a collector in the pay of the Magon crowd and that he spent much of his time collecting quarters and halves from the poor Mexicans working along the line of the Southern Pacific railroad. Letters connecting Villareal and Valenzuela are in the hands of the United States District Attorney and will be used in the forthcoming trials at Douglas.

HIS PALS WEAKEN.

Since the discovery of the cache of counterfeiting paraphernalia in the vicinity of Douglas witnesses who operated with Villareal have come to the front and promised to make a clean breast of the work of the accused, not only as to his counterfeiting operations, but also that with the assistance of decoys, he managed to unload a lot of his handiwork in the vicinity of the boundary line.

In view of the importance of the capture it is believed that immediate steps will be take to secure the indictment of the noted red as soon as the Senate confirms the appointment of ex-Gov. Sloane as United States District Judge. In the meantime all three of the men are held without bail.

How Sothern Tamed the Gallery.

[St. Louis Republic:] E. H. Sothern tells an amusing story of his father, E. A., otherwise "Dundreary" Sothern. During the summer of 1863, the elder, with John T. Raymond and several other well-known actors, occupied the local theater of a seaside summer resort, to which he and his company drew a large house several nights in the week to hear and see them act—rehearse, really, important plays for their next winter's New York season.

The gallery "gods" became so obstreperous on occasions that it was with great difficulty the play could be proceeded with. The ringleader, a town tough, was known as Bill Hanrahan.

The elder Sothern addressed him in the midst of the most unearthly noises, as follows: "Mr. Hanrahan, will you be good enough to take charge of the gallery and keep order for me? I shall feel very grateful."

The result was magical. Bill cracked the heads of a few of his erstwhile fellow rioters with such good effect that it was only a little time before the best of order prevailed.

Longer Life for the Broom

A little intelligent care will make quite a noticeable difference in the work a broom will do and the length of time it will wear. A broom that is used every day should be washed once a week and this is most easily done by preparing a bucketful of suds made by dissolving a tablespoon of Gold Dust washing powder in hot water; dip the broom up and down in these suds until the straws are cleaned and bright; then rinse and hang up to dry. If a new broom is dipped in hot suds before used, the straws will be toughened and will not break so easily. Always hang the broom up after it is used.

WOMAN VOTERS SUPPORT TAFT.

WILSHIRE CLUB LISTENS TO STIRRING SPEECHES.

Progressives Declared to Be Preaching Populistic and Democratic Doctrines of Bryan and Danger of Third Term to the Republic Is Pointed Out.

That the Wilshire Taft Club shall become a permanent organization was strongly urged by Mrs. Dr. Emma M. Garston at the meeting held at the residence of Mrs. A. A. Martin, No. 247 Normandie avenue, last night, and this will probably be the outcome. As a means of stirring the women voters to a forceful interest in the renomination of President Taft, the presiding officer, Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz, said the club had been of great value.

R. W. Richardson was the principal speaker last night. He said it sounded strange to hear from those who called themselves Republicans the doctrines of Populism and Democracy, but a few nights ago in Blanchard Hall he had listened to Francis Heney delivering a speech in the interest of Roosevelt in which Heney had denounced Alexander Hamilton. The tariff was discussed by Richardson, who showed the importance of remaining in touch with the Republicans who supported Taft, because of the necessity of perpetual protection of the industries of California, thus having a guaranteed market for her products. Referring to the cry of the so-called progressives that the people no longer ruled and that the hand of the rich was against the poor, he called attention to the fact that in 1896 those were the very claims put forward by the Democrats under the lead of Bryan. "And the day after the election we never heard another word," he said, "about them or the crime of 1873."

Mrs. Foltz spoke of the honors paid to Roosevelt during his first term and at the close of his second, she said, he had not been a candidate for a third term, because he knew that he had no right to it. If now the people were to yield to his boundless ambition, said the speaker, she saw before her kings, thrones and all the paraphernalia of royalty instead of the greatest republic that had ever existed. It was the duty of the women voters, she said, to realize their opportunity and save the republic from a threatened danger. "If we do not realize it now," said she, "it will be forever too late."

The club adopted resolutions commending Chairman Stanton and the Campaign Committee for their work for President Taft and promising them active co-operation.

Kansas City Man's Wife Sick.

The Times received an urgent telegraphic request last night from Fred Spriestersbach, No. 613 Bunker avenue, Kansas City, Kan., to find J. P. Spriestersbach and inform him that his wife is very sick and anxious to see him at once. He could not be located last night, inquiry at the hotels developing no information.

JAPPYLAND DELICIOUS.

tered the Auditorium. You were given a hint—delightful in itself—when you reached the foyer and were besieged by a bevy of winsome maids to "buy a programme, please."

It was for you to decide what price you paid. The proceeds went to the McKinley Home. Many a book with the story of the evening brought a dollar. Some sold for more.

The performance brought home to the audience a fact they already knew—that there is an almost unlimited amount of real talent among the society folk of this city. The singing and the dancing was finished, charming.

Another fact, so remarkable that first-night occupants of front-row seats at the musical comedy shows may find it hard to believe—except, of course, such first nighters as were there and saw for themselves—was developed. It is that a chorus need not be composed of girls to be bewitching.

The "La Tosca" chorus in "Jappyland" is composed of stately matrons whose gray wigs and gorgeous costumes are simply entrancing. These ladies proved the happiest hit of the evening, and the greatest. Dignified, graceful, all beautiful women went through their "stunt" with a simple, majestic bearing that won for them unbounded applause.

It was a silent chorus. Arthur Chamblee did the singing. He sang well; but it is no slight to say that he was probably overlooked. He modestly kept to one corner of the stage and allowed the spotlight full play on the wonderful chorus. Gowned in rich colonial robes, these matrons presented an enticing, compelling picture that the onlookers seemed never to tire of. The chorus graciously and gracefully responded to a number of encores. The ladies seemed to feel the joy of the thing, and their sweeping courtesies reminded one of an exquisite painting.

THE RAISON D'ETRE.

Before the performance Edward C. Bellows, an ex-Consul to Japan, made a brief address in which he outlined the aims and work of the McKinley Home, of the labor of love of its founders, its needs and the project which "Jappyland" has been given to Los Angeles to promote. That is the erection of a new cottage, that the home may take in more boys. It is feeling the joy of living and the necessity of expansion, of reaching onward and upward, like everything and everybody in Southern California.

If the house that breathlessly watched and listened last evening can be taken as a criterion, "Jappyland" will play to a capacity audience this evening, and the purpose of the enterprise will be more than realized. Maybe they will be able to build two cottages from the proceeds. Mr. Angeleno is generous in a good cause.

As if "Jappyland" with its love plot and its delightful situations, melodies and fantasies isn't replete in itself, there is a prelude. It is delicious. In it the stage is a fragrant, alluring cherry blossom grove in the beautiful "Island of Dreams." When the curtain rises there is just enough glow to give a suggestion of the slumbering fairies who recline everywhere, thick as poppies and twice as pretty. Miss Frances Lewis, the "Queen of Slumberland," enters and with a tender song awakens the fairies. They yawn, stretch their white arms and arise. Behold, a stage filled with little girls, in Japanese crepe paper dresses, standing in rows and representing roses, violets, golden rods, wood nymphs, fireflies and just plain fairies. They sing, and their childish voices are infinitely sweet. They dance, and their movements are lithe and graceful as sprites'.

To Miss Thelma Gilmore's winning personality is due a great measure of the success of "Jappyland." She is the prima donna, "Sang Foy," an American heiress in Japanese disguise. Her voice is rich, sweet, sympathetic. Her dancing is as excellent as her singing. One of her specialties, the Spanish love fandango in the first act, with a chorus of señoritas, all in rich costumes, provoked such applause that when the act was over and the lights were once more on, the curtain was raised, the lights turned off, the grand finale repeated. That's something that the most accommodating professionals refuse to do. When the curtain's down the act is officially over.

SMOOTH AS A BROOK.

Running smoothly as a brook through three acts, every minute bringing something new and delightful, "Jappyland" held its audience until a late hour. The sweet singing of Mrs. Robert Wankowski, Mrs. M. H. Whittier and other society favorites, the joyous songs and dances of the belles of the city, and the hits of the young society men, were features that will long be talked about wherever and whenever the bon ton congregate.

In a large measure the brilliant success of "Jappyland" is due to the tireless efforts of its composer, Edward H. Coates, under whose direction the extravaganza is given. His genius made a finished production of the talent Los Angeles had to offer—not at all small in itself.

The music is by Kammermeyer's orchestra, and Prof. E. C. Kammermeyer is the leader, while William Campbell is the musical director.

Any attempt to describe the many song hits, dances and scintillating scenes would be hopeless. To be trite, it must be seen to be appreciated.

In a performance as replete with encore-compelling specialties as "Jappyland" is, it is difficult to say just what is the most delightful tidbit of-teachers and to the pupils they instruct."

"Then the teacher who would voluntarily resign tomorrow from the city schools in order to work a year at something else, would not lose his place if he wished to return at the end of the year?" Superintendent Francis was asked.

A NEW IDEA.

"Lose his place?" he returned, with an exclamation point in his voice. "I should say he would not! On the contrary, if I had a man or a woman teacher who could grasp this point with so much conviction that he or she would be willing to make what looks like a sacrifice in order to improve as a teacher, instead of dismissing such a person, he or she would be promoted if it was in my power to bring it about. I only wish some of them felt themselves in a position to profit by such an experience, and I am free to say that the city would gain as much as the teacher. It would take nerve on the part of the teacher, but it would be the finest investment of his life.

"It is amazing to think that some of our school teachers, and perhaps a majority of those who are teaching our children, have never lived in as far as experience with the world is concerned. They leave High School for the Normal, and they leave the Normal for the school room. They are teaching theories which they have never practiced. They instruct in principles which they have never sought to apply. Life is an endless series of conditions which must be met with effectual practice. Every step of the way is something else and until a teacher has been out in the world of competition and action, he cannot possibly know in how far his theories will hold good and wherein they might fail.

"No, I have no intention whatever at the present time, of putting such a proposition up to the Board of Education. Any teacher who wanted to profit by the suggestion would have to do so voluntarily, but the undertaking would never result in a loss of position to any teacher who wanted to try, as long as I am superintendent."

ROYAL HAWAIIANS HERE.

Mr. and Mrs. Beckley, Descendants of the Early Kings, Los Angeles Visitors—She's a Radiant Beauty.

"There goes one of the most beautiful women of Hawaii, and for that matter, of the world," remarked a globe trotter to a group of friends, as he pointed out a passing picture of radiant dark femininity in the lobby of the Alexandria yesterday afternoon. And when the friends saw the smiling beauty of the semi-oriental type, a rare exotic in the flower garden of womanhood, they quickly agreed.

The woman was accompanied by a large, heavily-built young man of apparent Hawaiian blood and inquiry revealed them to be Mr. and Mrs. George C. Beckley. They are of the royal blood of Hawaii, their lineage running way back to the days of the first kings, and their parents belonging to the reigning house until the annexation of the United States.

Mrs. Beckley is the sister of Princess Kawananakoa, and herself was called Umiliakaahumanu, meaning the dove of peace, according to her interpretation. Her husband descended from the famous King, Kana Naka, one of the early rulers of the Island of Hawaii. Together they arrived with the Shriners of Honolulu, a party of six or eight, the vanguard of those to come on Sunday.

The natural bent of the native Hawaiian Princess was mingled with the polish of an American or European education and her features, more sharply chiseled than those of the average Hawaiian gave indication of mixture of race, which is true, for her father was James Campbell, pioneer in the sugar industry of the islands and one of the very wealthy men of his day. He died twelve years ago, leaving three daughters, all educated in the finishing schools of other countries. Mrs. Beckley received her first taste of American education at the Merrill-van-Laer School, one of the most fashionable in New York, and later at Castle-on-Hudson.

Her ideals are all Hawaiian. "What is the use of troubling about suffrage?" she questioned to a leading question. When asked about romantic experiences, strange adventures in her travels about the world she said it was too difficult to think about them. Her attitude was one of languorous ease, of indolent rest.

"There is nothing interesting to say about me," she remarked in a soft, low voice, when asked for an interview. "Fond of riding? No, scarcely." "Sailing? Possibly." Travel she averred is her chief source of pleasure and that is why she is here. Several other very beautiful Hawaiian women will be in the party to arrive in a few days and she suggested waiting until comparisons could be made before adjudging her striking.

VAN FERNANDO TO THE FRONT.

AUTOS TO TYPIFY VALLEY TOWNS' RISE.

Whitsett, of Van Nuys, Offers a Handsome Cup to Winner of the "Owensmouth Baby" and "Select Kid" Contest of Janss Company and Eddie Maier.

Los Angeles isn't going to be the only town on the map during the coming Shrina Imperial Council Meeting this week if the husky and rapid-growing town of Van Nuys has anything to say about it.

So Mr. and Mrs. Shriner, the 14-year old "white city" nestling in the fertile valley of San Fernando will have a snug spot on the big map when it intends to stick.

Therefore, W. P. Whitsett, sales manager for the Van Nuys townsite, announced yesterday afternoon that he will present a valuable silver cup to the winner of the great automobile race between Barney Oldfield, "peerless driver," and Teddy Tetzlaff, the pride of Los Angeles.

Oldfield will drive Eddie Maier's Janss Fiat, "The Select Kid," while Tetzlaff will handle the wheel of Dr. Janss's big Fiat, the "Owensmouth Baby," entered by the Janss Investment Company.

Arrangements are being made to have the noted drivers race their cars from Los Angeles to Owensmouth via Van Nuys. If this is not carried out, Oldfield and Tetzlaff will fight for supremacy on the Santa Monica road course.

The cup to be given the victor by Mr. Whitsett will be known as the "Van Nuys Boy trophy." It represents a sturdy boy holding a milk can and containing the milk of human kindness.

Who Will Win This Prize?

W. P. Whitsett, sales manager for Van Nuys, the hustling San Fernando Valley town, has offered a handsome cup to the winner of an exciting auto race. One entry is the "Owensmouth Baby," of the Janss Investment Company, the other "The Select Kid," entered by Eddie Maier.

How Phony Money Circulates.

[New York Tribune:] "That's no good," said a Broadway car conductor, handing to a passenger on the platform with him a dime. "There are thousands of them afloat," he continued, as he made change for another coin. "I'll keep it as a reminder to look out for that kind," said the man, and put it in his pocket. The incident was not thought of again until the next morning, when the dime victim wanted to show the spurious coin to his wife and found that it was not in his pocket. Then he wrote a friend with whom he had played bridge the night before, and asked: "Did I give you a bad dime last night. If so, keep it for redemption." In answer he received a note saying: "Did you? Well, rather! The elevated man spotted it. I lost my train. I intended to return it, but forgot, and when your note came I looked and found that I also had passed it unwittingly on some one, and that's the way 'phony' money circulates."

Don't Forget.

SUGGESTS DOORS BE LOCKED AND HOUSES LIGHTED.

Detectives Coming from All Large Cities to Watch Suspects—Drastic Steps to Be Taken to Prevent Blocking of Streets by Autos and Buggies During Parade.

Chief Sebastian is making elaborate preparations for the protection of life and property in the city during Shrine week. He asks the co-operation of the citizens in a few matters which will not work a handicap upon them, will work to their own good and save him lots of trouble and worry. Although the city will be filled with astute detectives from all the large cities of the United States, it will be quite impossible, the Chief says, for them to watch every crook who comes to the city or protect all property if the citizens do not co-operate.

Lock all doors and windows before leaving home is the first injunction of the Chief. At night, leave the porch light burning; if possible, have two or three lights burning low in various parts of the house. Lights will help much to keep thieves out of houses.

The Chief announces that half an hour before a parade starts the streets on the line of march will be closed to vehicles of every kind. Wires will be used. When a parade passes out of a block the thoroughfares will be thrown open.

People will not be permitted to block intersecting streets by running autos or driving horses and buggies as close as possible to the line of march and using them for seats. Machines left in intersecting streets will be removed to the nearest garage by the police. All teams found hitched in intersecting streets will be driven to a livery stable where the owner can recover by paying stable rent. No favoritism is to be shown any one in any circumstances.

Beginning Saturday the local detectives will begin picking up all crooks and suspicious characters found in the city. They will be taken to headquarters, charged with vagrancy, and kept in jail until after the Shrine celebration. Assisted by a score or more of well-known visiting detectives, the Chief expects to keep Los Angeles quite free from crooks all next week.

Every special train running into the city from now until the influx of Shriners and visitors has passed will carry one or more detectives.

The following well-known Pinkerton men will be here: Capt. W. F. Forsee, San Francisco; Hugh McCafferty, Chicago; James McFarland, Los Angeles and Chicago; Vincent Shevlin, New York; John W. Rogers, New York; Edward J. Weiss, Chicago.

The Burns agency, which will be working in the interests of the American Bankers' Association, will be represented by the following-named operatives: Charles Smith, Chicago; Malcolm McClaren, city; R. N. Reeves, city; L. B. Cahill, Portland; C. L. Charlesworth, Chicago; J. M. Downing, New York.

The Thiel people, who will be looking after the interests of the American Hotel-keepers' Protective Association, will be represented by John S. Farley, Denver, Pacific Coast manager; Ben McPhail, Chicago; Charles Mitchell, Chicago; Bert Holmes, St. Louis.

Chiefs of police of St. Louis, New Orleans, San Francisco, Portland and Seattle will send one or more men here.

Chief of Detectives Allender of St. Louis and Chief of Police Haskell of St. Joe, who are visiting in the city, will remain over next week.

NEW GRAND ARMY POST.

Admiral Evans to be Remembered by Possibly the Last That Will Ever be Organized.

Possibly the last post of the Grand Army of the Republic to be mustered in the Department of California and Nevada, will be Admiral Robley D. Evans Post, No. 200. The ceremony will take place, by order of the department commander, in Roosevelt Hall, Walker Theater building, tomorrow night! The post will be mustered by M. N. Myrick, commander of Godfrey Post, Pasadena, who has been deputized for the service, accompanied by his staff and a number of ladies from the relief corps of the same post. The members of the Women's Relief Corps and the Sons and Daughters of Veterans have been invited to attend the ceremony and assist in entertaining the visitors.

There is a unique interest in the organization of this post, in as much as it is perhaps the last opportunity to name a post after Admiral Evans. It is a law of the order that a post cannot be named after a living personage, and so few are being named now, as the end of the march of the veterans draws nigh, that many brave men of note will never have the honor of being so remembered.

The naming of the new post is the result of a personal interview and a letter written later by the admiral to Maj. J. Q. A. Walker of this city, who will be one of the charter members. Admiral Evans stated to Maj. Walker that he would feel highly honored by such action, and in order that the name might be to his liking he wrote a letter in which he said that if his name was ever so used it should be in the exact form which has been adopted by the new post. The letter, written shortly before the admiral's death, will be framed and become a part of the decoration of the post room.

Extravagance at Funerals.

[New York Tribune:] In speaking against extravagance in the matter of flowers at funerals a Chicago clergyman recently said that the display which is "intended to be grand is simply vulgar and the expenditure of money sinful." He told his flock of the "bead and tinsel wreaths," which are employed by people in all the walks of life in some parts of Europe, which may be borrowed for the occasion from burial business concerns, like our undertakers. These coffin decorations look queer to Americans, but they serve every purpose. A society of women in Atlanta at a recent meeting discussed the subject and appointed a committee to promote a movement to "provide a living memorial in place of fading flowers as a tribute to the dead."

MARYLAND DROPS ANCHOR IN SANTA MONICA WATERS.

SANTA MONICA, May 2.—The flagship Maryland, Capt. Ellicott, dropped her big hook opposite the Santa Monica municipal pier at 9 o'clock this morning, prepared to remain here during the road race festival and the Shriner convention, unless rush orders should interrupt the programme and hasten her departure.

A committee of city officials and citizens tendered an official welcome to the distinguished visitors and a programmee of entertainment is being arranged to cover the visit of the Maryland. Present calculations are that she will be at anchor here until the 12th, being open to receive visitors each day. She will be illuminated during five evenings of the visit. A naval ball in honor of the officers will be a feature of the entertainment and there will perhaps be a banquet. Six hundred members of the crew will enjoy shore leave while the Maryland is at anchor here and there will be entertainment for them.

LEGAL HOLIDAY.

By proclamation issued today by Mayor Dow, Saturday will be observed as a municipal holiday. The citizens are requested to desist from their labors in celebration of the road races. The holiday is also one of sentimental interest, as it will be 143 years May 4 since the present site of Santa Monica received its name. It was in 1769 that Padre Junipero Serra, passing this way en route to Monterey from Mexico, tarried over night and slept beneath the sycamore tree by the spring.

There was something in the sparkling waters that reminded him of the tears shed by Santa Monica for her son St. Augustine and the decision to name the spot Santa Monica was reached then and there and the name has clung to the spot ever since.

SOLDIERS TO CAMP.

Co. E, of the Seventh Regiment, C. N.G., will go into camp at the Seventh-street Park tomorrow night, in order to be on hand promptly Saturday morning to assist in patrolling the course on the day of the auto races. The officers feel that the camp life and practice is required, especially if the company should be ordered to the Mexican border, as still seems probable. Inducements are being offered to recruit the new organization to full war strength.

COMPETITION MAYBE.

Tomorrow night the Council will convene for the purpose of giving consideration in committee to the application of the Fawkes Aerial Railway Company for a franchise covering Fremont avenue from the beach to the city limits on the east. The formal application has been made and it is expected the franchise will be offered for sale the latter part of the month.

Should it be granted, the company's purpose is to extend the line through Sawtelle and the Wolfskill ranch to Los Angeles at or near the western end of Pico street. The Valentine Monorail Company is also casting a glance seaward, and may be a bidder when the franchise is offered for sale.

That the Legislature, when it enacted the law, and the people when they voted the State highway bonds intended that there should be built a highway along the coast, when they made provision for such a boulevard was the sentiment expressed at a meeting of the Coast Boulevard Association, held here this afternoon.

It was attended by representatives of the commercial organizations of Long Beach, Redondo, Huntington Beach, Sunset Beach, Balboa, Newport, El Segundo, Venice, and Santa Monica, and expressed the sentiments of other seaside communities. It was decided to raise funds for the purpose of preparing maps and data to be submitted to the Highway Commissioners in favor of this route, as originally intended by both the Legislature and the people. The opinion was expressed that the road should be built along the coast, and nowhere else. An appointment for a meeting with the commissioners has been made for May 15, when the matter will be discussed in every detail.

The organization is determined that the intent of the law shall not be frustrated—that if the highway is built it shall be along the coast. All efforts will be made to arouse public sentiment in favor of the coast route for one of the highways, as the law provides for two. The association will not meekly submit to having both highways built inland.

The coast from San Diego to Santa Barbara will be represented before the commission when it meets.

ON THE WATER WAGON.

Owens River water was the question under discussion at a mass meeting of residents of this city, Venice, Sawtelle and Palms, held at the City Hall tonight. Water was the principal topic of discussion, but it could not be handled without reference to the annexation of the seaside and intervening cities to Los Angeles—under the borough system or otherwise. The meeting developed many men of many minds and the only conclusion arrived at was that delegates from each township of the Cahuenga district should be invited to attend a conference to be held in the City Hall here May 15.

Each delegation is expected to come at that time fully prepared to make known the wishes of the community represented by it. This sentiment is to be gained at mass meetings to be held in the several cities and districts—whether they want Owens aqueduct water, and how much, and whether they desire it with or without annexation to Los Angeles, under the borough system, or by what plan.

Representatives of water companies were present and entered actively into the discussion, and the argument was produced that abundant water to supply a population of 160,000 underlies the Santa Monica basin and can be pumped for $30 per inch as against an interest and operation charge of an estimated price of $75 for the aqueduct water. P. J. Dudley, president of the Chamber of Commerce, presided at the meeting.

CLAREMONT.

CLAREMONT, May 2.—The annual May Day festival that was held yesterday afternoon on the alumni field proved to be the most picturesque and successful one in the history of the college. The dancers were under the direction of Miss Laura C. Squire, the women's physical director of the college. Miss Lillian Norman of Santa Ana was the May Queen. She was preceded by four little flower girls, the Misses Barbara Blaisdell, Mary Scharle, Kitty Woodford and Florence Duvall, who were dressed in white and scattered rose petals in her path. The maids of honor were Miss Hulda Scharle of Claremont and Miss Ellen Shrode of Monrovia. They wore Gold of Ophir roses, the Queen's crown and train being masses of the same beautiful flower. The throne was under the shadow of the football goal posts, where so many victories have been won for Pomona. The Queen's throne was beautifully decorated in roses and pepper boughs. The dancers were in costumes and gave the following folk dances: Sailors' hornpipe, Irish jig, Bacca pipes, Rheinlanders' Swedish, Chebolak Hungarian, Chimes of Dunkirk, Scotch, Cardasch, Highland fling, Kamonuskaia and last of all the May pole dance. The Highland fling and Kamonuskaia were encored perhaps the most of any dances, but all were enthusiastically received.

An audience of nearly 1500 from Pomona, Upland and Claremont filled the football bleachers.

Shares and Money.

STOCK MARKET IS DULL AGAIN.

SPECULATIVE INTEREST APPEARS TO BE LIGHT.

An Absence of Public Participation in the Dealings of Wall Street. Steel Recovers from the Chill Produced by Its Unfavorable Report. Again in First Place.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, May 2.—The stock market today was dull and uninteresting. The undertone was firm and in places strong, but speculative interest was light, with an absence of public participation. Active dealings were restricted to speculative favorites. Reading rose to 177¼, with a sympathetic rise in Lehigh Valley. Steel seemed to have recovered from the chill produced by its unfavorable report, and resumed first place in the list. Specialties were conspicuous, some advancing 2, 3 and even 4 points. American Tobacco and some of its former subsidiaries were weak, declining in connection with the report that the House would support the resolution providing for a review of the American Tobacco decision. The metal shares were more steady, their backwardness being attributed to the general theory that the report of the producers for April is to show increased production. Stagnation overtook the list in the early afternoon after another rise in Reading and American can. Greater strength and activity in steel was the feature of the last hour, the movement being coincident with advices from trade centers that another advance in finished products is contemplated. Prices shaded in the final dealings, but the closing was steady. The recent light demand for money continued, although the cash movement to interior points was unabated. Today's outflow included another telegraphic transfer of $500,000 to the Pacific Coast. Bonds manifested a better tone, but price changes were unimportant, aside from the Wabash refunding 4's, which made a material advance. Total sales, par value, $2,421,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call.

New York Curb Stocks.

[Special Service to The Times by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members N. Y. Stock Exchange, 111 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, May 2.—The curb market was quiet today, the only feature of the coppers being a slight rise in Giroux, which sold up to 6¾. The Mascots stocks were slightly active and closed higher.

The demand for copper metal was quiet. Several large sellers including Phelps, Dodge Company and United Selling Company are holding for 16½ cents a pound, but purchases can be made at slightly lower figures. Electrolytic sold today on the 15.90-cent delivered European basis and although as yet there has been no pressure to sell, in view of the flat demand it is difficult to get better than 16 delivery. As a rule the Boston coppers closed on the high of the day on a comparatively small volume of business.

Los Angeles Times

INFORMATION

For Newcomers, Inquirers, Subscribers and Advertisers, Agents and the General Public.

SCOPE AND AIMS:

THE TIMES PUBLISHES REGULARLY more pages of news and other reading matter and a larger volume of advertising than any other paper extant.

DISTINGUISHING FEATURES: Independent, uncompromised, unshackled, unpurchasable, unafraid and unincumbered. THE LOS ANGELES TIMES is devoted to the great principles of Liberty under Law, Equal Rights in all fields of lawful human endeavor, Industrial Freedom, and to the upbuilding of Los Angeles, the State of California and the great Southwest.

AS TO LABOR: The Times is the undeviating friend of all honest toilers—of all unshackled law-abiding workers everywhere; and while never denying the right of workmen to organize lawfully, it is the unyielding foe of lawless, proscriptive, monopolistic and exclusive labor organizations, because they are the selfish enemies of their own class and of the common industrial weal. Our position is unmistakable and will be maintained. The long record of The Times as a just, liberal, reliable paymaster is unassailable. During the period between August 4, 1890, and September 30, 1911, there was paid to our loyal and well-satisfied non-union workmen, in salaries and wages, the telling aggregate cash sum of $4,368,319.17—mainly to skilled labor.

SWORN CIRCULATION: Daily net average—seven days, Sunday included—for 1888, 13,661; for 1897, 19,258; for 1898, 26,124; for 1899, 23,734; for 1900, 26,123; for 1901, 26,449; for 1902, 36,800; for 1903, 36,240; for 1904, 37,702; for 1905, 42,130; for 1906, 60,881 copies; for 1907, 56,311 copies; for 1908, 53,700 copies; for 1909, 54,854 copies. Sunday average for 1910, 85,132 copies. Daily and Sunday average for 1910, 57,359 copies. Average circulation every day for first three months of 1912, 89,183 copies.

AGENTS: Eastern Agents, Williams, Lawrence & Cresmer Co., Brunswick Building, 5th Ave. and 24th St., New York; 224-25 Harris Trust Bldg., 111 West Monroe St., Chicago. Washington Bureau, 44 Post Building (THE TIMES on file.) San Francisco Office, Room 1206 Call Building; R. J. Bidwell, Representative.

THE ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY: Published on Saturdays; 48-pages; distinct and complete in itself; "The Unique Magazine of the Sensuous Southwest." Mailed to subscribers separately from the Daily Times for $2.40 per year, postpaid. Single copies 10 cents, postpaid.

TWO SPECIAL OFFERS: From and after this date, an extra copy of the Los Angeles Times Illustrated Weekly will be MAILED FREE FOR SIX MONTHS upon the order of any person, whether an old subscriber or a new, who contracts to subscribe for the Daily and Sunday Times for one year and pay the price, $6.00, in quarterly installments of $1.25 each, in advance. Or, with a full year's subscription to the Daily and Sunday papers, and $5.00 cash in advance, an extra copy of the Illustrated Weekly will be sent free for 11 months. This is an exceptional opportunity, good for a limited period, to serve a distant friend and at the same time do good missionary work for Los Angeles.

TELEPHONES: Counting-room, Subscription Department, Editorial Rooms, City Editor and Local News Rooms—Sunset, Main 8200; Home 10251.

TERMS: Daily and Sunday, 75 cents a month, or $9.00 a year. Daily without Sunday, $7.50 a year. Sunday alone, $2.50; without the Illustrated Weekly, $2.00. When the Sunday issue is mailed, the Illustrated Weekly is mailed separately, a day in advance.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Two Members Object to Findings of Committee of Whole on Health and Development Department.

At the meeting of the Board of Education held yesterday, Member Scott made a minority report regarding the health and development department of the public schools. His report says he dissents from the report of the committee of the whole because it failed to present any findings of fact, and he recommended that the board express the belief that after a careful investigation no evidence had been heard to show that any physical sex examination of girls had been made in the department, except for the gravest reasons, and then only by women physicians, with the consent of both pupil and parent.

A resolution was also read, which was presented by Frank, who was not present, to the effect that it is the sense of the board that the health and development department is of such great value to the city that it should be completely exonerated from the charges against it.

Blight moved the adoption of the report of the committee of the whole and it was adopted.

An offer of $200 was received for the berry crop on the grounds of the Parental School, but the board appeared to be unaware of the fact that the County Supervisors had surrendered all claim, and did not accept the offer, but handed it over to the superintendent.

Lots were purchased adjoining the Ann-street school and the Hermon school. Plans were accepted for a twelve-room building at Thirty-eighth and Wadsworth streets, and for a sixteen-room building at Forty-ninth street and McKinley avenue, the structures to be fireproof and have roof-garden study rooms.

DIES ON HIS HONEYMOON.

Naval Lieutenant Wedded a Month Ago Succumbs to Fracture of the Skull in New York.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, May 2.—Lieut. Ray Straith McDonald, United States Navy, died in a Brooklyn hospital tonight as the result of a fractured skull sustained in a fall from a trolley car.

Lieut. McDonald, who was stopping with his bride at a Brooklyn hotel attempted to board a car at the Brooklyn end of the bridge when his foot slipped and he was hurled against an elevated railroad pillar.

He was married about a month ago in Washington to Katherin Heilner, daughter of the late Capt. Heilner, United States Navy.

JAPPYLAND DELICIOUS.

fered. But without exaggeration it may be said that not one of the many brilliant scenes was more joyously received than the prelude of the petite misses.

THE PREMIERE DANSEUSE.

Miss Georgia Off heightened the effect of the prelude by a bit of splendid dancing. The manner in which she and the large chorus of children went though some intricate steps bespeaks the remarkable pains exercised in the preparation of the extravaganza.

On the heels of the prelude came "Jappyland." The Emperor is about to commemorate the second anniversary of his ascension to the throne by selecting a wife, and the most beautiful of the maidens of Japan have assembled in the cherry blossom grove. Each is inspired with the hope that she may be chosen future empress of the "Isle of Dreams."

While the maids are preparing themselves for the expected visit of the Emperor, a jolly American yachting party happens to land in the flower-covered harbor. To the amazement and joy of everyone, Carl Neville, in command of the party, discovers his long-lost American sweetheart, "Sang Foy." He woos and wins her back again.

High C.

DAMAGE-SUIT DISCORD IN HARMONY SCHOOL.

"I TEES THE HIGH C that Madame want to try. Now like this: Take the air full into the lungs and then let it go out through the throat, not through the nose."

Mrs. E. M. Smith, pupil of Heinrich von Stein's music college, at No. 958 South Hill street, essayed the high C.

Accounts differ as to whether Mrs. Smith took it with ease and grace. Whether she did, or not, is the point over which lawyers will argue and orate.

According to a suit for damages which was filed in the courts yesterday, Heinrich von Stein, head of the school, has injured one of his teachers to the tune of $3000 by rough and uncouth remarks he is alleged to have made about Edoardo Lebegott, an Italian teacher of music, who had the task of instructing Mrs. Smith how to use her voice to the best advantage.

Several tales are told of what happened after Mrs. Smith essayed the high C note. One of the stories, and it is vouchsafed for by Von Stein, is to the effect that Lebegott, in his excited Italian way, became incensed at the high C that issued from Mrs. Smith's vocal organs.

That is one side of the story. There is another, and that is told by Signor Lebegott. The signor says he has been maligned. In the first place, says Signor Lebegott, he has been hurt in his artistic spirit and reputation by certain things that Von Stein has said about him.

"He has told stories that are dreadful about me," said Lebegott. "I worked night and day for the success of his college and now he says that I choked Mrs. Smith. That is a story that is absurd. It is untrue, false, and has not a grain of evidence to back it up. It is terrible that he should utter the calumnies against me in this way. It is because of this and other things that he has said against me that I am suing him for damages of $3000."

Here are some of the things that the bill sets forth:

That Von Stein, on February 2, called Lebegott a "drunken, dirty scoundrel. Said that he was an impatient teacher, forced the voices of the pupils, and was rough and careless. That on this date he choked one of the pupils until her throat was black and blue."

That on March 2, Von Stein accused him of "frequenting cheap Italian restaurants and getting so drunk that he lay under the table; also drank cheap Italian wines and other hot stuff; neglected his duties and demoralized his classes."

Attorney J. R. Wilder, for Von Stein, said yesterday that Mrs. Smith, whom it is alleged, Lebegott choked, has not been able to take a singing lesson since. Lebegott says he never choked her and denies all the other allegations. Prof. Von Stein, who is an accomplished gentleman, says the damage suit is a joke.

FIRST SHRINE TEMPLE DUE THIS MORNING.

FIFTY members of Alee Temple, A.A.O.N.M.S., headed by Potentate Ernest A. Cutts, are due early this morning from Savannah at the Southern Pacific Station—the vanguard of the hosts of fez wearers who are coming to participate in the Imperial Council meeting and festivities. This will be the first of the seventy special de luxe trains to arrive.

The Georgia visitors will be welcomed at the Arcade by scores of Al Malaikah Shriners, and escorted to their hotel. Potentate Cutts is a candidate for Imperial Outer Guard. He is regarded as a potent factor in the contest for the office, and Alee Shriners are going to whoop it up for their favorite.

Hundreds of tourists and strangers are arriving. The hotels and apartment-houses are filling.

Shriner registration headquarters in the Pacific Electric building will be ready for opening this afternoon. The headquarters will be equipped with every convenience and comfort that the guests may desire, and the work will be systematized so that it can be done expeditiously, and without the necessity of long waits.

Sterling S. Boothe, chairman of the Vaudeville Committee, announces a programme to be given nightly during Shrine week at the Auditorium. Visiting Shriners and their families and friends will be admitted free. Members of Al Malaikah Temple and wives, also the widows of members of Al Malaikah, will go in free.

RUSH FOR SEATS.

The demand for seats in the grand stands on Grand avenue, between Eighth and Eleventh, will be in excess of the supply. Nearly 15,000 tickets have been sold, and there is an ever-increasing line of buyers at the ticket office in the lobby of the Trust and Savings building.

Homer S. Barns, Potentate of Zem Zem Temple of Erie, and J. C. Sturgeon and Willard Howe, members of the same temple, arrived yesterday afternoon and registered at the Alexandria.

Twenty special trains are due tomorrow. Forty specials are scheduled to pull in Sunday, and ten more on Monday. Nearly a score of private cars bearing Shriners are speeding this way.

More than fifty Arab patrols will be in the line of march, each led by its band. These alone will stretch more than two miles.

More than a million yards of pennants, bunting and flags already decorate the street. Five thousand palm branches wave on lamp posts, and 20,000 Japanese lanterns are swaying above downtown streets. A million-candle-power has been added to the electric lighting system along the line of march. The business part of the city never loomed more beautiful, and when the myriad of electric lights glitter the principal thoroughfares will present a brilliant spectacle.

COMING FROM THE NORTH.

The San Francisco Shriners, 600 strong, will start tomorrow evening for this city on the steamship Harvard.

Islam Patrol will accompany the delegation. Over fifty members are expected to make the trip. Among them will be Dr. T. B. W. Leland, the San Francisco coroner; J. A. Sorensen, C. H. Van Order, and others. Islam band of twenty-eight pieces will furnish music and will take part in the parades. The directors of the "pilgrimage" are Illustrious Potentate Harry Maundrell, chairman; William H. Hendricks and John A. Ulrich.

Portland, Or., was a temporary oasis yesterday for several hundred Nobles who lingered there for a few hours on their pilgrimage to this city. The vanguard from the North rolled into Portland on a special train in the morning from Calgary and Spokane, there being more than 200 members of the temples of Al Azhar and El Katif, including the women and children with the delegation. Last night they were followed into Portland by another special bearing the Shriners of Seattle, Victoria and Tacoma temples, who are now Los Angeles-bound. Al Kader Temple of Portland left at 11:45 o'clock last night on its own special train. The Portland party includes fully 150 members of the temple, their wives and children, with a few bachelors mixed for spice and mischief. The other two specials started southward about the same time.

TWICE RECALLED.

Wouldn't it peeve you if you twice planed to enjoy a Shrine convention and business took you away?

Wouldn't you be provoked if a message called you from the same city on an identical occasion with an interim of five years between? That is what happened to G. A. Kaseman, one of the leading Shriners of New Mexico, who, after two days' sojourn at the Angelus, was summoned to Chicago yesterday.

Kaseman is treasurer and principal owner of the Albuquerque and Carrillos Coal Company of Albuquerque, operating the largest anthracite deposits outside of Pennsylvania, in this country.

Five years ago he traveled here in anticipation of having a splendid time during the Shriners' gatherings. On the opening day came a telegram from Chicago which made essential his immediate presence in that city.

Queer Sign Posts in Silesia.

[Wide World Magazine:] In the neighborhood of Warmbrunin, in the Silesian Mountains, there are to be found some very curious sign posts. One writer represents a farm laborer sharpening his scythe, on which is inscribed, in the old Silesian dialect, "To Giers village, one hour." The sign post is well carved and painted in natural colors, so that it appears very lifelike. Another sign post in the same district represents a schoolboy carrying a slate bearing the name of the nearest village, toward which the boy is pointing.

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) May 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Emilio Vasques Gomes, Ambassador to the United States under the Diaz government and now the recognized candidate of the Orosco-Zapata rebels for the Presidency, vanished from San Antonio last night. His family endeavored to shield his going by announcing that Vasques was ill in bed.

Gomes slipped quietly from his residence, No. 501 South Presa street, about midnight, and sped away in an automobile with two other Mexicans and an American chauffeur. He had not been gone an hour before operatives from the Bureau of Investigation of the United States Department of Justice were on his trail and they learned that Gomez had boarded the west bound train at Sabinal, seven miles west of San Antonio. In an attempt to prove Gomez was still in his residence here, his daughter, this morning, brought from the house a piece of note paper on which was written the signature of Emilio Vasquez Gomez. The signature was undoubtedly genuine, but secret service men declare it was written for the purpose by Gomez when he determined to leave the city.

Later his wife and daughter announced that Gomez had received news of his sister's death in Mexico and this had aggravated his illness, which they described as stomach trouble.

It is known that two commissioners reached this city last night from Gen. Orozco and were at the Gomez home until a late hour. Francisco Gusman, personal secretary of Gomez, ad-...
